Migrant Labour in South Africa's Mining Economy Alan H. Jeeves, 1985-06-01 In tracing the development of the recruiting system Alan Jeeves shows how a large proportion of the labour supply came to be controlled by private labour companies and recruiting agents who aimed both to exploit the workers and to extract heavy fees from the employing companies The gold industry struggled for years against the internal divisions which created the competition for labour until at last the Chamber of Mines with the support of the state succeeded in driving out the private recruiters and centralizing the system under its control This study of the interests involved in the struggle for control of the black labour supply reveals much about the forces which created and now entrench racial domination in South Africa's industrial economy

The Military Effectiveness of Post-Colonial States Pradeep Barua, 2013-04-15 Current military historiography has a tendency to portray the military effectiveness of non western post colonial states in broad generalized stereotypes This monograph examines the militaries of Nigeria Argentina Egypt and India in times of crisis to challenge these assumptions The book shows that despite having broad similarities each of these states had unique characteristics that impacted their military effectiveness in different ways These key variables included the military institutions maturity and skill
