Studies In Arts Architecture:

Studies in Art, Architecture, and Design: Victorian and after Nikolaus Pevsner, 1908 Studies in Art, Architecture and Design Nikolaus Pevsner, 1968 Studies in the Arts and Architecture University of Pennsylvania. Bicentennial Conference, Carl William Blegen, 1941 Architecture as a Performing Art Professor Gray Read, Professor Marcia Feuerstein, 2013-05-28 How do buildings act with people and among people in the performances of life This collection of essays reveals a deep alliance between architecture and the performing arts uncovering its roots in ancient stories and tracing a continuous tradition of thought that emerges in contemporary practice With fresh insight the authors ask how buildings perform with people as partners rather than how they look as formal compositions They focus on actions the door that offers the possibility of making a dramatic entrance the window that frames a scene and the city street that is transformed in carnival The essays also consider the design process as a performance improvised among many players and offer examples of recent practice that integrates theater and dance This collection advances architectural theory history and criticism by proposing the lens of performance as a way to engage the multiple roles that buildings can play without reducing them to functional categories By casting architecture as spatial action rather than as static form these essays open a promising avenue for future investigation For architects the essays propose integrating performance into design through playful explorations that can reveal intense relationships between people and place and among people in place Such practices develop an architectural imagination that intuitively asks How might people play out their stories in this place and How might this place spark new stories Questions such as these reside in the heart of all of the essays presented here Together they open a position in the intersection between everyday life and staged performance to rethink the role of architectural design Perspectives on Research Assessment in Architecture, Music and the Arts Fredrik Nilsson, Halina Dunin-Woyseth, Nel Janssens, 2017-02-03 Research in the creative fields of architecture design music and the arts has experienced dynamic development for over two decades The research in these practice and arts based fields has become increasingly mature but has also led to various discussions on what constitutes doctoral proficiency in these fields The term doctorateness is often used when referring to the assessment of the production of doctoral research and the research competence of research students but in architecture and the arts the concept of doctorateness has not yet attained a clearly articulated definition The assessment of quality has been practiced by way of supervising mentoring and the evaluation of dissertations but much less discussed This book offers perspectives on how to qualify and assess research in architecture music and the arts It creates a broader arena for discussion on doctorateness by establishing a framework for its application to creative fields The book is grouped into three sections and includes contributions from international experts in the various fields working in Australia Belgium Brazil Canada Norway Sweden Switzerland Spain the Netherlands and the UK The first section offers general frameworks for further conceptualising doctorateness in the fields in question It is followed by a section that describes and discusses various experiences concerns and visions on the production and assessment of doctoral research reporting from doctoral programmes in different stages of development The third section includes future oriented perspectives on knowledge building processes and asks how the ongoing profound changes in academia could influence the concept of quality in both doctoral process and product The book presents different perspectives on research assessment practices and developments of relevant criteria in the practice based and creative fields of architecture and the arts The contributions propose ways of framing this issue conceptually show the need for awareness of the specific context and tradition programmes develop and give proposals for various potential trajectories for the future
