Spatializing Literacy Research And Practice:

Spatializing Literacy Research and Practice Kevin M. Leander, Margaret Sheehy, 2004 Current research on literacy often conceives space as a container within which social practice occurs In sharp contrast this edited collection argues that literary practice and social space are produced in relation to one another Contributors to this collection consider how a spacial analysis provides entirely new information for the interpretation of literary practice Traversing geography and literacy studies drawing on Bakhtin Deleuze and Guattari Lefebvre Soja and a range of other theorists contributors analyze space literacy relations in diverse settings including classrooms prisons streets institutional programs homes and the popular media Theory for Education Greg Dimitriadis, George Kamberelis, 2006 Provides a pithy introduction to key contemporary thinkers their lives major works and ideas as they pertain to teaching Literacies, Global and Local Mastin Prinsloo, Mike Baynham, 2008-05-21 The articles collected in this volume draw on or relate to a body of work that has become known as the New Literacy Studies NLS which studies literacy as situated semiotic practices that vary across sites in specific ways that are socially shaped The collection offers a body of empirically and theoretically based papers on literacy ethnography as well as providing engagements with critical issues around literacy and education The articles offer complementary perspectives on research and theory in literacy studies and include research perspectives from Africa Asia Australia Europe as well as North and South America The researchers are all concerned to take the work of the New Literacy Studies further by expanding on its conceptual resources and research sites Negotiating Place and Space through Digital Literacies Damiana G. Pyles, Ryan M. Rish, Julie Warner, 2019-05-01 Digital literacy practices have often been celebrated as means of transcending the constraints of the physical world through the production of new social spaces At the same time literacy researchers and educators are coming to understand all the ways that place matters This volume with contributors from across the globe considers how space place identities and the role of digital literacies create opportunities for individuals and communities to negotiate living being and learning together with and through digital media The chapters in this volume consider how social cultural historical and political literacies are brought to bear on a range of places that traverse the urban rural and suburban exurban with emphasis placed on the ways digital technology is used to create identities and do work within social digital and material worlds This includes agentive work in digital literacies from a variety of identities or subjectivities that disrupt metronormativity urban centrism and other isms on the way to more authentic engagement with their communities and others Featuring instances of research and practice across intersections of differences including but not limited to race class gender sexuality ability and language and places the contributions in this volume demonstrate the ways that digital literacies hold educative potential Interpreter: A Journal of Mormon Scripture, Volume 19 (2016) Daniel C.
