Smart Organizations in Industry 5.0 Sebastian Saniuk, Sandra Grabowska, Anna Adamik, 2024-12-31 The Fourth Industrial Revolution means the widespread digitization of economic processes using more economical and efficient production technologies Orientation towards productivity flexibility and low production costs results in a slow process of dehumanization of industry and focus only on implementing digital technologies of Industry 4.0 A natural consequence of this trend is the concern of workers governments and societies about new challenges and the role of humans in industry and the economy The hope is the emergence of a new industry concept proposed by the European Commission that expands the features of the existing Industry 4.0 concept to include human centric environmental and resilience aspects in smart organizations Industry 5.0 is an excellent alternative to the development of today's digital and dehumanized world and this book presents challenges and priority directions for smart organizations in an environment shaped by the pillars of Industry 5.0 This research volume discusses the development of technologies that support human oriented work systems sustainable production and system resilience in intelligent organizations It presents an educational challenge for universities and vocational schools in preparing employees for intelligent organizations and will be of interest to researchers academics policymakers and students in the fields of organizational studies knowledge management and the digital economy

Smart Organizations and Smart Artifacts Leonardo Caporarello, Beniamino Di Martino, Marcello Martinez, 2014-05-15 This book offers a multidisciplinary strategy for finding new and more effective human computer interaction approaches in particular from a socio technical perspective that facilitate the exploration and exploitation of benefits that information technologies IT offer organizations Though the relationship between IT and organizations is certainly very strong it is also one of the greatest obstacles to securing benefits from their interaction The participation of organizational users in the planning and design stages of IT interfaces is the main area of human computer interaction where a wealth of contributions are positively enriching both the academic and management discussions Thus a new approach for managing this relationship is needed one in which the different stakeholders are suitably taken into account Moreover the outstanding success of the 2 0 phenomenon offers an example of a relevant platform where human computer interaction has been widely developed and exploited Consequently this will influence and already is influencing the way IT and users interact with each other The book is based on a selection of the best papers original double blind peer reviewed contributions from the annual conference of the Italian chapter of the AIS held in Milan Italy in December 2013
