The Feminine No:

The Feminine "No!" Todd McGowan, 2000-11-09 The Feminine No sheds new light on the recent culture wars and debates about changes to the literary canon Todd McGowan argues that the dynamics of canon change rather than being the isolated concern of literary critics actually offer concrete insights into the source of social change Through a deployment of psychoanalytic theory McGowan conceives the rediscovery and subsequent canonization of previously forgotten literary works as recoveries of past traumas As such these rediscoveries call into question and disrupt not only the canon itself but also the mechanisms of ideology precisely because trauma is shown to be the key to radical social change The book focuses on four of the most prominent rediscoveries in the canon of American literature Charlotte Perkins Gilman's The Yellow Wallpaper Kate Chopin's The Awakening Charles Chesnutt's The Marrow of Tradition and Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God

Where Are the Women? Sarah Tyson, 2018-10-16 Philosophy has not just excluded women It has also been shaped by the exclusion of women As the field grapples with the reality that sexism is a central problem not just for the demographics of the field but also for how philosophy is practiced many philosophers have begun to rethink the canon Yet attempts to broaden European and Anglophone philosophy to include more women in the discipline's history or to acknowledge alternative traditions will not suffice as long as exclusionary norms remain in place In Where Are the Women Sarah Tyson makes a powerful case for how redressing women's exclusion can make philosophy better She argues that engagements with historical thinkers typically afforded little authority can transform the field outlining strategies based on the work of three influential theorists Genevieve Lloyd Luce Irigaray and Michelle Le Doeuff Following from the possibilities they open up at once literary linguistic psychological and political Tyson reclaims two passionate nineteenth century texts the Declaration of Sentiments from the 1848 Seneca Falls Convention and Sojourner Truth's speech at the 1851 Akron Ohio Women's Convention showing how the demands for equality rights and recognition sought in the early women's movement still pose quandaries for contemporary philosophy feminism and politics Where Are the Women challenges us to confront the reality that women's exclusion from philosophy has been an ongoing project and to become more critical both of how we see existing injustices and of how we address them

The Logic of Sexuation Ellie Ragland, 2012-02-01 2004 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title In The Logic of Sexuation Ellie Ragland offers a detailed account of Jacques Lacan's theories of gender sexuality and sexual difference Exploring Lacan's rereading via Aristotle of Freud's major essays on feminine sexuality Ragland demonstrates that Lacanian theory challenges essentialist notions of gender more effectively than do current debates in gender studies which are typically enmeshed in an imaginary impasse of one sex versus or interchanged with the other Although much American feminist thought on Lacan has portrayed him as anti Woman Ragland argues that Lacan was in fact pro Woman as he felt that no advances in analytic cure or in thinking itself could evolve except by embracing the feminine logic of the not all with its particular modes of jouissance Ragland also aims to make sense of the terms phallus castration sexualization the object a jouissance and so on in relation to the question of sexual difference In doing so she uncovers Lacan's theory that the learning of sexual difference is what makes it possible to think dialectically at all

The Cinema of the Real Hyon Joo Yoo, 2024-11-01 A significant intervention into Lacanian film studies this book sets forth a new theory of the psychoanalytic Real in cinema In psychoanalysis the Real ruptures the Symbolic that organizes law ideology and other systems of belief revealing fissures in this underlying order The Cinema of the Real explores how transnational cinema and especially South Korean cinema facilitate an encounter with the Real enabling the emergence of a new political subject Paying close attention to form Hyon Joo Yoo reveals the existence of an emancipatory drive in films by Jang Hun Park Chan wook Lee Chang dong Jia Zhangke Michael Haneke Claire Denis and Bong Joon ho among others Their work in effect provides viewers with a picture of how it looks and feels to be on a trajectory in which the subject and her world can change Far from being a passive consumer of images Yoo's spectator enters the space of the Real Theoretically rigorous and inventive The Cinema of the Real offers new transnationally attuned tools for conceptualizing the body affect femininity and spectatorship as well as fresh readings of both classic and contemporary films American Journal of

Betrayal in Psychotherapy and Its Antidotes E Mark Stern, 2014-10-29 Betrayal in all its forms has been and is an ever present reality in every area of life politics business and human relationships to name a few Recent publications have chronicled the unethical actions of mental health and other human service professionals yet the psychology of betrayal has received little public interest and attention This book explores the many issues relating to psychotherapy and betrayal The contributing authors of Betrayal in Psychotherapy and its Antidotes present the various faces of betrayal as may be encountered by therapists in the office or in the profession They challenge therapists to understand the violations of trust that can occur within the therapeutic relationship Readers are reminded that the trauma of betrayal manifests itself within all patients regardless of the nature and expression of psychopathology More importantly the authors define betrayal as experienced with specific cases and they attempt to bring out underlying principles that are useful to therapists and the larger professional community Readers will find their understanding of the concept of betrayal much expanded from the chapters in Betrayal in Psychotherapy and its Antidotes For example betrayal is discussed as a failure in the interpersonal or inter subjective relationship between therapist and client in one chapter as opposed to the concept of betrayal as an act calculated to lead another person astray an act of deception or treachery and a breach of confidence and trust as considered in another chapter Other approaches to betrayal and psychotherapy include how to determine what is betrayal in psychotherapy the use of case examples to establish the importance of the therapist striving to remain true to the genuine potentiality of a patient how to avoid colluding with the patient s rejection of life the work of Alice Miller a psychoanalyst by training and the betrayal of children by abuse the paradoxical nature of psychiatric practice and its necessary reliance upon moral reasoning an investigation on the link between therapists personal maturity and the success of therapy how traditional humanistic and analytic therapies can entrap both therapist and patient into a betrayal of self and the relationship implications of the betrayal of the feminine in males and their work with clients in a psychotherapy setting a case portrayal of Teddy the betrayal of the betrayed
