The First Of Switzerland:

Internment in Switzerland during the First World War Susan Barton, 2019-08-22 In contrast to the plethora of works focusing on the tragic loss of human lives during the First World War little is known about the more hopeful realities of thousands of prisoners of war from Britain France Germany and Belgium who were sent to Switzerland from 1916 This book explores the everyday lives of these prisoners and their impact on Switzerland Internees were warmly welcomed by local people and given education training and employment Leading relatively free lives they were able to engage in leisure activities and develop new relationships However they also contributed to the country's economy helping to keep Swiss tourism alive at a time when businesses were struggling and alleviating Switzerland's labour shortage as Swiss men were called up to defend their borders and preserve the country's neutrality Drawing on a wide range of sources from official records to magazines and postcards Susan Barton provides an absorbing account of the social and cultural history of internment in Switzerland

European Police Forces and Law Enforcement in the First World War Jonas Campion, Laurent López, Guillaume Payen, 2019-11-08 This book offers a global history of civilian military and gendarmerie style policing around the First World War Whilst many aspects of the Great War have been revisited in light of the centenary and in spite of the recent growth of modern policing history the role and fate of police forces in the conflict has been largely forgotten Yet the war affected all European and extra European police forces Despite their diversity all were confronted with transnational factors and forms of disorder and suffered generally from mass conscription During the conflict societies and states were faced with a crisis situation of unprecedented magnitude with mass mechanised killing on the battle field and starvation occupation destruction and in some cases even revolution on the home front Based on a wide geographical and chronological scope from the late nineteenth century to the interwar years this collection of essays explores the policing of European belligerent countries alongside their empires and neutral countries The book's approach crosses traditional boundaries between neutral and belligerent nations centres and peripheries and frontline and rear areas It focuses on the involvement and wartime transformations of these law enforcement forces thus highlighting underlying changes in police organisation identity and practices across this period
