The Fateful Discourse of Worldly Things David Halliburton, 1997 Dialectic and Narrative Thomas R. Flynn, Dalia Judovitz, 1993-07-01 Dialectic and narrative reflect the respective inclinations of philosophy and literature as disciplines that fix one another in a Sartrean gaze admixing envy with suspicion Ever since Plato and Aristotle distinguished scientific knowledge episteme from opinion doxa and valued demonstration through formal final causes over emplotment mythos the palm has been awarded to dialectic as the proper instrument of rational discourse the arbiter of coherence consistency and ultimately of truth The matter becomes more complicated when we recognize the various uses of the term dialectic in the tradition some of which complement and even overlap the narrative domain By confronting these concepts with one another either de facto or ex professo the following essays not only raise anew the ancient questions of the identities of philosophy and literature but do so in the context of recent postmodern challenges to their relative autonomy Literary Paternity, Literary Friendship Gerhard Richter, 2020-05-01 The twenty one original essays in this volume offer a rigorous reconsideration of modern forms of paternity and friendship as they emerge in works by writers and philosophers from the eighteenth through the twentieth century Exploring various models of these twin themes contributors examine writings of canonical figures such as Goethe Schiller H Iderlin Kleist and Brentano as well as Kafka Benjamin and Arendt Together the essays combine an emphasis on the German literary philosophical tradition with comparative approaches offering both theoretical discussions and sophisticated readings of crucial texts that have helped shape our contemporary literary engagement with paternity and friendship This collection honors Stanley Corngold an influential scholar and teacher who taught German at Princeton University for more than forty years
