Soviet Union In Asia:

The Soviet Union in Asia Geoffrey Jukes, 1973      The Soviet Union and Asia, 1988      The Soviet Union and the Asia-Pacific Region Pushpa Thambipillai, Daniel C. Matuszewski, 1989-06-23 In examining the economic and social reforms of Gorbachev's Soviet Union the contributors to this new study provide a broad portrait of the state of current Soviet relations with the countries of the Asia Pacific region the prospects for change and the perceived role of the Soviet Union in that change Leading established scholars and specialists from the countries of the Asia Pacific region study this new Soviet phenomenon and evince a mixture of enthusiasm and apprehension about Moscow's new policy overtures to the region Mikhail Gorbachev's speech in the Soviet Far East city of Vladivostok on July 28 1986 was widely read and commented upon throughout East and Southeast Asia and raised many unanswered questions How much has the Soviet Union really changed Will China the principal target of Soviet overtures respond positively and if so what will the implications be for the rest of the region What do these sweeping changes mean for the region in practical terms The Soviet Union and the Asia Pacific Region considers these questions and offers insight and provocative commentary on the current attitudes of the many Asia Pacific countries toward the Soviet Union      The Soviet Union in the Asia-Pacific Region Teik Soon Lau, Bilveer Singh, Singapore Institute of International Affairs, 1989      Soviet Relations With South East R.A. Longmire, 1989 Gorbachev's major speech at Vladivostok on 28 July 1986 signalled an increased awareness by the Soviet Union of the importance of the Asia Pacific region Subsequently there have been significant changes in Soviet foreign policy paralleling the programme of wide ranging internal reform and imparting a new look to the USSR's international image The aim of the present work is to chart the development of Soviet policy towards the region since the start of the Bolshevik regime with whether there was any pattern or consistency in that policy Concentration on Soviet activity in a particular part of the world might also serve to throw further light on the much discussed question whether Moscow's policies have in the past been conceived in ideological terms and therefore in some measure pre determined or whether they were truly ad hoc ideology being used merely as justification

The Soviet Union in Asia Geoffrey Jukes, 1973      The Soviet Union and Northeast Asia Herbert J. Ellison, 1989-04-11 Moscow's policy toward Northeast Asia has undergone major changes in the past two decades The Soviet Union and Northeast Asia explores both the historical background and recent trends in Soviet policy emphasizing relations with Japan China the U S and the two Koreas The study stresses the continuing importance of expanding Soviet military power during the 1970s and 1980s and upon Soviet relations with all of the powers of the region The central concern is to find both the important changes and the continuities of Soviet policy in this vital region Co published with the Asia Society

The Transformation of Central Asia Pauline Jones Luong, 2004 With the fall of the Soviet Union in 1991 former Communist Party leaders in Central Asia were faced with the daunting task of building states where they previously had not existed Experts on Central Asia here examine the emerging relationship between state actors and social forces in the region

Reshaping Regional Relations Ramesh Thakur, Carlyle A. Thayer, 2019-07-11 Reshaping Regional Relations summarizes the cause and consequences of changes in Asia Pacific region. It indexes fields of scholarship such as the humanities, arts, technology, and life sciences, and all kinds of scholarship such as PhDs.

Asia In Soviet Global Strategy Ray S. Cline, 2019-04-10 This book, the final report of the Soviet Global Strategy Project, describes the USSR's basic approach to the many states in Asia and the Pacific Basin, including nations stretching from Japan to Australia.

Gorbachev and Southeast Asia (Routledge Revivals) Leszek Buszynski, 2014-04-11 First published in 1992, this book examines Soviet foreign policy towards Southeast Asia in the context of the transformation of the perestroika era in the Soviet Union. The discussion begins in 1985 and ends in 1989 with the Soviet partial withdrawal from Cambodia. Buszynski considers Gorbachev's effort to disengage from the Cambodian problem, the weakening of the Soviet alliance with Vietnam, and the real effort to overcome old hostilities with growth areas in ASEAN such as Thailand and Singapore. This is a fascinating and relevant title of particular value to students with an interest in Russia and the history of international relations in Southeast Asia.

Reinventing Regional Security Institutions in Asia and Africa Kei Koga, 2016-12-08 Regional security institutions play a significant role in shaping the behavior of existing and rising regional powers by nurturing security norms and rules, monitoring state activities, and sometimes imposing sanctions, thereby formulating the configuration of regional security dynamics. Yet their security roles and influence do not remain constant. Their raison d'être, objectives, and functions experience sporadic changes, and some institutions upgrade military functions for peacekeeping operations while others limit their functions to political and security dialogues. The question is why and how do these variances in institutional change emerge? This book explores the mechanisms of institutional change, focusing on regional security institutions led by non-great powers. It constructs a theoretical model for institutional change that provides a new understanding of their changing roles in regional security, which has yet to be fully explored in the International Relations field. In so doing, the book illuminates why, when, and how each organization restructures its role, function, and influence. Using case studies of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), and the Organization of African Unity (OAU)/African Union (AU), it also sheds light on similarities and differences in institutional change between regional security institutions.

New Directions for American Policy in Asia Bernard K. Gordon, 1990 The importance of East Asia in international politics is continually growing, as United States trade across the Pacific now exceeds their trade across the Atlantic New Directions for American Policy in Asia examines current United States foreign policy in East Asia surveys current problems and our relations with each of the major powers in the region and makes recommendations for improvement Gordon argues that although the region is at present a good environment forces which adversely affect the U S are already at work Asia and the Americas ,1924 The New Era in East Asia United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on Asian and Pacific Affairs,1981 The Soviet Union in Southeast Asia F. A. Mediansky,Dianne Court,1984 The Soviet Union Monthly ,1926 Soviet-American Relations in Asia, 1945-1954 Russell D. Buhite,1981 Based on recently released documents Buhite focuses on those parts of Asia that became objects of Soviet American competition He portrays the Soviet Union as an aggressive and expansionist power whose aspirations included not only control of the Kuril and Sakhalin islands but also domination or hegemony in Mongolia Sinkiang Manchuria Korea and Japan and eventual expulsion of the West from Southeast Asia Buhite believes that the United States must bear heavy responsibility for the intensification of the Cold War in Asia He also explains how thoughtful leaders adopted a posture of national interest based largely on such intangibles as credibility and national prestige
