Space Patrol Missions Of Daring In The Name Of Early Television:

Space Patrol Jean-Noel Bassior,2015-05-07 Before Star Trek there was Space Patrol Science fiction television has its roots in this live action packed series that captured the imagination of Americans from 1950 to 1955 when space travel was just a dream This book explores the freewheeling spirit of live TV where anything could go wrong before millions of viewers and often did It spotlights often in personal interviews the risk taking Space Patrol cast and crew who laid vital groundwork for television today Included are episode logs for both television and radio shows as well as a complete guide to Space Patrol memorabilia 1950s "Rocketman" TV Series and Their Fans C. Miller,A. Van Riper,2012-08-30 The fourteen essays featured here focus on series such as Space Patrol Tom Corbett and Captain Z Ro exploring their roles in the day to day lives of their fans through topics such as mentoring promotion of the real world space program merchandising gender issues and ranger clubs all the while promoting the fledgling medium of television Television and the Self Kathleen M.

Ryan,Deborah A. Macey,2013-04-05 Sitting prominently at the hearth of our homes television serves as a voice of our modern time Given our media saturated society and television s prominent voice and place in the home it is likely we learn about our society and selves through these stories These narratives are not simply entertainment but powerful socializing agents that shape and reflect the world and our role in it Television and the Self Knowledge Identity and Media Representation brings together a diverse group of scholars to investigate the role television plays in shaping our understanding of self and family This edited collection s rich and diverse research demonstrates how television plays an important role in negotiating self and goes far beyond the treacly very special episodes found in family sit coms in the 1980s Instead the authors show how television reflects our reality and helps us to sort out what it means to be a twenty first century man or woman Science Fiction Film, Television, and Adaptation Jay Telotte,Gerald Duchovnay,2011-08-05 While film and television seem to be closely allied screen media our feature films and television series have seldom been successfully adapted across those screens In fact rather than functioning as portals those allied media often seem quite literally screens that filter out something that made the source work so popular in its original form Differences in budget running times cast viewing habits screen size and shape all come into play and this volume s aim is to track a number of popular texts in the course of their adaptive journeys across the screens in order to sketch the workings of that cross media adaptation For its specific examples the volume draws on a single genre science fiction not only because it is one of the most popular today in either film or television but also because it is arguably the most self conscious of contemporary genres and thus one that most obviously frames the terms of these technological adaptations The essays included here mine that reflexive character in both highly successful and in failed efforts at cross media adaption to help us understand what film and television achieve in screening science fiction and to reveal some of the key issues involved in all of our efforts to navigate the various screens that have become part of contemporary culture Marketing the Moon David Meerman Scott,Richard Jurek,2014-02-28 One of the most successful public relations campaigns in history featuring heroic astronauts press savvy rocket scientists enthusiastic reporters deep pocketed defense contractors and Tang In July 1969 ninety four percent of American televisions were tuned to coverage of Apollo 11 s mission to the moon How did space exploration once the purview of rocket scientists reach a larger audience than My Three Sons Why did a government program whose standard operating procedure had been secrecy turn its greatest achievement into a communal experience In Marketing the Moon David Meerman Scott and Richard Jurek tell the story of one of the most successful marketing and public relations campaigns in history the selling of the Apollo program Primed by science fiction magazine articles and appearances by Wernher von Braun on the Tomorrowland segments of the Disneyland prime time television show Americans were a receptive audience for NASA s pioneering brand journalism Scott and Jurek describe sophisticated efforts by NASA and its many contractors to market the facts about space travel through press releases bylined articles lavishly detailed background materials and fully produced radio and television features rather than push an agenda American astronauts who signed exclusive agreements with Life magazine became the heroic and patriotic faces of the program And there was some judicious product placement Hasselblad was the first camera on the moon Sony cassette recorders and supplies of Tang were on board the capsule and astronauts were equipped with the Exer Genie personal exerciser Everyone wanted a place on the bandwagon Generously illustrated with vintage photographs artwork and advertisements many never published before Marketing the Moon shows that when Neil Armstrong took that giant leap for mankind it was a triumph not just for American engineering and rocketry but for American marketing and public relations

Societies in Space Gary Westfahl, 2025-01-21 Science fiction films and television programs about space travel have undergone a significant transformation since their inception In contrast to the early depictions of small spaceship crews on exploratory missions recent film and television portrayals depict much larger societies in space as well as the obstacles that arise with them This collection of essays examines many aspects of making space travel films from the process of screenwriting to the impact of Greek myth on modern film with illuminating commentary on contemporary problems including class distinction racism and sexism Contributors to this volume including several extensively published scholars and science fiction writers analyze a wide variety of relevant science fiction films and television programs ranging from Star Trek Silent Running the Alien films and Japanese anime to more recent works like Battlestar Galactica Avatar Elysium The Martian Passengers and Ad Astra After Apollo J Bret Bennington, Rodney F.
