Spanish National Cinema:

Spanish National Cinema Nuria Triana-Toribio, 2012-11-12 This study examines the discourses of nationalism as they intersected or clashed with Spanish film production from its inception to the present While the book addresses the discourses around filmmakers such as Almodóvar and Medem whose work has achieved international recognition Spanish National Cinema is particularly novel in its treatment of a whole range of popular cinema rarely touched on in studies of Spanish cinema Using accounts of films popular film magazines and documents not readily available to an English speaking audience as well as case studies focusing on the key issues of each epoch this volume illuminates the complex and changing relationship between cinema and Spanish national identity

Modes of Representation in Spanish Cinema Jenaro Talens, Santos Zunzunegui Díez, 1998 Isolated by the repressions and censorship of Franco's regime Spanish cinema developed distinctive style and content from the 1930s to the 1970s largely without reference to its international counterparts Through a series of close readings of films made in the Republican period under Franco and more recently under socialism contributors here seek to present a clearer picture of Spanish national cinema

100 Years of Spanish Cinema Tatjana Pavlović, Inmaculada Alvarez, Rosana Blanco-Cano, Anitra Grisales, Alejandra Osorio, Alejandra Sánchez, 2009-02-23 100 Years of Spanish Cinema provides an in depth look at the most important movements films and directors of twentieth century Spain from the silent era to the present day A glossary of film terms provides definitions of essential technical aesthetic and historical terms Features a visual portfolio illustrating key points of many of the films analyzed Includes a clear concise timeline to help students quickly place films and genres in Spain's political economical and historical contexts Discusses over 20 films including Amor Que Mata Un Chien Andalou Viridiana El Verdugo El Crimen de Cuenca and Pepi Luci Born

Spanish Cinema in the Global Context Samuel Amago, 2013-09-11 Across a broad spectrum of media markets and national contexts self reflexivity continues to be a favored narrative mode with wide ranging functions In this book Amago argues that in addition to making visible industry and production concerns within the film text reflexive aesthetics have a cartographic function that serves to map the place of a film geographic and cultural within the global cinematic space and thus to bring into sharper relief images of the national Focusing on films in the contemporary Spanish context that in some way reflect back on themselves and the processes of their own production that purposefully blur the distinction between reality and fiction or that draw attention to the various modes of cinematic exhibition and reception Amago proposes ways in which these movies can be employed to understand Spanish national cinemas today as imbedded within a dynamic global system

