Soviet Naval Power in the Pacific Derek Da Cunha,1990-01-01 The New Age of Naval Power in the Indo-Pacific Catherine L. Grant,Alessio Patalano,James A. Russell,2023-07-05 A new framework contextualizes crucial international security issues at sea in the Indo Pacific Competition at sea is once again a central issue of international security Nowhere is the urgency to address state on state competition at sea more strongly felt than in the Indo Pacific region where freedom of navigation is challenged by regional states continuous investments in naval power and the renewed political will to use it to undermine its principles The New Age of Naval Power in the Indo Pacific provides an original framework in which five factors of influence explain how and why naval power matters in this pivotal part of the world An international group of contributors make the case that these five factors draw upon a longstanding influence of naval power on regional dynamics and impact the extent to which different states in the region use naval power the capacity to exert control over sea lanes the capacity to deploy a nuclear deterrent at sea the capacity to implement the law of the sea in an advantageous way the ability to control marine resources and the capacity for technological innovation The New Age of Naval Power in the Indo Pacific offers a fresh approach for academics and policy makers seeking to navigate the complexity of maritime security and regional affairs Maritime Security in the Indian Ocean and Western Pacific Howard M.

Hensel,Amit Gupta,2017-11-28 Scholars and policy makers have traditionally viewed portions of the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific as separate and discrete political economic and military regions In recent years however a variety of economic political and military forces have made many within the academic community as well as a growing number of national governmental leaders change their perceptions and recognize that these maritime expanses are one zone of global interaction Consequently political military and economic developments in one maritime region increasingly have an impact elsewhere Analyzing and assessing the contemporary maritime challenges in the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific this valuable study highlights the current prospects for peace and security in what is rapidly becoming recognized as an integrated and interactive political military strategic and economic environment This work will be of interest to researchers and policy makers involved in regional studies as well as security studies conflict resolution military and peace studies

The Soviet Navy Bruce W. Watson,Susan M Watson,Calland Carnes,Brian Larson,2020-01-09 Since Admiral Sergei G Gorshkov was appointed to the office of commander in chief of the Soviet Navy in 1956 the Soviet Union has made a massive investment in naval construction training and operations As a result the Soviet Navy has grown from a coastal defense force to one of the world s two strongest navies This book offers a detailed assessment of every major aspect of the Soviet Navy from fleet structure and training facilities to command and control procedures and warfare and intelligence collection capabilities Moscow, Seoul, and Soviet Strategy in the Asia-Pacific Region Stephen Blank,1991 Evolving Maritime Balance Of Power In The Asia-pacific, The: Maritime Doctrines And Nuclear Weapons At Sea Lawrence

Prabhakar, Joshua Ho, Sam Bateman, 2006-08-22 The Asia Pacific region has emerged as the hub of global geo political geo economic and geo strategic significance in the post Cold War period The rise of China and the resurgence of India will be the hallmark for the next 50 years How this surge in power is accommodated by the incumbent powers like the United States and Japan and how the new regional powers like China and India manage the power politics that emerge will be the key determinants of regional stability This volume examines the national maritime doctrines as well as the nuclear weapons developments at sea of the four major powers in the Asia Pacific namely China India Japan and the United States to see if the evolving dynamic is a cooperative or a competitive one In particular the volume looks at the evolving paradigms of maritime transformation in strategy and technology the emergent new maritime doctrines and evolving force postures in the naval orders of battle the role and operations of nuclear navies in the Asia Pacific and the implications and impact of nuclear weapons ballistic missiles and sea based missile defence responses in the region Soviet Military Power , Prospects of Soviet Power in the 1980s Christoph Bertram, 1980-06-18 Allied Responses to the Soviet Challenge in East Asia and the Pacific Walter J. Stoessel, 1982 Sea Power and the Asia-Pacific Geoffrey Till, Patrick Bratton, 2012-02-07 With particular focus on the Asia Pacific region this book examines the rise and fall of sea powers In the Asia Pacific region there has been significant expansion of sea based economies together with burgeoning naval power Many claim that these processes will transform the world s future economic and security relationships The book addresses the question of to what extent the notion of Asia rising is reflected by and dependent on its developing sea power A central theme is the Chinese challenge to long term Western maritime ascendancy and what might be the consequences of this In order to situate current and future developments this book includes chapters which analyse what sea power means and has meant as well as its role both historic and contemporary in the rise and fall of great powers This book will be of much interest to students of naval power Asian politics strategic studies war and conflict studies IR and security studies Russia in the Pacific Charles E. Ziegler, 2024 Russia in the Pacific approaches the puzzle of why Russia with much of its huge territory straddling Asia has not had more success in establishing a position as a great power in the Asia Pacific Charles E Ziegler examines Russia s Asia strategy from imperial expansion in the nineteenth century through Vladimir Putin s twenty first century diplomatic economic and military pivot towards the Asia Pacific Using an analytically eclectic approach Zeigler combines a focus on military and economic power with close attention to domestic politics culture and questions of national identity Security & Arms Control in the North Pacific A. Mack, P. Keal, 2023-05-26 First published in 1988 Security others focus on particular issues the nuclear infrastructure controlling the arms trade confidence building and naval arms control A unifying theme of this collection is the tension between military and non military approaches to security between threat and reassurance and between deterrence and confidence building This comprehensive book is a must read for scholars and researchers of security studies defence studies international politics and diplomacy New Foundations for Asian and Pacific Security Joyce E.

