Tomlinson-Clarke, Darren L. Clarke, 2016-03-10 The similarities between the United States and South Africa with respect to race power oppression and economic inequities are striking and a better understanding of these parallels can provide educational gains for students and educators in both countries Through shared experiences and perspectives this volume presents scholarly work from U S and South African scholars that advance educational practice in support of social justice and transformative learning It provides a comprehensive framework for developing transformational learning experiences that facilitates leadership for social justice and a deeper understanding of the factors influencing personal national and global identity Education Feminism Barbara J. Thayer-Bacon, Lynda Stone, Katharine M. Sprecher, 2013-12-15 Collection of important essays by feminist scholars from cultural studies philosophy of education curriculum theory and women s studies Education Feminism is a revised and updated version of Lynda Stone s out of print anthology The Education Feminism Reader The text is intended as a course text and provides students a foundational base in feminist theories in education The classics section is comprised of the readings that students have most responded to in classes The contemporary readings section demonstrates how the third wave feminist criticism of the 1990s has an impact on today s feminist work Both of these sections address critical multicultural educational issues and have an inclusive diverse selection of feminist scholars who bring race class sexual orientation religious practices and colonial postcolonial perspectives to bear on their work The individual essays are concise and well written and arranged in such a way that it is easy for instructors to assign them around themes of their own choosing The incredible value of this fine collection is that it demonstrates what it means to critically consider interrogate and challenge historic and contemporary ideas regarding educational equity while using these very ideas to imagine new possibilities It will serve as an indispensable resource in graduate classrooms where students can use the text to ground and forward explorations of the necessarily complex considerations of equity in education today Adela C Licona coeditor of Feminist Pedagogy Looking Back to Move Forward We Can't Teach what We Don't Know Gary R. Howard, 2006-01-01 Once again in this expanded Second Edition Gary Howard outlines what good teachers know what they do and how they embrace culturally responsive teaching Howard brings his bestselling book completely up to date with today's school reform efforts and includes a new introduction and a new chapter that speak directly to current issues such as closing the achievement gap and to recent legislation such as No Child Left Behind With our nation's student population becoming ever more diverse and teachers remaining largely White this book is now more important than ever A must read in universities and school systems throughout the country We Can't Teach What We Don't Know continues to facilitate and deepen the discussion of race and social justice in education

Social Policy for Effective Practice Rosemary Chapin, 2011-07-21 First Published in 2011 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Memory and Pedagogy Claudia Mitchell, Teresa Strong-Wilson, Kathleen Pithouse, Susann Allnutt, 2010-12-14 Memory work the conscious remembering and study of individual and shared memories is increasingly being acknowledged as a key pedagogical tool in working with children Giving students opportunities and support to remember and study their selves as individuals and as communities allows them to see their future as something that belongs to them and that they can influence in some way for the better This edited volume brings together essays from scholars who are studying the interconnections between pedagogy and memory in the context of social themes and social inquiry within educational research The book provides a range of perspectives on the social and pedagogical relevance of memory studies to the educational arena in relation to the themes of memory and method revisiting childhood memory and place addressing political conflict sexuality and embodiment and inter generational studies Language, Culture, and Community in Teacher Education Maria Estela Brisk, 2013-09-13 Published by Routledge for the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education This volume addresses the pressing reality in teacher education that all teachers need to be prepared to work effectively with linguistically and culturally diverse student populations Every classroom in the country is already or will soon be deeply affected by the changing demographics of America's students Marilyn Cochran Smith's Foreword and Donaldo Macedo's Introductory Essay set the context with respect to teacher education and student demographics followed by a series of chapters presented in three sections knowledge practice and policy The literature on language education has typically been discussed in relation to preparing ESL or bilingual teachers Typically needs of culturally and linguistically diverse students including immigrants refugees language minority populations African Americans and deaf students have been addressed separately This volume emphasizes that these children have both common educational needs and needs that are culturally and linguistically specific It is directed to the preparation of ALL teachers who work with culturally and linguistically diverse students It not only focuses on how teachers need to change but how faculty and curriculum need to be transformed and how to better train teacher education candidates to understand and work

efficaciously with the communities in which culturally and linguistically diverse students tend to be predominant The American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education AACTE is a national voluntary association of higher education institutions and related organizations Our mission is to promote the learning of all PK 12 students through high quality evidence based preparation and continuing education for all school personnel For more information on our publications visit our website at www.aacte.org

