The Routledge Handbook of Transregional Studies brings together the various fields within which transregional phenomena are scientifically observed and analysed This handbook presents the theoretical and methodological potential of such studies for the advancement of the conceptualization of global and area bound developments Following three decades of intense debate about globalization and transnationalism it has become clear that border crossing connections and interactions between societies are highly important yet not all extend beyond the borders of nation states or are of truly world wide reach The product of extensive international and interdisciplinary cooperation this handbook is divided into ten sections that introduce the wide variety of topics within transregional studies including Colonialism and Post Colonial Studies Spatial Formats International Organizations Religions and Religious Movements and Transregional Studies and Narratives of Globalization Recognizing that transregional studies asks about the space making and space formatting character of connections as well as the empirical status of such connections under the global condition the volume reaches beyond the typical confines of area and regional studies to consider how areas are transcended and transformed more widely Combining case studies with both theoretical and methodological considerations The Routledge Handbook of Transregional Studies provides the first overview of the currently flourishing field of transregional studies and is the ideal volume for students and scholars of this diverse subject and its related fields The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com>

European Integration and Baltic Sea Region Studies: University-Business Partnership through the Triple Helix Approach Tatjana Muravska, Gunnar Prause, 2012-12-01 East Central Europe and the former Soviet Union Michael Bradshaw, Alison Stenning, 2016-04-15 A comprehensive introduction to the important economic social and political processes and development issues in this increasingly popular area of study Employing a groundbreaking thematic approach the book centres its discussion on the interrelation between contemporary development theories and continuing transition issues in this huge and complex region Language and Area Study Programs in American Universities United States. Department of State. External Research Division, 1962 The Soldier in Russian Politics 1988-1996 Robert V. Barylski, Social Theory and Regional Studies in the Global Age Saïd Amir Arjomand, 2014-05-21 A pioneering approach to social theory that rectifies overreliance on Western historical experience of development and modernization In this pioneering volume leading international scholars argue for the development of a new approach to social theory that draws on regional studies for the conduct of comparative analysis in the global age Social Theory and Regional Studies in the Global Age moves beyond facile generalizations based on the historical experience of modernization in the West by highlighting differences rather than similarities and contrasts rather than commonalities and by examining civilizational processes and culturally specific developmental patterns distinctive of different world regions Essays combine comparative and historical sociology with civilizational analysis and the study of multiple and alternative modernities Different patterns of modernization are compared within the framework of global local compressed communication and interaction that results from globalization The introductory chapter puts the present effort in the context of the seminal work of three generations of comparative sociologists and what follows is a penetrating analysis of modernization and globality opening the way for rectifying the erasure of the historical experience of a very sizeable portion of humankind from the foundation of social theory Language and Area Study Programs in American Universities United States. Department of State. External Research Staff, 1964 The Politics of East European Area Studies Gareth Dale, Katalin Miklossy, Dieter Segert, 2017-09-13 Following the end of the Cold War and European Union enlargement in what sense does Eastern Europe continue to exist as a meaningful geo political concept In addressing this question contributors to this volume Alex Cistelean Robert Bideleux Katalin Mikl ssy and Dieter Segert tease out the implications for an Area Studies approach to the region They examine its contradictory situation within discourses of orientalisation on one hand posited as the underdeveloped pendant to its western neighbours on the other largely Christian by religion and an integral part of a continent that dominated the world They uncover the roots of area studies in the colonial paradigm by which great powers promote the creation of predictive problem solving knowledge that is immediately apprehendable for decision makers helping them to take advantage of a region s resources and strategic position but which tends to homogenise the region s geography and history For critical inquiry they argue the challenge is to delineate transparently the reasons underlying Eastern Europe's construction as an area of study to identify the epistemological interests of motivated organisations such as funding agencies and political bodies and to counter the ongoing orientalism of Western perspectives toward the East This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary Central and Eastern Europe

The Rebirth of Area Studies Zoran Milutinovic, 2019-12-12 Area Studies became increasingly common after World War II as a means of responding to perceived external threats from the Soviet Union and China After the Cold War and in the face of increasingly rapid globalisation it seemed inevitable that Area Studies institutionally and intellectually would slowly degenerate But this has not been the case and there has recently been a resurgence of interest in it as an effective and positive research paradigm Responding to this renewed interest this book brings together an esteemed group of contributors at the cutting edge of the field to consider the state of Area Studies today and its prospects for the future The Rebirth of Area Studies demonstrates that numerous aspects of the research paradigm in fact recommend it as well suited for the present moment and the challenges posed by globalisation both as a means to overcome disciplinary limitations and to increase self-reflexivity Area Studies research is grounded in place-specific knowledge yet by definition it transcends nation as the basic unit of analysis and thus empowers comparative and trans-national approaches This book outlines a new critical Area Studies for the 21st century self-reflexive aware of its limitations and conscious of its origins in geopolitical strategic or ideological considerations and is essential reading for historians geographers and political scientists

Comparative Area Studies Ariel I. Ahram, Patrick Köllner, Rudra Sil, 2018-01-03 In Comparative Area Studies the editors and contributors are motivated by two basic convictions first that intensive regional research remains indispensable to the social sciences and second that this research risks becoming marginalized in the absence of concerted efforts to link it to disciplinary concepts and theories that have relevance beyond a single region

Museums in Central Asia and the Construction of National Narratives Katarzyna Jarosz, 2025-09-01 This book explores the role museums play in shaping the cultural and historical identities of Central Asia Through an analysis of around 50 museums this book offers insights into how these memory machines contribute to contemporary identity formation in Central Asia serving as both cultural guardians and storytellers It traces the development of these institutions from the Russian colonial era to the present examining how they have navigated the region's complex socio-political landscape The book addresses various themes such as the influence of Soviet policies on museum development the relationship between religion and atheism in museum narratives and the renewed interest in pre-Soviet cultural heritage

It also considers how museums utilise historical figures and scientific achievements to craft national stories exploring identity through the dual perspectives of settled and nomadic lifestyles Economic Performance and the Military
