The Far Side of Revenge Deaglán De Bréadún, 2001 Getting to Good Friday Marilyn Richter, 2023-01-03

Getting to Good Friday intertwines literary analysis and narrative history in an accessible account of the shifts in thinking and talking about Northern Ireland's divided society that brought thirty years of political violence to a close with the 1998 Belfast Good Friday Agreement. Drawing on decades of reading, researching and teaching Northern Irish literature and talking and corresponding with Northern Irish writers, Marilyn Richter describes literary reactions and contributions to the peace process during the fifteen years preceding the Agreement and in the immediate post-conflict era. Progress in this period hinged on negotiators' ability to revise the terms used to discuss the conflict. As poet Michael Longley commented in 1998, 'In its language the Good Friday Agreement depended on an almost poetic precision and suggestiveness to get its complicated message across.' Interpreting selected literary works by Brian Friel, Seamus Heaney, Michael Longley, Deirdre Madden, Seamus Deane, Bernard MacLaverty, Colum McCann and David Park within a detailed historical frame, Richter demonstrates the extent to which authors were motivated by a desire both to comment on and to intervene in unfolding political situations. Getting to Good Friday suggests that literature, as literature that is in its formal properties in addition to anything it might have to say about a given subject, can enrich readers' historical understanding. Through Richter's engaging narrative, creative writing emerges as both the medium of and a metaphor for the peace process itself.

Irish Freedom Richard English, 2008-09-04

Richard English's brilliant new book, now available in paperback, is a compelling narrative history of Irish nationalism in which events are not merely recounted but analysed. Full of rich detail drawn from years of original research and also from the extensive specialist literature on the subject, it offers explanations of why Irish nationalists have believed and acted as they have, why their ideas and strategies have changed over time, and what effect Irish nationalism has had in shaping modern Ireland. It takes us from the Ulster Plantation to Home Rule, from the Famine of 1847 to the Hunger Strikes of the 1970s, from Parnell to Pearse, from Wolfe Tone to Gerry Adams, from the bitter struggle of the Civil War to the uneasy peace of the early twenty-first century. Is it imaginable that Ireland might, as some have suggested, be about to enter a post-nationalist period? Or will Irish nationalism remain a defining force on the island in future years? A courageous and successful attempt to synthesise the entire story between two covers, for the neophyte and for the exhausted specialist alike. Tom Garvin, Irish Times.

In Search of Bill Clinton John D. Gartner, 2008-09-16

What makes Bill Clinton tick? William Jefferson Clinton, the 42nd President of the United States, is undoubtedly the greatest American enigma of our age: a dark horse that captured the White House, fell from grace and was resurrected as an elder statesman, whose popularity rises and falls based on the day's sound bytes. John Gartner's In Search of Bill Clinton unravels the mystery at the heart of Clinton's complex nature and why so many people fall under his spell. He tells the story we all thought we knew from the fresh viewpoint of a psychologist, as he questions the well-crafted Clinton life story. Gartner, a therapist with an expertise in treating individuals with hypomania, temperaments saw in Clinton the energy creativity and charisma that leads a hypomanic individual to success as well as the problems with impulse control and judgment which frequently result in disastrous decision making He knew though that if he wanted to find the real Bill Clinton he couldn't rely on armchair psychology to provide the answer He knew he had to travel to Arkansas and around the world to talk with those who knew Clinton and his family intimately With his boots on the ground Gartner uncovers long held secrets about Clinton's mother the ambitious and seductive Virginia Kelley her wild life in Hot Springs and the ghostly specter of his biological father Bill Blythe to uncover the truth surrounding Clinton's rumor filled birth He considers the abusive influence of Clinton's alcoholic stepfather Roger Clinton to understand the repeated public abuse he invited both by challenging a hostile Republican Congress and engaging in the clandestine affair with Monica Lewinsky that led to his downfall Of course there is no marriage more dissected than that of the Clintons both in the White House and on the Hillary Clinton presidential campaign trail Instead of going down familiar paths Gartner looks at that relationship with a new focus and clearly sees in Hillary's molding of Clinton into a more disciplined politician the figure of Bill Clinton's stern grandmother Edith Cassidy the woman who set limits on him at an early age Gartner brings Clinton's story up to date as he travels to Ireland the scene of one of Clinton's greatest diplomatic triumphs and to Africa where his work with AIDS victims is unmatched to understand Clinton's current humanitarian persona and to find out why he is beloved in so much of the world while still scorned by many at home John Gartner's exhaustive trip around the globe provides the richest portrait of Clinton yet a man who is one of our national obsessions In Search of Bill Clinton is a surprising and compelling book about a man we all thought we knew

Turf War Timothy J. Lynch, 2019-05-23 First published in 2004 this provocative and remarkable book is the first significant study of how the Clinton administration revolutionized US policy toward Northern Ireland in the 1990s Based on interviews with the major actors in the episode Timothy Lynch examines in detail how the internal American turf war fought over Northern Ireland shaped the quality and character of US engagement Turf War will be essential reading for all those seeking to understand American policy toward Northern Ireland the institutional dynamics of US foreign policy after the cold war the perils of locking terrorists into a democratic process and US interventions more broadly

