Soviet Military Strategy 3rd Ed:

Soviet Military Strategy in Europe Joseph D. Douglass, 2013-10-22 Soviet Military Strategy in Europe focuses on the development form and content implications for international relations and goal of Soviet military plan in Europe The book first discusses the foundation of Soviet military thought and revolution in Soviet military affairs including basic concepts of the Marxist Leninist ideology Soviet study of military affairs nuclear revolution and scientific and technical revolution The publication also concentrates on Soviet study of laws and principles of military art and forces and primary operational concepts Topics include laws of the first order naval and air operations nuclear strike and conventional war considerations The manuscript ponders on command and control as well as combat modeling survivability coordination centralization and attack of NATO command and control The book also reviews the issues of Soviet military strategy toward Europe and special Soviet problems Topics include role of nuclear weapons chemical warfare options escalation to intercontinental war NATO nuclear threat nuclear weapon stockpile and superiority and war initiation The publication is a dependable reference for readers interested in the Soviet military scheme in Europe Soviet Military Doctrine Harriet Fast Scott, William F. Scott, 2019-06-21 The purpose of this book is to document from basic Soviet sources the development of Soviet military doctrine and its impact upon the Soviet Armed Forces Soviet military doctrine is defined as the military policy of the Communist Party In one way or another this policy affects the lives of all of us as a possible threat to free institutions and political processes as well as to our economic life and well being Generally we approach Soviet military policy in terms of military balances and weapons comparisons in the number of men under arms the speed of aircraft of the Soviet bloc versus that of NATO aircraft the number of ballistic missiles and their throw weights Studying such balances is of critical importance in defining to some degree existing forces But it is only through a deep and thorough study of the military policy of the Communist Party which translates directly into military doctrine that we can obtain the background that might aid in negotiating with the Soviets on arms control matters or in making decisions that will enable those nations outside of the Soviet bloc to deter future Kremlin military moves The Uses and Limits of Intelligence Walter Laqueur, 2017-09-29 This is a major survey and assessment of U S intelligence activities over the last forty five years It offers a systematic and authoritative evaluation of American intelligence gathering machinery how it has been used misused and on occasion ignored The book has been hailed as a splendid work reflective and penetrating by James R Schlesinger while Zbigniew Brzezinski describes Laqueur as a man who understands the relationships between history and the world of secret services Henry S Rowen noted that Laqueur brings a rare degree of analytical power to this important subject Toward Nuclear Disarmament And Global Security Burns H Weston, 2019-06-04 This text is designed to provide students and others with a theoretical and factual base for understanding the complex questions posed by continued reliance on nuclear weapons to protect geopolitical interests In Part One the authors examine the destructiveness and cost of modern nuclear arsenals and offer both normative and systemic explanations USSR, Analytical Survey of Literature United States. Department of the Army, 1976 Strategic Review , 1974 dedicated to the advancement and understanding of those principles and practices military and political which serve the vital security interests of the United States Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists , 1978-03-31 Transformation in Russian and Soviet Military History Carl W. Reddel, 1990

Proceedings of the National Security Affairs Conference , 1976 US Presidents and the Militarization of Space, 1946-1967 Sean N. Kalic, 2012-04-10 In the clash of ideologies represented by the Cold War even the heavens were not immune to militarization Satellites and space programs became critical elements among the national security objectives of both the United States and the Soviet Union According to US Presidents and the Militarization of Space 1946 1967 three American presidents in succession shared a fundamental objective of preserving space as a weapons free frontier for the benefit of all humanity Between 1953 and 1967 Presidents Eisenhower Kennedy and Johnson all saw nonaggressive military satellite development as well as the civilian space program as means to favorably shape the international community s opinion of the scientific technological and military capabilities of the United States Sean N Kalic s reinterpretation of the development of US space policy based on documents declassified in the past decade demonstrates that a single vision for the appropriate uses of space characterized American strategies across parties and administrations during this period Significantly Kalic s findings contradict the popular opinion that the United States sought to weaponize space