The Malaspina Expedition 1789-1794 / ... / Volume II / Panama to the Philippines Andrew David, Felipe Fernández-Armesto, Glyndwr Williams, 2018-12-07 Among the voyages of exploration and surveying in the late 18th century that of Alejandro Malaspina best represents the high ideals and scientific interests of the Enlightenment Italian born Malaspina entered the Spanish navy in 1774 In September 1788 he and fellow officer Jos Bustamante submitted a plan to the Ministry of Marine for a voyage of survey and inspection to Spanish territories in the Americas and Philippines The expedition was to produce hydrographic charts for the use of Spanish merchantmen and warships and to report on the political economic and defensive state of Spain s overseas possessions The plan was approved and in July 1789 Malaspina and Bustamante sailed from Cádiz in the purpose built corvettes Descubierta and Atrevida On board the vessels were scientists and artists and an array of the latest surveying and astronomical instruments The voyage lasted more than five years On his return Malaspina was promoted Brigadier de la Real Armada and began work on an account of the voyage in seven volumes to dwarf the narratives of his predecessors in the Pacific such as Cook and Bougainville. Among much else it would contain sweeping recommendations for reform in the governance of Spain's overseas empire. But Malaspina became involved in political intrigue. In November 1795 he was arrested, stripped of his rank and sentenced to life imprisonment. Although released in 1803, Malaspina spent the last seven years of his life in obscure retirement in Italy. He never resumed work on the great edition and his journal was not published in Spain until 1885. Only in recent years has a multi-volume edition appeared under the auspices of the Museo Naval Madrid that does justice to the achievements of what for long was a forgotten voyage. This second volume in a series of three contains Malaspina's diario or journal for the first time in English translation and with commentary. It covers the period from 15 December 1790 to 15 November 1792 when he visited the Pacific coasts of Central and North America as far north as Alaska before crossing the ocean to the Philippines. Other texts include the apocryphal voyage of Ferrer Maldonado through the Strait of Anian which led to a major diversion of the Malaspina expedition in 1791.

Terra Pacifica Paul W. Hirt, 1998. Ten widely recognized historians from the United States and Canada present thought-provoking insights about society, culture and change in the great resource-laden Northwest. Essays examine early Spanish exploration of the Northern coast, the long-term relationship of a fragile Canadian union with its powerful southern neighbor, regional novelists and literature, important aspects of black and white immigration, the iconography of nuclear energy and the continuing interaction of the region's many Indian reservations with the dominant society's economic conservation and legal institutions.

Maritime History at the Crossroads Frank Broeze, 2017-10-18. This volume seeks to critically review the contemporary state of maritime historiography as it stands at the volume's publication date of 1995. The volume is comprised of thirteen essays, each focused on the recent research into the maritime concerns of a particular geographical location listed as follows: Australia, Canada, China, Denmark, Germany, Greece, Ibero-America, India, the Netherlands, the Ottoman Empire, Spain, the United States, and a final chapter concerning historians and maritime labour in Britain, Australia, and New Zealand. One concern made evident by the collection is the lack of stable identity and cohesive aims within maritime history; the subject holds many conflicting definitions and concepts. The purpose of this volume is to explore the recent developments in maritime history, plus the growth of scholarly interest, to provide a beacon and stimulus for future work and to clearly direct and define maritime historiography toward a solid position in the field of history.
