Crowds, Power, and Transformation in Cinema Lesley Brill, 2006 A noted critic brings crowd theory to Film Studies offering a bold new analysis of the pervasive cinematic themes of transformation and power From Intolerance to The Silence of the Lambs motion pictures show crowds and power in complex usually antagonistic relationships Key to understanding this opposition is an intrinsic capability of the cinema transformation Making unprecedented use of Elias Canetti's Crowds and Power Lesley Brill explores crowds power and transformation throughout film history The formation of crowds together with crowd symbols and representations of power create complex unifying structures in two early masterpieces The Battleship Potemkin and Intolerance In Throne of Blood power seekers become increasingly isolated while the crowd of the dead seduces and overwhelms the living The conflict between crowds and power in Citizen Kane takes place both within the protagonist and between him and the people he tries to master North by Northwest Killer of Sheep and The Silence of the Lambs are rich in hunting and predation and show the crowd as a pack transformation true false and failed is the key to both attack and escape Brill's study provides original insights into canonical movies and shows anew the central importance of transformation in film Film theorists critics and historians will value this fresh and intriguing approach to film classics which also has much to say about cinema itself and its unique relationship to mass audiences
