Soviet Foreign Policy Today 19831986:

Soviet Foreign Policy, 1917-1991 Gabriel Gorodetsky, 2014-01-14 A comprehensive assessment of Soviet relations with the West set in the context of the emergence of a new Russia This volume analyzes the formulation of foreign policy during the period from the first decade of the Bolshevik Revolution through the gradual erosion of ideological differences Books in Print, 1977 Books in Print 1997-98 R R Bowker Publishing, 1997 Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation, 1993 Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1997 The Strategic Defense Initiative Ralph L. Dietl, 2018-08-15 The Nuclear and Space Talks revolutionized arms control The Cold War endgame commenced with the umbrella negotiations that linked START and INF negotiations to a regulation on the weaponization of space This volume reveals a US grand strategy to replace deterrence with a collective security order An entente of the superpowers was needed to transform bipolarity The US planned the replacement of mutually assured destruction by mutually assured security A global astrodome was to protect a nuclear disarmed world The Franco German special relationship in European affairs had to be amended by a US SU special relationship to replace classic bloc politics The Reagan Administration planned a global zero agenda a joint development of a global protective system and a creation of a Common House of Europe In brief the superpowers prepared the velvet revolution that eliminated the Cold War structures Neither containment nor convergence offers a valid explanation of the Cold War endgame Co creation is the key to decipher the end of the Cold War NATO Europe challenged the transformation of bipolarity The European NWS resisted to a multilateralization of strategic arms control In Europe the classic Cold War thinking survived the fall of the Iron Curtain European conservatism contributed to the geopolitical catastrophe of the first order the downfall of the Soviet Union The Reagan Administration developed a Grand Strategy to end the Cold War The US SU co creation of an astrodome was meant to ease a global zero agenda A global collective security structure under the United Nations was to replace deterrence The superpower project collapsed due to the penetration of US decision making by NATO Allies The European NWS totally objected to a multilateralization of strategic arms control to preserve their relative position in the international system The Cold War at Home and Abroad Andrew L. Johns, Mitchell B. Lerner, 2018-08-10 From President Truman's use of a domestic propaganda agency to Ronald Reagan's handling of the Soviet Union during his 1984 reelection campaign the American political system has consistently exerted a profound effect on the country's foreign policies Americans may cling to the belief that politics stops at the water's edge but the reality is that parochial political interests often play a critical role in shaping the nation's interactions with the outside world In The Cold War at Home and Abroad Domestic Politics and US Foreign Policy since 1945 editors Andrew L. Johns and Mitchell B. Lerner bring together eleven essays that reflect the growing methodological diversity that has transformed the field of diplomatic history over the past twenty years The contributors examine a spectrum of diverse domestic factors ranging from traditional issues like elections and Congressional influence to less frequently studied factors like the role of religion and regionalism and trace their influence on the history of US foreign relations since 1945 In doing so they highlight influences and ideas that expand our understanding of the history of American foreign relations and provide guidance and direction for both contemporary observers and those who shape the United States role in the world This expansive volume contains many lessons for politicians policy makers and engaged citizens as they struggle to implement a cohesive international strategy in the face of hyper partisanship at home and uncertainty abroad Problems of Communism ,1986

An Introduction to International Relations Richard Devetak,Jim George,Sarah Percy,2017-09-11 An Introduction to International Relations is a comprehensive introduction to the history theories developments and debates that shape the dynamic discipline of international relations and contemporary world politics Bringing together an expert author team comprising leading academics from Australia and around the world it allows readers to explore the discipline from both Australian and global perspectives Known for its clear easy to read style and relevant real world examples the text has been fully updated and revised to reflect current research and the changing global political climate This edition features extensive new material on international history from World War I to World War II international law the globalisation of international society and terrorism A companion website for instructors offers additional case studies critical thinking questions and links to relevant video and web materials that bring international relations theory to life Islam, Securitization, and US

Foreign Policy Erdoan A. Shipoli,2018-05-08 This book argues that Islam has been securitized in US foreign policy especially during the W Bush administration when it was increasingly portrayed as the ultimate other This securitization was realized through the association of Islam with unique security threats in speeches of foreign policy and national security By analyzing the four recent US presidents discourses on Islam this work sheds light on how they viewed Islam and addresses the following questions How do we talk about Islam its place and relationship within the context of US security How does the language we use to describe Islam influence the way we imagine it How is Islam constructed as a security issue The Making of Australia's Indochina Policies Under the Labor Government (1983-1986) Philip G. O'Brien,1987 The Ideological Origins of Great Power Politics, 1789-1989 Mark L. Haas,2018-09-05 How do leaders perceive threat levels in world politics and what effects do those perceptions have on policy choices Mark L Haas focuses on how ideology shapes perception He does not delineate the content of particular ideologies but rather the degree of difference among them Degree of ideological difference is he believes the crucial factor as leaders decide which nations threaten and which bolster their state s security and their own domestic power These threat perceptions will in turn impel leaders to make particular foreign policy choices Haas examines great power relations in five periods the 1790s in Europe the Concert of Europe 1815 1848 the 1930s in Europe Sino Soviet relations from 1949 to 1960 and the end of the Cold War In each case he finds a clear relationship between the degree of ideological differences that divided state leaders and those leaders perceptions of threat level and so of appropriate foreign policy choices These relationships held in most cases regardless of the nature of the ideologies in question the offense defense balance and changes in the international distribution of power American Foreign Policy & Process James M. McCormick,1998 Because policy actions are always taken within a value context this comprehensive text uses values and beliefs as the basic organizing theme The book portrays the way values and beliefs about foreign affairs have changed over the course of U S history and how foreign policy has changed from its earliest years through the end of the Cold War and beyond American Foreign Policy and Process James M. McCormick,1992

AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY AND PROCESS WITH INFOTRAC is a comprehensive text that uses values and beliefs to organize the topic of foreign policy The book portrays the way values and beliefs about foreign policy have changed over the course of U S history and how foreign policy has changed from its earliest years through the post 9 11 years and beyond

Current Bibliographical Information Dag Hammarskjöld Library,1989 The Soviet Union In The Third World Carol R Saivetz,Harvard University. Russian Research Center,1989-07-16 Weapons in Space Aaron Bateman,2024-05-07 A new and provocative take on the formerly classified history of accelerating superpower military competition in space in the late Cold War and beyond In March 1983 President Ronald Reagan shocked the world when he established the Strategic Defense Initiative SDI derisively known as Star Wars a space based missile defense program that aimed to protect the US from nuclear attack In Weapons in Space Aaron Bateman draws from recently declassified American European and Soviet documents to give an insightful account of SDI situating it within a new phase in the militarization of space after the superpower d tente fell apart in the 1970s In doing so Bateman reveals the largely secret role of military space technologies in late Cold War US defense strategy and foreign relations In contrast to existing narratives Weapons in Space shows how tension over the role of military space technologies in American statecraft was a central source of SDI s controversy even more so than questions of technical feasibility By detailing the participation of Western European countries in SDI research and development Bateman reframes space militarization in the 1970s and 1980s as an international phenomenon He further reveals that even though SDI did not come to fruition it obstructed diplomatic efforts to create new arms control limits in space Consequently Weapons in Space carries the legacy of SDI into the post Cold War era and shows how this controversial program continues to shape the global discourse about instability in space and the growing anxieties about a twenty first century space arms race American Foreign Policy Current Documents ,1988 Nomination of Robert M. Gates United States. Congress. Senate. Select Committee on Intelligence,1992 Soviet Diplomacy and Negotiating Behavior, 1979-88 Joseph G. Whelan,1988
