the House of Orange Nassau Susan Broomhall and Jacqueline Van Gent explore how the House emerged as a leading force during a period in which the Dutch accrued one of the greatest seaborne empires Using the concept of dynastic colonialism they explore strategic behaviours undertaken on behalf of the House of Orange Nassau through material culture in a variety of sites of interpretation from palaces and gardens to prints and teapots in Europe and beyond Using over 140 carefully selected images the authors consider a wide range of visual material and textual sources including portraits glassware tiles letters architecture and global spaces in order to rethink dynastic power and identity in gendered terms Through the House of Orange Nassau Broomhall and Van Gent demonstrate how dynasties could assert status and power by enacting a range of colonising strategies Dynastic Colonialism offers an exciting new interpretation of the complex story of the House of Orange Nassau s rise to power in the early modern period through material means that will make fascinating reading for students and scholars of early modern European history material culture and gender This book is highly illustrated throughout The print edition features the images in black and white whereas the eBook edition contains the illustrations in colour

Ashmolean Museum Oxford, Catalogue of the Collection of Paintings: Dutch, Flemish, and German paintings before 1900 (excluding the Daisy Linda Ward collection) Ashmolean Museum, Christopher White, 1999 This catalog describes and illustrates the 175 Dutch Flemish and German pictures of the fifteenth to nineteenth centuries in the Ashmolean Museum Oxford This outstanding group includes four brilliant oil sketches by Rubens as well as two rare oil sketches by van Dyck Gender, Power and Identity in the Early Modern House of Orange-Nassau Susan Broomhall, Jacqueline Van Gent, 2016-08-12 How do gender and power relationships affect the expression of family House and dynastic identities The present study explores this question using a case study of the House of Orange Nassau whose extensive visual material and archival sources from both male and female members enable the authors to trace their complex attempts to express gain and maintain power in texts material culture and spaces as well as rituals acts and practices The book adopts several innovative approaches to the history of the Orange Nassau family and to familial and dynastic studies generally Firstly the authors analyse in detail a vast body of previously unexplored sources including correspondence artwork architectural horticultural and textual commissions ceremonies practices and individual actions that have surprisingly received little attention to date individually and consider these as the collective practices of a key early modern dynastic family They investigate new avenues about the meanings and practices of family and dynasty in the early modern period extending current research that focuses on dominant men to ask how women and subordinate men understood family and dynasty in what respects such notions were shared among members and how it might have been fractured and fashioned by individual experiences Adopting a transnational approach to the Nassau family the authors explore the family s self presentation across a range of languages cultures and historiographical traditions situating their representation of themselves as an influential House within an international context and offering a new vision of power as a gendered concept

Art Museums and the Legacies of the Dutch Atlantic Slave Trade Sarah Mallory, Joanna S. Seidenstein, Rachel Burke, Kéla Jackson, 2024-12-02 This richly illustrated collection of essays presents wide ranging perspectives on the legacies of the Dutch Atlantic slave trade within and beyond museum walls Contributions by curators academics activists artists and poets consider this history as reflected in the arts of Europe the Americas Africa and the Black diaspora more broadly together illuminating how art museums may function as liberatory spaces working against systemic injustice Humanistica Lovaniensia Gilbert Tournoy, 1981-02-15 Volume 30 International Congress of Roman Frontier Studies 20 Ángel Morillo Cerdán, Norbert Hanel, Esperanza Martín, 2009 This massive three volume set publishes the proceedings of the 2006 Limes conference which was held in Leon a total of 138 contributions Naturally these cover a vast range of topics related to Roman military archaeology and the Roman frontiers The archaeology of the Roman military in Spain and contributions by Spanish scholars are prominent whilst other themes include the internal frontiers the end of the frontiers and the barbarians in the empire the fortified town in the late Roman period soldiers on the move and the early development of frontiers Further sessions had a regional focus Majority of essays in English some in Spanish German and Italian Governing Masculinities in the Early Modern Period Jacqueline Van Gent, 2016-04-22 Documenting lived experiences of men in charge of others this collection creates a social and cultural history of early modern governing masculinities It examines the tensions between normative discourses and lived experiences and their manifestations in a range of different sources and explores the insecurities anxieties and instability of masculine governance and the ways in which these were expressed or controlled in emotional states language or performance Focussing on moments of exercising power the collection seeks to understand the methods strategies discourses or resources that men were able or not to employ in order to have this power In order to elucidate the mechanisms of male governance the essays explore the following questions how was male governance demonstrated and enacted through men s and women s bodies What roles did women play in sustaining supporting or undermining governing masculinities And what are the relationship of specific spaces such as household or urban environments to notions and practice of governance Finally the collection emphasises the power of sources to articulate the ideas of governance held by particular social groups and to obscure those of others Through a rich and wide range of case studies the collection explores what distinctions can be seen in ideas of authoritative masculine behaviour across Protestant and Catholic cultures British and Continental models from the late medieval to the end of the eighteenth century and between urban and national expressions of authority Kurfürstin Luise Henriette Ulrike Hammer, The Legacy of Dutch Brazil Michiel van Groesen, 2014-06-09 Argues that Dutch Brazil is integral to Atlantic history and made an impact well beyond the colonial and national narratives in the Netherlands and Brazil Slavery and the Invention of Dutch Art Caroline Fowler, 2024-12-06 In Slavery and the Invention of Dutch Art Caroline Fowler examines the fundamental role of the transatlantic slave trade in the production and evolution of seventeenth century Dutch art Whereas the sixteenth century image debates in Europe engaged with crises around the representation of divinity Fowler argues that the rise of the transatlantic slave trade created a visual field of uncertainty around picturing the transformation of life into property Fowler demonstrates how the emergence of landscape maritime and botanical painting were deeply intertwined with slavery s economic expansion Moreover she considers how the development of one of the first art markets was inextricable from the trade in human lives as chattel property Reading seventeenth century legal theory natural history inventories and political pamphlets alongside contemporary poetry theory and philosophy from Black feminism and the African diaspora Fowler demonstrates that ideas about property personhood and citizenship were central to the oeuvres of artists such as Rembrandt van Rijn Hercules Segers Frans Post Johannes Vermeer and Maria Sibylla Merian and therefore inescapably within slavery s grasp

Astronomer, Cartographer and Naturalist of the New World Huib Zuidervaat, Oscar Matsuura, 2025-10-01 This volume Volume 1 presents Marggrafe s stunning biography Volume 2 consists of a text edition of his astronomical legacy prepared for the printing press in the 1650s but only now finalized and published Georg Marggrafe 1610 1643 is today hailed as the principal author of an influential account of the natural history of Northern Brazil and as compiler of the first accurate map of the area which is considered as one of the most elegant products of seventeenth century Dutch cartography But initially he had the ambition to become known in astronomy With the support Johan Maurits van Nassau Siegen then governor general of colonial Dutch Brazil he built in Recife the first European style astronomical observatory on the South American continent where he systematically charted the southern stars He intended to supplement the famous astronomer Tycho Brahe who charted the Northern sky half a century before But Marggrafe s untimely death and the negligence of a Leiden professor prevented the publication of his valuable observations As a result Marggrafe did not achieve fame in astronomy but instead became famous for his equally remarkable other achievements