Hearts and Minds Without Fear Barbara A. Clark, James Joss French, 2014-06-01 Hearts and Minds Without Fear Unmasking the Sacred in Teacher Preparation is the first book of its kind that focuses on the critical urgency of integrating creativity mindfulness and compassion in which social and ecological justice are forefronted in teacher preparation This is especially significant at a time of cultural turmoil educational reform and inequities in public education The book serves as a vehicle to unmask fear within current educational ethical deficiencies and revitalize hope for community members teacher educators pre service in service teachers and families in school communities The recipients of these strategies are explicitly presented in order to build understanding of a compassionate paradigm shift in schools that envisions possibility and social imagination on behalf of our children in schools and our communities The authors unabashedly place the arts and aesthetics at the core of the educational paradigm solution The book lives its own message Within each seed chapter the authors practice authentically what they preach offering a refreshing perspective to bring our schools back to life and instill hope in children s and educators hearts and minds

White Educators Negotiating Complicity Barbara Applebaum, 2021-11-17 While there is a proliferation of research on white educators who teach courses around anti racism White Educators Negotiating Complicity Roadblocks Paved with Good Intentions focuses on white educators who teach about whiteness to racially diverse groups of students and who acknowledge and attempt to negotiate their complicity in systemic injustice Scholars continue to remind white people of the paradox through which their endeavors to disrupt systemic white supremacy often reproduce it In this book Barbara Applebaum explores what it means to teach against whiteness while living that paradox Rather than an empirical study this book offers insights from recent scholarship surrounding critical whiteness and epistemic injustice and applies them to some of the most trenchant challenges that white educators face while trying to teach about whiteness to racially diverse groups of students Introducing the concept of a vigilantly vulnerable and informed humility Applebaum both illuminates what theory can tell us about praxis and offers guidance for white educators in their attempts to negotiate the effects of white complicity on their pedagogy

Social Justice in These Times James O'Donnell, Marc Pruyn, Rudolfo Chávez Chávez, 2006-11-01 This text covers the philosophy theory and praxis of social justice engaging within cultural pedagogical and political contexts and neo liberalism George W Bush and the No Child Left Behind Act

Chicana/Latina Education in Everyday Life Dolores Delgado Bernal, C. Alejandra Elenes, Francisca E. Godinez, Sofia Villenas, 2006-08-17 Winner of the 2006 Critics Choice Awards presented by the American Educational Studies Association This groundbreaking volume explores both Chicana Latina feminist definitions of teaching and learning and ways of knowing in education The book's contributors Chicana Latina feminist scholars reinterpret the field of education as inter and transdisciplinary and connected to ethnic racial and womanist scholarship They examine mujer women centered definitions of pedagogy and epistemology rooted in Chicana Latina theories and visions of life family community and world Armed with the tools of Chicana Latina feminist thought the contributors link cultural studies theories to critical feminist pedagogies by re envisioning the sites of pedagogy to include women's brown bodies and their agency

We Can't Teach What We Don't Know, Third Edition Gary R. Howard, 2016-06-17 Making a case for the fierce urgency of now this new edition deepens the discussion of race and social justice in education with new and updated material Aligned with our nation's ever more diverse student population it speaks to what good teachers know what they do and how they embrace culturally responsive teaching

Taboo, 2003 The Discourse of Special Populations Ahmet Atay, Diana Trebing, 2017-09-22 The term special population occupies a particular purpose and has a particular role in the discourse of higher education This book uses the term as an umbrella term for any student who tends to be underrepresented on college campuses and has a very specific set of unique needs among others individuals with physical and learning disabilities international students ethnic minorities LGBTQ students single parents and first generation and other non traditional student groups Sometimes these special student groups are visible to educators however quite often they are hidden in plain sight which makes it difficult for educators to work effectively and meaningfully with these student groups This book uses the framework of critical intercultural communication pedagogy to generate a discussion about pedagogical issues surrounding students who are categorized as special populations focusing on culturally sensitive pedagogical methods to educate all students

