BOOK JACKET Environmental Security Peter Hough, 2014-02-03 This student friendly textbook offers a survey of the competing conceptions and applications of the increasingly prominent notion of environmental security The book is divided into three sections In the first the key theoretical and practical arguments for and against bringing together environmental and security issues are set out The book then goes on to present how and why environmental issues have come to be framed in some quarters as national security concerns in the context of the effects of overpopulation resource depletion climate change and the role of the military as both a cause and a solution to problems of pollution and natural disasters Finally the third section explores the case for treating the key issues of environmental change as matters of human security Overall the book will provide a clear systematic and thorough overview of all dimensions of an area of great academic and real world political interest but one that has rarely been set out in an accessible textbook format hitherto This book will be essential reading for students of environmental studies critical and human security global governance development studies and IR in general

International Peacebuilding and Local Resistance Roger Mac Ginty, 2011-05-26 Using the case studies of Afghanistan Iraq Bosnia Lebanon and Northern Ireland this book dissects internationally supported peace interventions Looking at issues of security statebuilding civil society and economic and constitutional reform it proposes using the concept of hybridity to understand the dynamics of societies in transition

A Question of Security Michael Codner, Michael Clarke, 2011-01-30 Britain now faces fundamental choices in organising its armed forces and military strategy more so than at any time since the 1930s This vital new book prepares the ground for a major government review of UK defence and security policy analysing every important facet the review will face from the spending constraints created by the financial crisis to the decisions the country has to take on matters of war peace and terrorism The analysis covers the military equipment Britain should procure the industrial implications of defence procurement decisions the relationship with allies and partners the intelligence sources and not least the moral and ethical dimensions of modern security policy in a globalised but disordered world Written by the foremost independent security and defence experts in the field this book is the result of RUSI's Future Defence Review research initiative A Question of Security sets the core agenda for all wishing to understand the defence and security problems Britain now faces and also for those in government and parliament who have to answer these difficult questions at a generational moment for UK defence policy

Terrorism and Human Rights Magnus Ranstorp, Paul Wilkinson, 2013-09-13 This book reinforces our knowledge and understanding of the problems involved in balancing human rights protection and security concerns considering how these human rights issues have been raised by the various international debates and policy issues which have been created by the continuing global war on terrorism In the shadow of 9 11 the threat of terrorism is an ever increasing global preoccupation Terrorism and

Human Rights discusses the effects of the legal and social aspects of terrorism by examining the relation between security issues and human rights from the angle of international organizations political bodies and different countries Some of the examples covered and which are examined in light of their approach and reaction to terrorism include the European Union the UN Russia and the United States Previously published as a special issue of Terrorism and Political Violence this volume will be useful for all students of security politics and terrorism studies but also for policy makers legislators and law enforcers

Justifying America's Wars Nicholas Kerton-Johnson, 2010-09-13 This book examines the justifications for and practice of war by the US since 1990 and examines four case studies the Gulf War Kosovo Afghanistan and Iraq The author undertakes an examination of presidential speeches and public documents from this period to determine the focal points on which the respective presidents based their rhetoric for war The work then examines the practice of war in the light of these justifications to determine whether changes in justifications correlate with changes in practice In particular the justificatory discourse finds four key themes that emerge in the presidential discourses which are tracked across the case studies and point to the fundamental driving force in US motivations for going to war The four key themes which emerge from the data are international law or norms human rights national interest and egoist morality similar too but wider than exceptionalism This analysis shows that 9 11 resulted in a radical shift away from an international law and human rights focused justificatory discourse to one which was overwhelmingly dominated by egoist morality justifications and national interest This book will be of much interest to students of US foreign policy humanitarian intervention Security Studies and IR theory

Complex Peace Operations and Civil-Military Relations Robert Egnell, 2009-05-13 This book explores the impact of different civil military structures on operational effectiveness in complex peace operations Recent operations in Iraq Afghanistan and Somalia are examples of grand failures to enforce peace and to promote democracy and development through international interventions A missing variable in analyses of these conflicts hitherto has been the nature of the civil military interface and its impact The principal argument of this book is that the civil military interface should ideally be integrated within the interagency arena as well as within the defence ministry Such integration has the potential to provide joint civil military planning and comprehensive approaches to operations It also creates mutual trust and understanding amongst officers and civil servants from different departments agencies and units and thereby a co operative interagency culture For the civil military interface to function effectively within the chain of command during operations a co operative culture of trust is essential Crucially structurally and culturally integrated civil military structures are likely to provide a more balanced view of the functional imperative of the armed forces The results are armed forces fit for whatever purpose the political leadership decides for them including complex peace support operations Empirically the book applies the theoretical framework to a comparative study of US and British patterns of civil military relations their strategic cultures and their operations in Iraq This book will be of much interest to students of peace operations civil military relations humanitarian intervention and security studies IR in general Robert Egnell is a lecturer in War Studies at the Swedish National Defence College and a senior researcher at the Swedish Defence Research Agency He was awarded the 2008 Kenneth N Waltz Dissertation Prize for the best thesis in the field of international security

Traffick Gargi Bhattacharyya, 2005-06-20 This book explores the underbelly of globalisation the illicit networks of money drugs people and arms that make up a multi billion dollar illegal economy This is the dangerous world of trafficking identified by developed countries as the major threat to international order In their eyes it brings unwanted and undocumented people into the hidden crevices of affluent societies guns and drugs are exchanged for access to the global market through the backdoor As a result trafficking is scrutinised vilified outlawed even as free trade is celebrated Gargi Bhattacharyya argues that trafficking is the unacknowledged underside of globalisation The official economy relies on this illegal economy Without it globalisation cannot access cheap labour it cannot reach vulnerable new markets and it cannot finance expansion into the places most ravaged by human suffering Traffick has become the secret basis of global expansion

The British Nuclear Weapons Programme, 1952-2002 Dr Frank Barnaby, Dr Douglas Holdstock, 2004-11-23 The first British nuclear weapon test took place in Australia in October 1952 British nuclear weapons have been a source of controversy ever since In this book scientists doctors researchers and others assess the military value political impact health effects and legality of the programme
