The Great Core Curriculum Debate Education As A Mirror Of Culture By:

The Great Core Curriculum Debate James Wilson, Tells us who we are where we live how fast we are growing what languages we speak what religions we practice and more by imagining the whole world is a village of 100 people The Great Core Curriculum Debate ,1979 50 Hours Lynne V. Cheney,1989 Cultivating Inquiry-Driven Learners Clifton Conrad,Laura Dunek,2020-08-04 How can colleges develop learners who pursue innovative ideas that enable them to flourish and contribute in a rapidly changing world Two decades into the twenty first century our nation s colleges and universities no longer embrace a clear and convincing definition of the purpose of a college education Instead most institutions have fallen prey to a default purpose in which college is essentially workforce preparation for jobs that already exist while students are viewed as commodities instead of being educated to flourish throughout their lives But rather than bemoan the diminishing legacy of liberal education this new edition of Cultivating Inquiry Driven Learners argues that the time has come to advance a pioneering purpose of college that guides the undergraduate experience from program requirements to teaching and learning This purpose Clifton Conrad and Laura Dunek write is anchored in the premise that the world in which we live is one in which change environmental cultural economic political is a constant driving force The authors envision a college educated person in the twenty first century as an inquiry driven learner a person equipped with the capabilities to explore and cultivate ideas that will prepare them to successfully navigate constant change capitalize on career opportunities enrich their personal life and contribute to the public good They describe four signature capabilities that students must develop in order to innovate and adapt core qualities of mind critical thinking skills expertise in divergent modes of inquiry and the capacity to express and communicate ideas Guided by this trailblazing vision Conrad and Dunek have thoroughly revised every chapter of the book to reflect current scholarship and emerging trends In an expanded conclusion they provide a cornucopia of ideas for replenishing undergraduate education accompanied by real world examples of innovative programs and practices from colleges and universities across the United States Throughout Cultivating Inquiry Driven Learners challenges stakeholders from across higher learning faculty students staff administrators and policymakers to reflect on the purpose of college embrace innovation and ensure that students are educated to thrive in and contribute to our constantly changing world The Marketplace of Ideas Louis Menand,2010-12-06 Crisp and illuminating well worth reading Wall Street Journal The publication of The Marketplace of Ideas has precipitated a lively debate about the future of the American university system what makes it so hard for colleges to decide which subjects are required Why are so many academics against the concept of interdisciplinary studies From his position at the heart of academe Harvard professor Louis Menand thinks he s found the answer Despite the vast social changes and technological advancements that have revolutionized the society at large general principles of scholarly organization curriculum and philosophy have remained remarkably static Sparking a long overdue debate about the future of American education The Marketplace of Ideas argues that twenty first century professors and students are essentially trying to function in a nineteenth century system and that the resulting conflict threatens to overshadow the basic pursuit of knowledge and truth Women in the Biological Sciences Carol A. Biermann, Louise S. Grinstein, Rose K. Rose, 1997-07-16 Biology textbooks and books on the history of science generally give a limited picture of the roles women have played in the growth and development of the biological sciences mentioning primarily the Nobel laureates This book provides a definitive archival collection of essays on a larger group of women profiling both their work and their lives The volume includes 65 representative women from different countries and eras and from as many branches of biological investigation as possible In addition to biographical information and an evaluation of the woman's career and significance each entry provides a full bibliographic listing of works by and about the subject The volume includes entries on women who have gained recognition through attainment of advanced degrees despite familial and societal pressures innovative research results influence exerted in teaching and guidance of students active participation and leadership in professional societies extensive scholarly publication participation on journal editorial boards extensive field experience and influence on public and political scientific policymaking A woman was considered eligible for inclusion if she met several of these criteria Providing a historical perspective the book is limited to women who were born before 1930 or are deceased The Humanities and the Dynamics of Inclusion since World War II David A.

Hollinger, 2006-04-14 The role played by the humanities in reconciling American diversity a diversity of both ideas and peoples is not always appreciated This volume of essays commissioned by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences examines that role in the half century after World War II when exceptional prosperity and population growth coupled with America's expanded political interaction with the world abroad presented American higher education with unprecedented challenges and opportunities The humanities proved to be the site for important efforts to incorporate groups and doctrines that had once been excluded from the American cultural conversation Edited and introduced by David Hollinger this volume explores the interaction between the humanities and demographic changes in the university including the link between external changes and the rise of new academic specializations in area and other interdisciplinary studies This volume analyzes the evolution of humanities disciplines and institutions examines the conditions and intellectual climate in which they operate and assesses the role and value of the humanities in society Contents John Guillory Who's Afraid of Marcel Proust The Failure of General Education in the American University Roger L Geiger Demography and Curriculum The Humanities in American Higher Education from the 1950s through the 1980s Joan Shelley Rubin The Scholar and the World Academic Humanists and General Readers Martin Jay The Ambivalent Virtues of Mendacity How Europeans Taught Some of Us to Learn to Love the Lies of Politics James T Kloppenberg The Place of Value in a Culture of Facts Truth and Historicism Bruce Kuklick Philosophy and Inclusion in the United States 1929 2001 John T McGreevy Catholics Catholicism and the Humanities 1945 1985 Jonathan Scott Holloway The Black Scholar the Humanities and the Politics of Racial Knowledge Since
