Staging a Revolution Peter J. Chelkowski, Hamid Dabashi, 2000 The first book to examine this colossal political event through the images that set it in motion With previously unpublished historical sources and essays by Peter Chelkowski and Hamid Dabashi

Liberating Histories Claire Norton, Mark Donnelly, 2018-07-11 Liberating Histories makes an original scholarly contribution to contemporary debates surrounding the cultural and political relevance of historical practices Arguing against the idea that specifically historical readings of the past are necessary or are compelled by the force of past events themselves this book instead focuses on other forms of past talk and how they function in politically empowering ways against social injustices Challenging the authority and constraints of academic history over the past this book explores various forms of past talk including art films activism memory nostalgia and archives Across seven clear chapters Claire Norton and Mark Donnelly show how activists and campaigners have used forms of past talk to unsettle common sense thinking about political and social problems how journalists artists curators filmmakers and performers have referenced the past in their practices of advocacy and how grassroots archivists help to circulate materials that challenge the power of authorised institutional archives to determine what gets to count as a demonstrable feature of the past and whose voices are part of the historical record Written in a lucid accessible manner and combining insightful critical analysis and philosophical argument with clear consideration of how different forms of past talk influence the narration of pasts in a variety of socio political contexts Liberating Histories is essential reading for students and scholars with an interest in historiography and the ethical and political dimensions of the historical discipline

City of Knowledge in Twentieth Century Iran Setrag Manoukian, 2012-03-12 This book presents a cultural history of modern Iran through the perspective of the city Addressing the relationship between history poetry and politics in Iran the author demonstrates that the question of knowledge is crucial to an understanding of the political and existential dimensions of life in Iran today

Martyrdom and Ecstasy Sylwia Surdykowska, 2012-04-25 The book is concerned with one of the most important issues in Persian culture that is to say a broadly conceived idea of sacrifice and martyrdom At present it is contained in the concept of shahadat which arouses much controversy in the Western world today In successive chapters the author discusses the origin and evolution of this concept in Persian culture the process of shaping attitudes conducive to the attainment of readiness for shahadat and the role of this concept in propaganda as well as presenting its modern day interpretation The basic research material was provided by political and religious publications of contemporary Iranian authors including Ali Shari ati Morteza Motahhari Ruhollah Khomeini and Abdolkarim Soroush who have exerted a significant influence on the formation of the Iranian consciousness The book is an interdisciplinary publication The author refers to philology literary studies cultural anthropology social psychology and interestingly to the psychology of emotions in order to explicate the traditional Persian system of upbringing and shaping the readiness for martyrdom and sacrifice The book shows the idea of shahadat as part of the Persian cultural paradigm which due to religious and literary tradition has influenced the shaping of Iranian identity over the centuries and as a result it has affected social and political attitudes of the Iranian people The book is mainly directed to Iranologists Nevertheless it will also be of interest to anthropologists psychologists of culture sociologists and philosophers due to its interdisciplinary character Eternal Iran P. Clawson,M. Rubin,2005-11-26 Exploring continuities and changes this book provides the historical backdrop crucial to understanding how Iranian pride and sense of victimization combine to make its politics contentious and potentially dangerous Children of Paradise Laura Secor,2017-02-07 Deeply moving A first rate highly readable intellectual history The Wall Street Journal The drama that shaped today s Iran from the Revolution to the present day In 1979 seemingly overnight moving at a clip some thirty years faster than the rest of the world Iran became the first revolutionary theocracy in modern times Since then the country has been largely a black box to the West a sinister presence looming over the horizon But inside Iran a breathtaking drama has unfolded since then as religious thinkers political operatives poets journalists and activists have imagined and reimaged what Iran should be They have drawn as deeply on the traditions of the West as of the East and have acted upon their beliefs with urgency and passion frequently staking their lives for them With more than a decade of experience reporting on researching and writing about Iran Laura Secor narrates this unprecedented history as a story of individuals caught up in the slipstream of their time seizing and wielding ideas powerful enough to shift its course as they wrestle with their country s apparatus of violent repression as well as its rich and often tragic history Essential reading at this moment when the fates of our countries have never been more entwined Children of Paradise will stand as a classic of political reporting an indelible portrait of a nation and its people striving for change Senses of Mourning Babak Rahimi,2026-01-06 No detailed description available for Senses of Mourning The American Institute of Iranian Studies Erica Ehrenberg,2025-06-17 The American Institute of Iranian Studies is devoted to fostering research in the field of Iranian studies and promoting scholarly exchange between the United States and Iran This collection of essays addresses the history and development of Iranian studies in the United States and the pivotal role of the Institute in furthering research in the field The purview of the Institute is vast covering Iranology the study of Iranian peoples and cultures both within and across regions of Central and South Asia and the Middle East where various forms of the Persian language are spoken In keeping with the Institute s dedication to facilitating research in Iran the chapters in this volume represent fields of inquiry that have benefited from direct access to materials in the country The essays describe the founding and work of the Institute the emergence of Iranian studies in American universities the Encyclopaedia Iranica early archaeological research in Iran by the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Chicago the birth and development of American museum collections of art from Iran and case histories of areas of Iranian Studies that have been the traditional focus of Institute sponsored research including art history history philology religion and sociology The contributors to this volume are Ahmad Ashraf Shiva Balaghi Medhi Bozorgmehr Elton L Daniel Erica
