Furniture of Spanish New Mexico Alan C. Vedder, 1977 Traditional Spanish New Mexican furniture can best be characterized as simple having straight lines and good honest proportions all of which give these pieces a particular type of dignity As is true of other handmade objects in a given society furniture made in New Mexico mirrored the lives of New Mexicans in the 18th and 19th centuries isolation and a rugged existence The earliest furniture was made for churches and a few rich families Even well into the 19th century the average home was devoid of pieces considered common today chairs tables and beds The author regards the traditional period in Spanish New Mexican furniture to begin about 1776 and extend until almost 1900 The pieces in this book illustrate the important contributions made by the Spanish in the 18th and 19th centuries to this form of the decorative arts

The Spanish Redemption Charles Montgomery, 2002-03-20 Charles Montgomery's compelling narrative traces the history of the upper Rio Grande's modern Spanish heritage showing how Anglos and Hispanos sought to redefine the region's social character by glorifying its Spanish colonial past This readable book demonstrates that northern New Mexico's twentieth century Spanish heritage owes as much to the coming of the Santa Fe Railroad in 1880 as to the first Spanish colonial campaign of 1598 As the railroad brought capital and migrants into the region Anglos posed an unprecedented challenge to Hispano wealth and political power Yet unlike their counterparts in California and Texas the Anglo newcomers could not wholly displace their Spanish speaking rivals Nor could they segregate themselves or the upper Rio Grande from the image well known throughout the Southwest of the disreputable Mexican Instead prominent Anglos and Hispanos found common cause in transcending the region's Mexican character Turning to colonial symbols of the conquistador the Franciscan missionary and the humble Spanish settler they recast northern New Mexico and its people
