Creativity and Captivity Uday Balasundaram, 2021-12-02 Ultimately what really does it mean to be creative How can we see ourselves as participating in the creativity of God for mission All people are creative Sadly however for many creativity is stifled and remains stunted due to several reasons social economic political cultural and even spiritual This study explores how ICMs indigenous cosmopolitan musicians negotiate their creativity amid the liminal spaces they occupy as they share in the creativity of God for mission through their music But what exactly does it mean to share in the creativity of God for mission Contrary to popular notion ICMs evidence that creativity is not merely innovation it is not a psychological metric for measuring human potential it is certainly not the icing on the cake reserved for a few so called creatives or artists Rather theological creativity is participation in the creatio Dei it is theologically prior to mission As a missiological framework creatio Dei is understood here in terms of creative being creative construction design and creative performance Hopefully this book can help clarify and expand our understanding of what it means to be truly creative and thereby with the help of the Creator put into practice principles of theological creativity as we share in the creativity of God in the world with others

Models of Contextual Theology Stephen B. Bevans, 2002 Stephen B Bevans's Models of Contextual Theology has become a staple in courses on theological method and as a handbook used by missionaries and other Christians concerned with the Christian tradition's understanding of itself in relation to culture First published in 1992 and now in its seventh printing in English with translations underway into Spanish Korean and Indonesian Bevans's book is a judicious examination of what the terms contextual theology and to contextualize mean In the revised and expanded edition Bevans adds a counter cultural model to the five presented in the first edition the translation the anthropological the praxis the synthetic and the transcendental model This means that readers will be introduced to the way in which figures such as Stanley Hauerwas John Milbank Lesslie Newbigin and occasionally Pope John Paul II need to be taken into account The author's revisions also incorporate suggestions made by reviewers to enhance the Bevens, Roger P. Schroeder, Roger Schroeder, 2004-01-01 Mission is handicapped without a sound biblical theology of mission and an understanding of the history of mission leading up to our current context Constants in Context offers both of these elements It is mission theology in historical perspective and or a history of mission that is grounded theologically The authors describe it as a systematic theology with mission at its core and a church history shaped by the constant but always contextual Christian traditions Furthermore it is a constructive contribution to how mission theology needs to be practical and lived out through today's church and in our world Written collaboratively by Roman Catholic writers Stephen Bevens and Roger Schroeder both Missionaries of the Divine Word SVDs It is a particularly insightful in regard to the history and the various streams of Catholic mission but it also addresses and learns from the other traditions of the church In fact one of the book's strengths is its attention to neglected aspects and hidden stories of church and mission history As a result it is gratifying to be inspired by non European mission women in mission and various forgotten or often ignored branches of the church The book is in three sections first there is a framework for cultural contexts and theological constants second an in depth exploration of historical stages and different models for mission and third a presentation of theological frameworks for mission The third section concludes with a case for mission as prophetic dialogue being the most appropriate model for 21st century mission Amazon.com What Is the Mission of the Church?
