The Farmers Side:

The Farmer's Side William Alfred Pepper, 1891 The Farmer's Side William Alfred Pepper, 2025-05-22 In The Farmer's Side His Troubles and Their Remedy William Alfred Pepper presents a compelling analysis of the challenges faced by American farmers in the late 19th century. This work delves into the economic hardships, political marginalization, and social struggles experienced by agricultural communities during a period of significant industrial and economic transformation in the United States. Pepper offers potential solutions and policy recommendations aimed at alleviating the burdens on farmers and ensuring their economic stability. This book provides valuable insights into the historical context of agrarian issues and their relevance to contemporary discussions on economic inequality and agricultural policy. It remains a significant contribution to the understanding of American economic history and the role of farmers in shaping the nation's development. A. Pepper, 2015-06-30 Excerpt from The Farmer's Side His Troubles and Their Remedy: We learn much and as to a great many things we learn best by comparison. Contrast impresses the memory and sinks into the heart. If there were nothing white, nobody would know that there is anything red or green. If the sky were never blue, we would not know that it is ever black or gray. Without pain, we would have no conception of pleasure. The sweetness of hope is intensified by the gloom of despair. Looking upon an object without knowledge of other objects with which to compare it, we have no satisfactory method or test of measurement. And this is true of properties and qualities as well as of form, dimension, and color. While any particular thing may be of a certain shape, size, and hue without reference to the observer's capacity for discernment, yet as to the observer himself, he will measure all these properties by his knowledge of things with which he may properly compare them. A farmer's estimate of the quality and value of his products is based upon what he knows of the quality and value of other similar articles with which he compares them. He recognizes the greater worth of improved methods in agriculture in their superiority over other methods with which he was once familiar.
