

A photograph of a rocket launch at night, set against a dark sky. The rocket is ascending vertically, leaving a large, bright plume of fire and smoke. The launch is taking place from a tropical island, with silhouettes of trees and structures visible in the background. The water in the foreground reflects the bright light from the rocket's engines, creating a shimmering path that leads the eye from the water up to the rocket. The overall mood is dramatic and awe-inspiring.

Exploring Ethnography of Outer Space Jenia

Gorbanenko, David (Jeeva) Jeevendrampillai, Adryon Kozel, 2025-01-31 This book explores new methods and perspectives in the anthropology of outer space For the past ten years scholarship of outer space has grown significantly in the social sciences Now an international community of anthropologists is starting to produce significant contributions to this work This is pushing the conversations around the future of humanity technology and outer space beyond the realm of speculative theory into concrete challenges to established norms within anthropology Each chapter in this volume introduces a unique take on what constitutes an ethnographic field in anthropology They signal a re imagination of the central concept for the discipline and offer a timely meditation on the shift in anthropology's understanding of fieldwork from its inception until now The volume consists of eleven ethnographic chapters plus an introduction by the editors and two invited responses Each of the main body chapters presents a distinct approach to situating outer space empirically on Earth By bringing together emerging and established scholars this book ultimately posits that an anthropological approach to outer space requires creative approaches to ethnography that are no longer exclusively premised on a co presence with the people under study A primer of innovative ethnographies and an ideal companion to courses on methods this volume will provide students with a body of accessible contemporary work on futurisms and outer space In addition this book will serve as a snapshot of a moment in ethnographically innovative anthropology that will be relevant to a wider academic audience through its exegesis of new methods for the study of distributed communities The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives

The Geography of Strabo (Vol.1-3) Strabo, 2023-12-13 Strabo's seminal work The Geography of Strabo Vol 1-3 serves as an invaluable resource for understanding the ancient world through a geographical lens Composed in the first century BCE this encyclopedic text blends meticulous observations with rich historical narrative illustrating the interplay between geography culture and politics across various regions of the known world Strabo's unique literary style characterized by a blend of eloquent prose and vivid descriptions invites readers to explore the landscapes of Greece Rome and beyond while situating them within a broader historical and philosophical context His thoughtful integration of aerial perspectives and regional ethnography establishes this work as a precursor to modern geographical thought and mapping practices Strabo a Hellenistic scholar from Amasya was deeply influenced by his extensive travels throughout the Mediterranean and Near East as well as by the intellectual currents of his time including Platonic and Aristotelian philosophies His multifaceted background as a historian geographer and philosopher deeply informs the analytic rigor and observational depth of his geography Through these volumes Strabo aims to convey not only the physical layouts of places but also their cultural essence and significance to the Roman Empire This indispensable text is highly recommended for scholars and enthusiasts of geography history and classical studies The Geography of Strabo invites readers to engage with the ancient world in a profoundly new way as it elucidates the importance of spatial awareness in understanding human civilizations The work's enduring relevance and Strabo's astute insights promise to enrich any reader's comprehension of both ancient and modern geographical thought

The Subject of Race in American Science Fiction Sharon DeGraw, 2006-12-19 While the connections between science fiction and race have largely been neglected by scholars racial identity is a key element of the subjectivity constructed in American SF In his Mars series Edgar Rice Burroughs primarily supported essentialist constructions of racial identity but also included a few elements of racial egalitarianism Writing in the 1930s George S Schuyler revised Burroughs' normative SF triangle of white author white audience and white protagonist and promoted an individualistic highly variable concept of race instead While both Burroughs and Schuyler wrote SF focusing on racial identity the largely separate genres of science fiction and African American literature prevented the similarities between the two authors from being adequately acknowledged and explored Beginning in the 1960s Samuel R Delany more fully joined SF and African American literature Delany expands on Schuyler's racial constructionist approach to identity including gender and sexuality in addition to race Critically intertwining the genres of SF and African American literature allows a critique of the racism in the science fiction and a more accurate and positive portrayal of the scientific connections in the African American literature Connecting the popular fiction of Burroughs the controversial career of Schuyler and the postmodern texts of Delany illuminates a gradual change from a stable essentialist construction of racial identity at the turn of the century to the variable social construction of poststructuralist subjectivity today

