Bidding for the Mainstream? Barbara Korte, Claudia Sternberg, 2021-07-26 This book looks at a sector of black and Asian British film and television as it presented itself in the 1990s and early 2000s For this period a mainstreaming of black and Asian British film has been observed in criticism and theory and articulated by an increasing number of practitioners themselves referring to changing modes of production distribution and reception and implying a more popular and commercial orientation of certain media products This idea is a leitmotif for the authors readings of recent films and examples of television drama including such diverse products as Young Soul Rebels and Babymother East Is East and Bend It Like Beckham The Buddha of Suburbia and White Teeth These analyses are supplemented with a look at earlier landmark productions like Pressure as well as relevant social institutional and aesthetic frameworks The book closes with a selection of statements by black and Asian media practitioners who operate from within Britain's cultural industries Mike Phillips Horace O'Neal Julian Henriques Parminder Vir and Gurinder Chadha Isaac Julien, 2023-04-27 An engrossing book about one of the most important and pioneering contemporary artists and filmmakers working today Celebrated for his powerful and poetic films and installations Isaac Julien is one of the most important and pioneering contemporary artists and filmmakers working today His work transgresses the boundaries between artistic disciplines in thought provoking meditations on race sexuality legacies of colonialism and migration that resonate in the present day This book showcases a selection of key works spanning Julien's career to date from early work as part of the Sankofa Film and Video Collective 1983-92 to his most recent works including his critically acclaimed ten screen film installation Lessons of the Hour 2019 a portrait of the life and times of Frederick Douglass the visionary African American orator philosopher and self liberated freedom fighter and 2022's Once Again Statues Never Die With stunning images of Julien's films an engrossing selection of archive photos and a wide range of contributors who offer contrasting perspectives this book is sure to enrich any reader's experience and appreciation of these deeply moving works Monstrous Intimacies Christina Sharpe, 2010-09-07 Arguing that the fundamental familiar sexual violence of slavery and racialized subjugation have continued to shape black and white subjectivities into the present

Christina Sharpe interprets African diasporic and Black Atlantic visual and literary texts that address those monstrous intimacies and their repetition as constitutive of post slavery subjectivity Her illuminating readings juxtapose Frederick Douglass s narrative of witnessing the brutal beating of his Aunt Hester with Essie Mae Washington Williams s declaration of freedom in Dear Senator A Memoir by the Daughter of Strom Thurmond as well as the generational genital fantasies depicted in Gayl Jones s novel Corregidora with a firsthand account of such monstrous intimacies in the journals of an antebellum South Carolina senator slaveholder and vocal critic of miscegenation Sharpe explores the South African born writer Bessie Head s novel Maru about race power and liberation in Botswana in light of the history of the KhoiSan woman Saartje Baartman who was displayed in Europe as the Hottentot Venus in the nineteenth century Reading Isaac Julien s film The Attendant Sharpe takes up issues of representation slavery and the sadomasochism of everyday black life Her powerful meditation on intimacy subjection and subjectivity culminates in an analysis of Kara Walker s black silhouettes and the critiques leveled against both the silhouettes and the artist

Haunted Life David Marriott,2007 In Haunted Life David Marriott examines the complex interplay between racial fears and anxieties and the political visual cultures of suspicion and state terror He compels readers to consider how media technologies are haunted by the phantom of racial slavery Through examples from film and television modernist literature and philosophy he shows how the ideological image of a brutal African past is endlessly recycled and how this perpetuation of historical catastrophe stokes our nation s race conscious paranoia Drawing on a range of comparative readings by writers theorists and filmmakers including John Edgar Wideman Frantz Fanon Richard Wright Issac Julien Alain Locke and Sidney Poitier Haunted Life is a bold and original exploration of the legacies of black visual culture and the political deeply sexualized violence that lies buried beneath it

Travel & See Kobena Mercer,2016-02-04 Over the years Kobena Mercer has critically illuminated the visual innovations of African American and black British artists In Travel See he presents a diasporic model of criticism that gives close attention to aesthetic strategies while tracing the shifting political and cultural contexts in which black visual art circulates In eighteen essays which cover the period from 1992 to 2012 and discuss such leading artists as Isaac Julien Ren e Green Kerry James Marshall and Yinka Shonibare Mercer provides nothing less than a counternarrative of global contemporary art that reveals how the dialogical principle of cross cultural interaction not only has transformed commonplace perceptions of blackness today but challenges us to rethink the entangled history of modernism as well

Remediating Transcultural Memory Dagmar Brunow,2015-09-25 The impact of digital global media geopolitical changes and migration demands new theorizations within memory studies Despite the growing field of media memory studies the impact from film and media studies has been scarce within memory studies This unique study offers new theorizations of three crucial concepts for media memory studies remediation transculturality and the archive This book takes a closer look at the media specificity of archival footage and how it is adapted translated and appropriated In its original approach this work reflects upon the role of documentary film images for the construction of memory By merging film and media studies with memory studies the work offers multiple theoretical and methodological approaches for everyone interested in the heritage of audiovisual media film and media scholars memory scholars historians art historians social scientists librarians or archivists curators and festival programmers alike
