Space Weapons And Us Strategy Origins And Development:

Space Weapons and U.S. Strategy Paul B. Stares, 2021-01-26 This book first published in 1985 analyses the factors that have shaped the militarization of space By examining in great detail the determinants of U S policy it explains why for over 25 years space did not become the scene of an arms race and why this began to change in the late 1970s Both superpowers did however develop a limited anti satellite capability in the 1960s and these programmes are also discussed

Space Weapons and US Strategy Paul B. Stares, 1985 US Presidents and the Militarization of Space, 1946-1967 Sean N. Kalic, 2012-05-02 In the clash of ideologies represented by the Cold War even the heavens were not immune to militarization Satellites and space programs became critical elements among the national security objectives of both the United States and the Soviet Union According to US Presidents and the Militarization of Space 1946 1967 three American presidents in succession shared a fundamental objective of preserving space as a weapons free frontier for the benefit of all humanity Between 1953 and 1967 Presidents Eisenhower Kennedy and Johnson all saw nonaggressive military satellite development as well as the civilian space program as means to favorably shape the international community s opinion of the scientific technological and military capabilities of the United States Sean N Kalic s reinterpretation of the development of US space policy based on documents declassified in the past decade demonstrates that a single vision for the appropriate uses of space characterized American strategies across parties and administrations during this period Significantly Kalic s findings contradict the popular opinion that the United States sought to weaponize space and calls into question the traditional interpretation of the space race as a simple action reaction paradigm Indeed beyond serving as a symbol and ambassador of US technological capability its satellite program provided the United States with advanced nonaggressive military intelligence gathering platforms that proved critical in assessing the strategic nuclear balance between the United States and the Soviet Union It also aided the three administrations in countering the Soviet Union s increasing international prestige after its series of space firsts beginning with the launch of Sputnik in 1957 Analysis of G/LEO Kinetic Bombardment and Application to National Security Strategies for Full-Spectrum Military Interoperability Ramsey Elbasheer, 2014-05-01 The objective of this study centralized on the analysis of a kinetic bombardment long rod penetrator system and its evident processes ramifications and applications Applications spanned three broad operational intentions deep bunker breach intercontinental strike capability and preeminence over terrestrial forces without matched investment The ambition of a viable Kinetic Bombardment Orbital Mechanism KBOM is for the cost in its entirety from being put into orbit to maintenance and ejecting payloads to be less than or equal to the same amount of marginal effort required to build maintain and launch the required number of ICBMs to complete a given set of tactical objectives Eleven potential Kinetic Bombardment Rod KBR configurations were initially developed varying between two forms standard tungsten carbide rods and tungsten carbide rods equipped with thermobaric warheads Through an Analysis of Alternatives AoA down select process a final standard tungsten carbide rod composition was selected for use as a case example for further investigation It is concluded that as policies are shaped to allow less restricted military activity in space kinetic bombardment systems will be acquired in response to distinct international events or threats Peer nations seeking to match U S general terrestrial forces without matching U S investment may also look to acquire orbital defense satellites In regards to nations such as the United States that already own weapons effective against all classes of targets kinetic bombardment systems will only become viable prospects once launch costs decline with the development of reusable launch vehicles This study makes the beginning but surely not the whole case for the long pursued concept of orbital defense satellites as the obstacles that once stood in the way recede While it does not however suggest or constitute the immediate development of such a project it perhaps constitutes its future consideration