Teacher Education and the Cultural Imagination Susan Florio-Ruane, Julie deTar, 2001-04-01 Making culture a more central concept in the texts and contexts of teacher education is the focus of this book It is a rich account of the author's investigation of teacher book club discussions of ethnic literature specifically ethnic autobiography as a genre from which teachers might learn about culture literacy and education in their own and others lives and as a form of conversation and literature based work that might be sustainable and foster teachers comprehension and critical thinking Dr Florio Ruane's role in the book clubs merged participation and inquiry For this reason she blends personal narrative with analysis and description of ways she and the book club participants explored culture in the stories they told one another and in their responses to published autobiographies She posits that autobiography and conversation may be useful for teachers not only in constructing their own learning about culture but also by doing so in participating in the transformation of learning within the teaching profession

The Academic Gateway Timothy Sibbald, Victoria Handford, 2017-04-18 The Academic Gateway Understanding the Journey to Tenure investigates the experiences of professors employed in tenure track positions who are starting their career within a university environment but have not yet attained the affirmation and permanence that tenure offers The role that they have taken on entails the preparation of students within a professional school Some of them have very limited professional experience while others bring multiple years of experience with them in their transition to a faculty of education The contributors speak to the three key components of their faculty role teaching service and research Addressing organizational structures and differences relative to prior roles they examine how these changes have assisted confused or altered the way they conduct their day to day work They speak about relevant prior experiences the preparation they received through graduate school and the details of the learning curve as they entered into their tenure track role Have they been successful The reader will experience the same uncertainty and anticipation every professor goes through during their journey to tenure This approach amplifies the realism of not knowing whether issues that are spoken about will ultimately be overcome and enhances the validity of their experiences by not biasing the contributions towards those who expect success

Unhooking from Whiteness Nicholas D. Hartlep, Cleveland Hayes, 2016-07-06 What happens to people when they choose to unhook from the rules and modes of thought whiteness requires and expects of them Whiteness promotes a form of hegemonic thinking which influences not only thought processes but also behavior within the academy Working to dismantle the racism and whiteness that continue to keep oppressed people powerless and immobilized in academe requires sharing power opportunity and access Removing barriers to the knowledge created in higher education is an essential part of this process The process of unhooking oneself from institutionalized whiteness certainly requires fighting hegemonic modes of thought and patriarchal views that persistently keep marginalized groups of academics in their station or at their institution In the explosive Unhooking from Whiteness Resisting the Esprit de Corps editors Hartlep and Hayes continue the conversation they began in 2013 they and the chapter contributors are brave enough to tell a contemporary reality few are brave enough to discuss In this groundbreaking and revolutionary sequel volume to Unhooking from Whiteness The Key to Dismantling Racism in the United States Nicholas Hartlep and Cleveland Hayes and a group of fearless scholars activists continue to manifest liberative counternarratives counteraccounts personal memoirs poetry and testimonios of humanity destroying crimes of racism white supremacy and academic lynching that pervade the academic psyche through epistemology ontology and axiology in the United States This radical work poses a troubling challenge to humanity not only to unhook from but also to contest transgress and liberate from white supremacy to cultivate extraordinary human potential in a trembling and unjust world Ming Fang He Georgia Southern University Nicholas D Hartlep is an award winning Assistant Professor of Educational Foundations at Illinois State University and co editor of Unhooking from Whiteness The Key to Dismantling Racism in the United States and Critical Storytelling in Uncritical Times Stories Disclosed in a Cultural Foundations of Education Course He lives and writes in Normal Illinois www.nicholashartlep.com Cleveland Hayes is an Associate Professor in the College of Education and Organizational Leadership at the University of La Verne Dr Hayes teaches Secondary and Elementary Science Methods in the Teacher Education program and Research Methods in the Education Management and Leadership Program He lives and writes in Upland California White Self-Criticality beyond

Anti-racism George Yancy, 2014-10-21 White Self Criticality beyond Anti racism powerfully emphasizes the significance of humility vulnerability anxiety questions of complicity and how being a good white is implicated in racial injustice This collection sets a new precedent for critical race scholarship and critical whiteness studies to take into consideration what it means specifically to be a white problem rather than simply restrict scholarship to the problem of white privilege and white normative invisibility Ultimately the text challenges the contemporary rhetoric of a color blind or color evasive world in a discourse that is critically engaging and sophisticated accessible and persuasive
