P. C. Rodrigues, 2025-07-14 Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare for the Elderly provides valuable insights into how artificial intelligence can transform healthcare through personalized monitoring ethical considerations and real world applications Artificial intelligence has the potential to revolutionize healthcare for the elderly by providing efficient and personalized monitoring and care Though this technology has the potential to revolutionize care there is currently little information on the potential of this technology in elderly healthcare Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare for the Elderly explores AI algorithms that can transform health monitoring for older adults by analyzing data from wearable devices electronic health records and other sources that provide real time data analysis detect early warning signs of diseases and offer personalized treatment This book addresses the critical ethical societal and practical aspects of elderly care that are often overlooked with insights from various disciplines including healthcare technology ethics and sociology to offer a holistic perspective on AI's impact on aging Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare for the Elderly offers an all encompassing perspective on AI technologies employed in elderly healthcare by examining the specific types of technology used and delineating its role in elderly healthcare drawing insights from existing research and case studies

Aging in Hong Kong Jean Woo, 2012-09-06 With the longest life expectancy for men and the second longest for women Hong Kong typifies our planet's aging population The daily lives of its older adults closely match the advantages and disadvantages experienced by urban elders in other developed countries For these reasons Hong Kong's elderly serve as a salient guide to older people's social psychological and healthcare needs concerns of increasing importance as the world grows older Aging in Hong Kong examines this emblematic population as a case study specifically in comparison with their counterparts in the West shedding light on diverse interrelated currents in the aging experience Referencing numerous international studies the book contrasts different health service arrangements and social factors and relates them to a variety of health outcomes Its wide ranging coverage documents health and illness trends reviews age friendly policy initiatives relates health literacy to patients active role in their own care and discusses elders as an underserved group in the division of limited health funding and resources This multiple focus draws readers attention to policies that need revisiting or retooling as chapters analyze major life areas including Living environment Retirement and post retirement employment issues Financial asset management Health literacy regarding aging issues Elder positive service delivery models Ageism in the prioritization of healthcare End of life issues By assembling such a wealth of data on its subject Aging in Hong Kong puts ongoing challenges into clear focus for gerontologists sociologists health and cross cultural psychologists public health policymakers and others involved in improving the quality of elders lives Ageing in the Asia-Pacific Region David R. Phillips, 2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 The Asia Pacific region is now clearly witnessing the rapid ageing of many of its nations and Asia is already the region with relatively the largest number of older persons This book focuses on the challenges that this demographic trend poses to economies and societies in the region and the policies that have evolved to date to meet new demands It looks forward over the coming decades to consider how societies and economies will deal with ageing and the necessary structural and behavioural changes that this will entail The book is organized into two main sections The first introduces the key features demography research and long term care issues of the region and provides region wide context and analysis The second section offers in depth case studies of thirteen countries including China Japan Korea and Indonesia As well as providing a wealth of original research material the book also offers valuable comparative analysis while the larger economies have had to develop policies to maintain their social and economic successes in the face of demographic ageing developing countries must find ways to build their economies around an ageing population With contributors drawn from a range of academic and professional disciplines including many practising social gerontologists this book will be of interest to scholars in economics sociology social policy health policy politics and development studies With its particular emphasis on the future it will also be an essential reference for anybody with a professional interest in policy making in the region

Sustainable Development Goal 3 Ben Y. F. Fong, Vincent T. S. Law, 2021-12-24 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs aim to develop a better and sustainable future for the world and the goals are part of an action plan to address poverty hunger health gender equity and various pressing world issues One of these goals looks at health and wellness Ageing populations have become a crucial issue worldwide and this short monograph explores ageing and how the consequences of an ageing population may affect our healthcare system through a case study on Hong Kong's population The book looks at several critical health issues related to ageing The elderly particularly those with low socio economic status rely more on acute centric care rather than primary care The book suggests that secondary care service may only be effective to a limited extent as a healthcare measure and an optimum healthcare system should be one that focuses on primary care The authors put forth a compelling argument for disease prevention and screening schemes and explain how they are more cost effective and beneficial to society and the system This thoughtful book will provide beneficial insights into the relationship of ageing and Sustainable Development Goals in the context of health and wellness for policymakers and healthcare professionals The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