and calls into question the traditional interpretation of the space race as a simple action reaction paradigm Indeed beyond serving as a symbol and ambassador of US technological capability its satellite program provided the United States with advanced nonaggressive military intelligence gathering platforms that proved critical in assessing the strategic nuclear balance between the United States and the Soviet Union It also aided the three administrations in countering the Soviet Union s increasing international prestige after its series of space firsts beginning with the launch of Sputnik in 1957 Soviet Aerospace Handbook M. O. Norby, United States. Department of the Air Force, 1978 Studies in Communist Affairs , 1976 Military Effectiveness: Volume 3, The Second World War Allan R. Millett, Williamson Murray, 2010-08-09 This three volume study examines the questions raised by the performance of the military institutions of France Germany Russia the United States Great Britain Japan and Italy in the period from 1914 to 1945 Leading military historians deal with the different national approaches to war and military power at the tactical operational strategic and political levels They form the basis for a fundamental re examination of how military organizations have performed in the first half of the twentieth century Volume 3 covers World War II Volumes 1 and 2 address address World War I and the interwar period respectively Now in a new edition with a new introduction by the editors these classic volumes will remain invaluable for military historians and social scientists in their examination of national security and military issues They will also be essential reading for future military leaders at Staff and War Colleges The Age of Airpower Martin Van Creveld, 2011-04-12 A renowned military historian tells the story of airpower's rise in the twentieth century and argues that its great days are over New Directions in Strategic Thinking Robert O'Neill, D.M. Horner, 2021-01-26 This book first published in 1981 examines the broader aspects of international strategic relations and analyses Cold War developments within particular nations' fields of warfare and areas of political military interaction. The role of force in international society changed as the nuclear deadlock between the superpowers continued with military forces being deployed for political purposes in situations only just short of war. The balance between NATO and Warsaw Pact forces also changed as American technology increased and short range nuclear missiles were deployed in Europe. This book also examines the development of strategic thinking in China, Japan and India as well as insurgency in the Third World so often the site for proxy superpower conflict. Problems of Communism, 1979 Toward a Consensus on Military Service Andrew J. Goodpastor, Lloyd H. Elliott, J. Allan Hovey, 2016-06-06 Toward a Consensus on Military Service Report of the Atlantic Council's Working Group on Military Service compiles the work of several authors who are all members of Working Group on Military Service. Each chapter tackles relevant issues regarding the U.S. peacetime military volunteer force such as its previous experiences and future prospects. The opening chapter covers the setting which in turn provides a geopolitical overview of the issues faced by the U.S. military. The next chapter discusses the history of American military recruitment system from colonial times up to the last draft era. Chapter 3 tackles the present and future of the U.S. security requirements while the next chapter discusses the concept of an all volunteer force as well as its implications. The fifth chapter provides an analysis of the experience and prospects of military reserves in the all volunteer era. Chapter 6 discusses the possible repercussions of an all volunteer force as well as the possible remedy of such predicament. Chapter 7 explains several recruitment options for both active and reserve forces while the Chapter 8 discusses the use of a compulsory military service when an all volunteer system is proven inadequate. The ninth chapter examines the relationship between how the U.S. military builds up its military manpower and how it affects U.S. society both morally and ethically. The last chapter provides recommendation based on the information inferred from the previous chapter. Selected Readings in Nuclear, Biological and Chemical Operations, 1983 The Future of Arms Control United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations. Subcommittee on Arms Control, Oceans, and International Environment, 1982 The Third World in Soviet Military Thought Mark Katz, 2012-07-26 First published in 1982 this study traces the development of Soviet military thinking on the Third World and assesses its importance for the conduct of Soviet foreign policy. Changes in Soviet military thought often reflect changes in Soviet attitudes towards and expectations from involvement in Third World conflicts. This work from Dr Katz meditates upon the changing role of the USSR in post war Third World conflicts with particular emphasis upon the Brezhnev era and the way in which US setbacks in the Third World impacted upon Soviet foreign policy and changing attitudes to the Third World.
