The Last Love Song Tracy Daugherty, 2015-08-25. In The Last Love Song Tracy Daugherty, the critically acclaimed author of Hiding Man, a New Yorker and New York Times Notable book and Just One Catch, and subject of the hit documentary The Center Will Not Hold on Netflix, delves deep into the life of distinguished American author and journalist Joan Didion. In this, the first printed biography published about her life, Joan Didion lived a life in the public and private eye with her late husband, writer John Gregory Dunne, whom she met while the two were working in New York City when Didion was at Vogue and Dunne was writing for Time. They became wildly successful writing partners when they moved to Los Angeles and co-wrote screenplays and adaptations together. Didion is well known for her literary journalistic style in both fiction and non-fiction. Some of her most notable work includes Slouching Towards Bethlehem, Run River, and The Year of Magical Thinking, a National Book Award winner and shortlisted for the Pulitzer Prize. It dealt with the grief surrounding Didion after the loss of her husband and daughter. Daugherty takes readers on a journey back through time, following a young Didion in Sacramento through to her adult life as a writer, interviewing those who know and knew her personally while maintaining a respectful distance from the reclusive literary great. The Last Love Song reads like fiction; lifelong fans and readers learning about Didion for the first time will be enthralled with this impressive tribute.

Love and Hate David Mann, 2013-11-12. Love and hate seem to be the dominant emotions that make the world go round and are a central theme in psychotherapy. Love and Hate seeks to answer some important questions about these all-consuming passions. Many patients seeking psychotherapy feel unlovable or full of rage and hate. What is it that interferes with the capacity to experience love? This book explores the origins of love and hate from infancy and how they develop through the life cycle. It brings together contemporary views about clinical practice on how psychotherapists and analysts work with and think about love and hate in the transference and countertransference and explores how different schools of thought deal with the subject. David Mann, together with an impressive array of international contributors, represents a broad spectrum of psychoanalytic perspectives including Kleinian, Jungian, Independent Group, and Lacanian psychotherapists, psychoanalysts, and analytical psychologists. With emphasis on clinical illustration throughout, the writers show how different psychoanalytic schools think about and clinically work with the experience and passions of love and hate. It will be invaluable to practitioners and students of psychotherapy, psychoanalysis, analytical psychology, and counselling.

Post-Westerns Neil

Campbell, 2020-04-01 During the post World War II period the Western like America's other great film genres appeared to collapse as a result of revisionism and the emergence of new forms. Perhaps however as theorists like Gilles Deleuze suggest it remains simply maintaining its empty frame. Yet this frame is far from empty as Post Westerns shows us rather than collapse the Western instead found a new form through which to scrutinize and question the very assumptions on which the genre was based. Employing the ideas of critics such as Deleuze, Jacques Derrida and Jacques Rancière, Neil Campbell examines the haunted inheritance of the Western in contemporary U.S. culture. His book reveals how close examination of certain postwar films including Bad Day at Black Rock, The Misfits, Lone Star, Easy Rider, Gas Food Lodging, Down in the Valley and No Country for Old Men reconfigures our notions of region and nation, the Western and indeed the West itself. Campbell suggests that post Westerns are in fact ghost Westerns, haunted by the earlier form's devices and styles in ways that at once acknowledge and call into question the West both as such and in its persistent ideological framing of the national identity and values.