Larson,2017-09-08 The Asian Pacific area has become a crucial arena of great power rivalry It is in this region that the interests and ambitions of the United States the Soviet Union Japan and the People s Republic of China most frequently intersect At least partially in response to these realities new or strengthened alignments or relationships most of them tentative and not yet fully formed are developing in the region Among these developments are the Sino American and Sino Japanese rapprochements growing unity within the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN and improved relations between ASEAN and China Whether these developments will serve to ease significantly the heightened uncertainties tensions and strains in the region remains to be seen For most of the nations of the Asian Pacific region the post World War II decades have been a period of significant economic growth and progress toward the development of viable and stable political institutions As diplomatic interactions have become ever more complex and as trade relations among the various countries have expanded both the economic vitality and the geopolitical importance of the region have gained increasing recognition Careful consideration of these varied and complex concerns has led a number of observers to conclude that today s interna tional environment requires greater emphasis on security related matters in Asia and the Pacific Basin Acting upon this conviction the National Strategy Information Center and five cooperating organizations co sponsored a conference on New Foundations for Asian and Pacific Security at Pattaya Thailand in December 1979 This book contains the addresses conference papers some in slightly altered form and committee reports that constituted the formal substantive aspects of the conference

Shaping U.S. Military Forces for the Asia-Pacific Michael R. Kraig,2014-06-04 The first twenty years of post Cold War US defense and diplomatic policies toward Asia have looked a good deal like the previous 50 namely continued deterrence based upon overwhelming offensive military predominance In East Asia all powers harbor common and divergent interests based on fragmented nationalist identities and complex economic interdependence In this multipolar Asian system new Chinese military capabilities could support both the wish to secure its own interests as well as a more expansive vision for regional leadership which might harbor a destabilizing geopolitical agenda How the United States addresses this reality via military procurements and employment concepts for the Asian theater could either detract from or enhance crisis stability The US defense establishment must reorient its force posture to save money manage conflicts of interest and prevent future interstate crises This analysis provides a framework for how the United States should ideally structure and use military power so as to best support the diplomatic resolution of conflicting interests without resorting to full scale warfare It also critiques the usual Western military focus on offensive strategic predominance in force postures itself often fuelled by the unrealistic pursuit of the opponent s complete submission via victory in decisive battles

The Evolution of US Maritime Power in the Pacific Edward A. Olsen,1992 This analysis examines the evolving contexts of U S maritime power in the Asia Pacific region It assesses its historical growth changes as the result of major geopolitical shifts and the impact of both the Cold War and Post Cold War periods Special emphasis is put on the ways the Post Cold War era is affecting and may influence U S strategy generally and with special reference to naval power It also examines the way in which Asian maritime power affects the geopolitical circumstances of the region and in turn the United States strategy in the region Naval Powers in the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific Howard M. Hensel,Amit Gupta,2018-05-11 A vital component of the interdependent global economy maritime transit routes are nowhere more critical than those traversing the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific Previously areas of the Indian Ocean and Western Pacific have been viewed as separate and discrete political economic and military regions In recent years however a variety of economic political and military forces have created a new understanding of these maritime expanses as one zone of global interaction This book complements the material presented in its companion volume Maritime Security in the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific by analysing the perceptions interests objectives maritime capabilities and policies of the major maritime powers operating in the Indian Ocean and the Western Pacific In addition the book also assesses the contemporary maritime challenges and opportunities that confront the global community within what is rapidly becoming recognised as an integrated zone of global interaction A valuable study for researchers and policymakers working in the fields of maritime security military security and peace studies conflict resolution and Asian affairs Understanding Soviet Naval Developments ,1981 Department of Defense Appropriations for Fiscal Year 1980: Posture statements United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Department of Defense,1979 *Hearings on Military Posture and H.R. 1872 (H.R. 4040) ... and H.R. 2575 (S. 429) ...