Transitional Justice and the 'Disappeared' of Northern Ireland Lauren Dempster, 2019-06-11 This book employs a transitional justice lens to address the disappearances that occurred during the Northern Ireland conflict or Troubles and the post conflict response to these disappearances Despite an extensive literature around dealing with the past in Northern Ireland as well as a substantial body of scholarship on disappearances in other national contexts there has been little scholarly scrutiny of disappearances in post conflict Northern Ireland Although the Good Friday Agreement brought relative peace to Northern Ireland no provision was made for the establishment of some form of overarching truth and reconciliation commission aimed at comprehensively addressing the legacy of violence Nevertheless a mechanism to recover the remains of the disappeared the Independent Commission for the Location of Victims Remains

ICLVR was established and has in fact proven to be quite effective As a result the reactions of key constituencies to the disappearances can be used as a prism through which to comprehensively explore issues of relevance to transitional justice scholars and practitioners Pursuing an interdisciplinary approach and based on extensive empirical research this book provides a multifaceted exploration of the responses of these constituencies to the practice of disappearing It engages with transitional justice themes including silence memory truth acknowledgement and apology Key issues examined include the mobilisation efforts of families of the disappeared efforts by a former non state armed group to address its legacy of violence the utility of a limited immunity mechanism to incentivise information provision and the interplay between silence and memory in the shaping of a collective societal understanding of the disappeared Next Generation Ireland Ed

Burke, Ronan Lyons, 2013-03-15 Foreword by Shane Ross As Ireland looks to regroup and rebuild for the future this is exactly the type of book the country needs with new people and new ideas Peter Sutherland former EU Commissioner and Director General of GATT and the WTO Every crisis presents an opportunity and Irelands current crisis gives us an opportunity to reshape the country to make it future proof Next Generation Ireland contains some fascinating ideas by some of Ireland s brightest young thinkers on how to build the Ireland of the 2020s and 2030s David McWilliams economist and author Ireland in the early 2010s stands at a crossroads The ongoing change and crisis in institutions that once had our trust force us to ask What now Next Generation Ireland brings together ten young Irish men and women to answer this very question All are under forty and are emerging experts in their chosen fields They have come together because they believe that in this time of questioning there exists a huge opportunity for the next generation to build the Ireland of the 2020s and 2030s The book tackles the essential challenges confronting Irish politics and society the economy the environment and Irelands relationship with the rest of the world Each writer proposes transformative policies in their respective areas that will renew and sustain the Irish state in the coming decades Urging reform and policy transformation Next Generation Ireland marks the beginning of an interesting conversation Do you wish to participate Contributors include Eoin OMalley Michael Courtney Stephen Kinsella Michael King Joseph Curtin Aoibh n de B rca Neil Sands and Nicola White Convictions, Conflict, and Moral Reasoning David J. McMillan, 2021-12-14 The primary focus of this volume is to bring to the fore the contribution of

McClendon and Smith s work on convictions and the application of that work in helping understand the processes of moral reasoning in the context of conflict Both were indebted to Zuurdeeg and their concept was incorporated in models of moral reasoning by Baptist scholars Glen Stassen and Parush Parushev The usefulness of the concept is critically evaluated The volume concludes with a case study on the conflict in Northern Ireland including the role of religion and the key issues raised in the referendum on the Belfast Agreement in 1998 It includes an examination of the contribution of four Christian groups in Northern Ireland who publicly engaged in this six week period of intense and passionate debate on the Agreement and the difficult issues it addressed as the focus for examining and testing the application of the model of moral reasoning On the basis of the case study is demonstrated that the concept of convictions can prove to be a helpful means of getting to the heart of what drives moral reasoning in contexts of conflict The purpose of this book is to issue a call to engage with critique and consider the importance and application of a much undervalued methodological approach to discerning the convictions that are the primary influencers of thought and action Crossing the Border John Coakley,Liam O'Dowd,2007 This timely book provides the first sustained examination of cross border relationships since the momentous sequence of events that began with the Good Friday agreement of 1998 It looks at changing patterns of North South relations in three broad domains politics and public administration the economy and civil society Specific topics covered include the cross border implementation bodies the island economy the voluntary sector education health planning public policy and the EU The book draws on findings from a two year research project embracing a large multi disciplinary team based in Dublin Belfast Dundalk and Armagh The book also sets recent changes in perspective outlining the evolution of cross border relationships between partition in 1920 and the recent comprehensive settlement and exploring the extent to which leaders North and South remained in denial about the evolving impact and implications of the border until the closing decades of the 20th century The authors demonstrate how the search for a settlement in Northern Ireland has created a new dynamic in cross border relationships underlining the critical importance of these relationships in sustaining the peace process In a trenchant assessment of future prospects the book stresses the extent to which new North South relationships have been dependent on external funding from the EU and the US It argues that the diminution of these funds potentially threatens the sustainability of successful cross border programs putting the onus on the two governments to develop a more coherent and strategic approach to cross border co operation The Writers Directory ,2013
