Philosophy in Ancient Rome Charles Vergeer, 2018-12-17 This book describes the philosophy of ancient Rome in an original convincing and at the same time captivating manner Roman philosophy is both a continuation of Greek philosophy and a substantially different way of thinking The predominant examples dealt with in this book are language and time Emphasis is laid upon the interweaving of philosophy and religion The principal figures here are Cicero and the Greek philosopher Plotinus the rise of Christianity is shown against the background of the philosophy of those days The Epistemology of Desire and the Problem of Nihilism Allan Hazlett,2024-07-12 Most people have wondered whether anything really matters some have temporarily thought that nothing really matters and some philosophers have defended the view that nothing really matters However if someone thinks that nothing matters if they are a nihilist about value then it seems that it is irrational for them to care about anything It seems that nihilism about value mandates total indifference This is the problem of nihilism Allan Hazlett addresses in The Epistemology of Desire and the Problem of Nihilism Hazlett argues that the problem of nihilism arises because desire and thus caring is a species of evaluation that admits of irrationality This contradicts the influential Humean view that desire does not admit of irrationality which has a ready solution to the problem of nihilism since desire does not admit of irrationality it cannot be irrational to care about something that you believe does not matter However following G E Anscombe Hazlett argues that desire has the same relationship to goodness as belief has to truth just as truth is the accuracy condition for belief goodness is the accuracy condition for desire This reveals desire as an appropriate target of epistemological inquiry in the same way that belief is an appropriate target of epistemological inquiry Desires can amount to knowledge in the same way that beliefs can amount to knowledge and crucially for the problem of nihilism desire admits of irrationality in the same way that belief admits of irrationality Nevertheless although it is obviously irrational to believe something that you believe is not true Hazlett argues that it is not irrational to desire something you believe is not good despite the fact that goodness is the accuracy condition for desire This provides a solution to the problem of nihilism and shows that nihilism about value can coherently be combined with the anti Humean view that desire is a species of evaluation

The Meanings of Social Life Jeffrey C. Alexander,2003 Presents an approach to how culture works in societies Exposing our everyday myths and narratives in a series of empirical studies that range from Watergate to the Holocaust this work shows how these unseen cultural structures translate into concrete actions and institutions Discover the Real You & Change Your World , Relational and Multimodal Higher Education Nataša Lacković,Alin Olteanu,2023-09-29 This book proposes a relational turn in higher education by conceptualizing knowledge and pedagogy as relational and multimodal analyzed through three dimensions of relationality social technological and environmental The volume draws on interdisciplinary approaches that make a case for integrating these interconnected and distinct dimensions in higher education theory and practice Its novelty lies in combining such a variety of perspectives with Peircean semiotics to explore what it means to learn and live relationally It emphasizes the importance of critical reflection rooted in an environmental understanding of knowledge and digital media This approach integrates materiality place and space in higher education positioning caring critically reflective and imaginative interactions and interpretations as central for knowledge growth The volume features practical case studies of relational pedagogy through dialogues with diverse higher education practitioners which embrace expression and creation through more than one dominant modality of communication and being The book envisions students and educators as relational agents with relational awareness and responsibility aware of their multimodal identities It highlights how a relational multimodal paradigm can serve as a way forward for universities to address global challenges concerning social post digital and environmental futures This innovative book will be of interest to scholars students teachers and policymakers in higher education semiotics and multimodality as well as postdigital sociomaterial and futures studies
