The Nature of Space Milton Santos,2021-07-21 In The Nature of Space pioneering Afro Brazilian geographer Milton Santos attends to globalization writ large and how local and global orders intersect in the construction of space Santos offers a theory of human space based on relationships between time and ontology He argues that when geographers consider the inseparability of time and space they can then transcend fragmented realities and partial truths without trying to theorize their way around them Based on these premises Santos examines the role of space which he defines as indissoluble systems of objects and systems of actions in social processes while providing a geographic contribution to the production of a critical social theory

The Concept of State Jurisdiction in International Space Law Imre Anthony Csabafi,2012-12-06 Dr Csabafi in his clearly and concisely written book sets out to confront the most pressing jurisdictional problems arising from the exploration and use of outer space problems which the authors of the Outer Space Treaty of 27th January 1967 have not attempted to solve He has recognized that in view of the lack of sufficient knowledge of technological capabilities present and anticipated of the utilization of outer space and its political economic and social implications the time is not yet ripe for the elaboration of specific rules to govern most of the highly complex issues in this context Apart from the lack of sufficient knowledge and experience the achievement of a consensus on rules regarding jurisdiction in outer space is further hampered by the strongly divergent interpretations of the fundamental principles of the Outer Space Treaty namely the principle of freedom of outer space for exploration and use and the principle of non appropriation of outer space In various parts of his study Dr Csabafi has on the basis of a thorough study of the preparatory work of the Outer Space Treaty expressed his views on the meaning of these principles

The New Laws of Outer Space Ugo Pagallo,2024-11-14 This book maps out the moral legal and societal issues brought forth by the use of autonomous systems such as AI and smart robots in outer space Humanity is on the brink of a new space era in which projects for permanent human colonies on the Moon and space missions with autonomous AI systems will soon become a reality Principles and provisions of international space law fall increasingly short in tackling this scenario Experts and institutions have recommended improvements to the legal framework such as new international agreements or policies that would not require any amendment to conventional law Most of the time such proposals and recommendations overlook the challenges posed by technology and how autonomous and intelligent systems in outer space require moral and legal standards of their own This book argues that the traditional focus on satellite communications space related services and the appropriability of celestial resources needs to be integrated by new laws of outer space regulating cybersecurity law and environmental law data governance and consumer protection The new laws of outer space will increasingly concern the development of new standards for the behaviour and decision making of AI systems and smart robots with and without humans aboard deep space missions and in next generation colonies What laws shall govern us out there in a new terra incognita This is the question that the book sets out to answer
