Tindal,1978 Ideas and suggestions for classroom activities Spaceship Earth in the Environmental Age, 1960-1990 Sabine Höhler,2015-10-06 The idea of the earth as a vessel in space came of age in an era shaped by space travel and the Cold War H hler s study brings together technology science and ecology to explore the way this latter day ark was invoked by politicians environmentalists cultural historians writers of science fiction and many others across three decades Exploring the Unknown: Space and Earth Science ,1995 , You're Aboard Spaceship Earth Patricia Lauber,1996-04-26 The earth is like a spaceship in orbit it has everything on board that we need to survive water food and air with oxygen Unlike a space shuttle Earth is able to renew its resources Read and find out why Earth is the greatest spaceship to be aboard Bibliography of Continental Drift and Plate Tectonics Tina Kasbeer,1973 NASA EP. United States. National Aeronautics and Space Administration,1968 Science Fair Projects About the Atmosphere Robert Gardner,2016-12-15 By doing the simple science projects in this book young scientists will discover if air has weight if one can make a cloud and the reason the sky is blue The experiments use materials found at home or at school Young scientists can take what they ve learned from these experiments and use suggestions to create their own unique science fair projects Detailed explanations explain the science used in each experiment A glossary and full color illustrations complete each title From Bauhaus to Ecohouse Peder Anker,2010 Debates about environmentally sensitive architecture have been ongoing for nearly a century From Bauhaus to Eco House examines key moments of inspiration and exchange between designers and ecologists from the Bauhaus projects of the interwar period to the eco arks of the late 1980s From Bauhaus to Eco House provides new insight into a critical period in the evolution of environmental awareness and design The Politics of Globality since 1945 Rens van Munster,Casper Sylvest,2016-05-12 This timely comprehensive and interdisciplinary volume advances an original argument about the complex roots and multiple politics of globality It shows that technological innovations and decisive developments since 1945 from the nuclear revolution to anthropogenic climate change and debates about the Anthropocene have prompted reflections on the global condition of humanity and helped reshape political communities by making the world appear small manageable and interconnected The contributors stress how human beings have transformed both their habitat and their view of human earth relations since 1945 Such changes have been accompanied by important shifts in political visions prompted new forms of human association encouraged legal and institutional reform and spurred ideas about ecological humility At the same time the spatially all encompassing nature of globality have also informed projects of human mastery and a range of practices historically associated with militarization and a strongly statist conception of national security This volume reflects on these paradoxical relationships their history and contemporary relevance Contributing to the overlapping concerns of four burgeoning fields of study across the humanities and the social sciences globality and globalization studies geopolitics and political geography Anthropocene studies global governance and political theory the book will be of great use to scholars and graduates working in these areas S.G.E.B.

2nd Edition Steve J. Williams, 2009-08-14 The information age has begotten turmoil It seems that the more information we have the less peace the average person has To many as impression has developed that modern science has disproven the existence of the metaphysical realm and doomed us to a sterile pointless wandering in the wilderness of minutiae This couldn't be further from the truth A reasonably skeptical look at modern philosophy science archeology and history point overwhelmingly in a single direction and the truth that it points to is blissful and eternal