Historical Dictionary of Spanish Cinema Alberto Mira, 2010-04-28 Spanish cinema is emerging as one of the most exciting fascinating and special cinemas in the world Not only are others viewing Spanish films but they are adopting Spanish producers and Spanish actors as their own While Spanish cinema has been maturing for a long time and has been producing excellent directors actors and films for decades including during the dark times of the Franco regime only now is it winning numerous fans not only at home but also abroad And with directors like Pedro Almodóvar and actors and actresses like Javier Bardem and Penelope Cruz and films such as Abre los ojos and Alatriste to build upon the outlook for Spanish Cinema appears brighter than ever The Historical Dictionary of Spanish Cinema provides a better understanding of the role Spanish cinema has played in film history through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on producers directors film companies actors and films Featuring Post-National Spain. Film Essays. Andrés Zamora, 2016-05-06 The book explores post Franco Spanish film s tacit or explicit but always resolute essays from 1975 to 2000 to make over Spain s national in fact post national identity The to Z of Spanish Cinema Alberto Mira, Alberto Mira Nouselles, 2010-04-27 Emerging as one of the most exciting fascinating and special kinds of filmmaking in the world Spanish cinema has been producing excellent directors actors and films for decades including during the dark times of the Franco regime With directors Pedro Almodóvar actors and actresses Javier Bardem and Penelope Cruz and films Abre los ojos and Alatriste amassing popularity the outlook for Spanish cinema appears brighter than ever and it is deservedly winning numerous fans abroad Contemporary Spanish cinema and genre Jay Beck, Vicente Rodríguez Ortega, 2021-06-15 This volume is the first English language collection exclusively dedicated to the study of genre in relation to Spanish cinema Providing a variety of critical perspectives the collection gives the reader a thorough account of the relationship between Spanish cinema and genre drawing on case studies of several of the most remarkable Spanish films in recent years The book analyses the significant changes in the aesthetics production and reception of Spanish film from 1990 onwards It brings together European and North American scholars to establish a critical dialogue on the topics under discussion while providing multiple perspectives on the concepts of national cinemas and genre theory In recent years film scholarship has attempted to negotiate the tension between the nationally specific and the internationally ubiquitous discussing how globalisation has influenced film making and surrounding cultural practice These broader social concerns have prompted scholars to emphasise a redefinition of national cinemas beyond strict national boundaries and to pay attention to the transnational character of any national site of film production and reception This collection provides a thorough investigation of contemporary Spanish cinema within a transnational framework by positing cinematic genres as the meeting spaces between a variety of diverse forces that necessarily operate within but also across territorial spaces Paying close attention to the specifics of the Spanish cinematic and social panorama the essays investigate the transnational economic cultural and aesthetic forces at play in shaping Spanish film genres today The Spanish Fantastic Shelagh Rowan-Legg, 2016-09-06 In recent decades the Spanish fantastic has been at the forefront of genre filmmaking Films such as The Day of the Beast the Rec trilogy The Orphanage and Timecrimes have received widespread attention and popularity arguably rescuing Spanish cinema from its semi invisibility during the creativity crushing Franco years By turns daring evocative outrageous and intense this new cinema has given voice to a generation both beholden to and yet breaking away from their historical and cultural roots Beginning in the 1990s films from directors such as Alex de la Iglesia Alejandro Amenabar and Jaume Balaguero reinvigorated Spanish cinema in the horror science fiction and fantasy veins as their work proliferated and took centre stage at international festivals such as Sitges Fantasia International Film Festival and Fantastic Fest Through an examination of key films and filmmakers Shelagh Rowan Legg here investigates the rise of this unique new wave of genre films from Spain and how they have recycled reshaped and renewed the stunning visual tropes wild narratives and imaginative other worlds inherent to an increasingly influential cinematic field Its emergence is part of a new trend of postnational cinema led by the fantastic which approaches the national boundaries of cinema with an exciting sense of fluidity

Feminist Discourse and Spanish Cinema Susan Martin-Márquez, 1999 This work provides a detailed consideration of women directors working before the Civil War and during Franco's dictatorship and an exploration of the impact of feminism on filmmaking in Spain

Casting Masculinity in Spanish Film Mary T. Hartson, 2017-09-13 The rise of consumerism in the twentieth and twenty first centuries radically changed the way we perceive ourselves and the world around us And as it has throughout history the social construct of ideal masculinity both reflects and responds to that lived reality helping individuals adapt Through a close study of Spanish film of the twentieth and twenty first centuries this book investigates hegemonic or dominant masculinity in the wake of dramatic consumer changes that occurred in Spain It explores the ways in which masculine identity as represented in Spanish film positions itself in relation to desire and consumption focusing especially on representations of hegemonic masculinity from the almost 40 year dictatorship of General Francisco Franco through the transition to democracy and into the early 1990s Using psychoanalytic theory as employed primarily by Todd McGowan and Slavoj Žižek this book analyzes cinematic representations of hegemonic masculine models along with those portrayed as less favorable to understand how political social and economic changes in Spain in the twentieth and early twenty first centuries affect the process of masculine identity formation In the shift from a society of prohibition to a society of commanded enjoyment hegemonic masculinity as represented in Spanish film changes dramatically initially organizing itself around prohibition and self renunciation in the early Franco dictatorship and later with neoliberal reforms and mass media promotion of consumerist values starting in the 1950s reorienting itself around desire and enjoyment embodied for example in the sexually promiscuous fashionable young man of the 1970s Personal pleasure and the satisfaction of one's desires replace submission obedience and self abnegation leading to a reconstruction of masculine identities in a social context that appears increasingly fragmented plural and individualistic The primary innovation of this text involves the repositioning of consumerism as a fundamental force in the formation of Spanish masculinity and showing how widely disseminated masculine models serve to accommodate political social and economic demands