The Determination of Geophysical Parameters From Space N.E Fancey, I Gardiner, R.A Vaughan, 1996-01-01 This volume gives a wide ranging overview of current issues in the acquisition and evaluation of geophysical information from space and from the air and is suitable for postgraduate and postdoctoral students as well as established workers in the field Topics covered include the processing and interpretation of remote sensing data from aircraft and satellites reflection and emission properties of natural surfaces use of remote sensing data for coastal and marine environmental studies pollution monitoring surface temperature measurements and meteorological measurements In addition large parts of the material concerns itself with the various data analysis techniques employed and the accuracy of the results obtained when attempting to make geophysical measurements through the atmosphere Geography (Complete 3 Volumes) Strabo,2022-11-13 Strabo's Geography is a monumental work that spans three volumes offering a comprehensive survey of the known world during the early Roman Empire The text is marked by its meticulous blend of descriptive geography ethnography and historical accounts intricately detailing various regions peoples and cultures Strabo's literary style is both erudite and accessible employing a systematic approach that allows for the juxtaposition of geographical information with philosophical insights Written in a time when exploration and cultural exchange were at their height Geography serves as an essential resource that reflects the interconnectedness of civilizations through Strabo's keen observations As a Greek geographer philosopher and historian born around 64 BCE Strabo was deeply influenced by the geographical and cultural milieu of his time marked by Hellenistic influences and the expansion of Roman power His travels through various regions enhanced his insights paving the way for a systematic representation of the world Strabo's work not only showcases his intellectual curiosity but also underscores the importance of geography as a discipline that shapes human understanding and historical narratives Geography is a vital read for anyone interested in the interplay of geography history and culture in the ancient world Scholars students and casual readers alike will find Strabo's vivid descriptions and analyses enlightening as they enhance our understanding of the ancient civilizations that have shaped the modern world This insightful work invites readers to explore the rich tapestry of human experience across the globe Cosmic Fragments Asif A. Siddiqi,2025-05-20 Looking beyond the well trodden celebratory narratives of space exploration and the powerful nostalgia of lunar landings Cosmic Fragments focuses instead on the moral ambiguities of spaceflight Beyond the fetishization of machines men and manifest destiny and the Cold War tensions of the space race lies a history rife with violence racial inequity colonial ambitions and catastrophe This volume yields new insights on the crucial role of environmental damage Indigenous dispossession population displacements infrastructural entanglements and narratives of decline in space exploration situated within larger questions in the history of science technology and the environment Each chapter explores histories of space travel across nations and regions to better understand the destructive power of infrastructure waste and exploitative legal regimes at the height of the space age Drawing from postcolonial science studies science and technology studies and anthropology contributors suggest that phenomena designed to disenfranchise and dislocate such as the displacement of Indigenous peoples were deeply imbedded in the coloniality of space travel By confronting and challenging problematic early accounts rooted in the cultural mores of settler colonialism Cosmic Fragments offers a fundamental repositioning of the history of spaceflight The Geography of the Ocean Anne-Flore Laloë,2016-04-14 Despite the fact that the vast majority of the earth's surface is made up of oceans there has been surprisingly little work by geographers which critically examines the ocean space and our knowledge and perceptions of it This book employs a broad conceptual and methodological framework to analyse specific events that have contributed to the production of geographical knowledge about the ocean These include but are not limited to Christopher Columbus first transatlantic journey the mapping of nonexistent islands the establishment of transoceanic trade routes the discovery of largescale water movements the HMS Challenger expedition the search for the elusive Terra Australis Incognita the formulation of the theory of continental drift and the mapping of the seabed Using a combination of original empirical archival material and cartographic and theoretical sources this book uniquely brings together fascinating narratives throughout history to produce a representation and mapping of geographical oceanic knowledge It questions how we know what we know about the oceans and how this knowledge is represented and mapped The book then uses this representation and mapping as a way to coherently trace the evolution of oceanic spatial awareness In recent years particularly in historical geography discovering and knowing the ocean space has been a completely separate enterprise from discovering and colonising the lands beyond it There has been such focus on studying colonised lands yet the oceans between them have been neglected This book gives the geographical ocean a voice to be acknowledged as a space where history geography and indeed historical geography took place
