The New Western Scott F. Stoddart, 2016-03-01 American moviegoers have long turned to the Hollywood Western for reassurance in times of crisis During the genre's heyday the films of John Ford Howard Hawks and Henry Hathaway reflected a grand patriotism that resonated with audiences at the end of World War II The tried and true Western was questioned by Ford and George Stevens during the Cold War and in the 1960s directors like Sam Peckinpah and George Roy Hill retooled the genre as a commentary on American ethics during the Vietnam War Between the mid 1970s and early 1990s the Western faded from view until the Gulf War when Kevin Costner's Dances with Wolves 1990 and Clint Eastwood's Unforgiven 1992 brought it back with moral complexities Since 9 11 the Western has seen a resurgence blending its patriotic narrative with criticism of America's place in the global community Exploring such films as True Grit 2010 and Brokeback Mountain 2005 along with television series like Deadwood and Firefly this collection of new essays explores how the Western today captures the dichotomy of our times and remains important to the American psyche

Boom or Bust Sheena B. Stief, Kristen L. Figgins, Rebecca Day Babcock, 2021-04-01 A vast number of studies have documented the economic and geological effects of oil production but the impact of boom and bust cycles on individuals and communities has received less attention Boom or Bust remedies this gap by highlighting the personal experiences of those directly affected in an economy dominated by oil and natural gas production The Permian Basin is one of the largest oil producing regions in the United States People who live there have benefited from explosive growth only to see opportunities vanish with sudden industry downturns In 2016 the National Endowment for the Humanities funded a grant for the study and collection of energy narratives in this economically volatile region Boom or Bust derives from that community initiative and offers a unique contribution to the developing field of energy humanities The oil field industry may seem to be all about numbers but as Boom or Bust demonstrates residents of oil and gas country whether they work in the oil field or not are at the mercy of an ever shifting economy When the price of oil rises companies move in and newcomers flood the area expanding the employment force And as the population booms so does the infrastructure of cities When prices drop though families must make difficult choices whether to stay put or follow the oil to another location With the ensuing declines in population small businesses close their doors and unemployment levels rise Despite the inevitable declines and despite the increase in alternative energy resources many West Texans feel a sense of pride that borders on patriotism Boom or Bust reveals the full complexity of boomtown culture

Re-Entering Old Spaces Aleksandra Nikcevic-Batricevic, 2016-05-11 This book is a product of the XI International Conference on English Language and Literary Studies held in Montenegro in 2014 The old spaces were taken as a metaphorical tool for reintroducing a wide range of established topics with new approaches Space was thus understood as physical mechanical continuous linear as measurable and symbolic as subjective and relational and as aesthetic It was found on maps in architecture on theatre stages in books in hearts in one's identity in time and in theses and theories from the Aristotelian topos to Einstein's construct of space time Therefore the means of travel to these spaces and the forms the journeys take are also multifarious However so are the discursive strategies and their limitations when it comes to presenting the journeys and their destinations The contributors to this volume represent a range of nationalities and present research that either follows in the footsteps of other authors in a literal or secondary literary journey to real geographical places or observes the universal literary and old theoretical issues through new critical lenses Indeed they are often on both roads witnessing how inextricable human efforts are to finding identifying and aestheticising oneself in relation to a particular space Their contributions to this book expose how spaces were created and recreated through writing and symbolical representations in general They also show how the images of these spaces have been changing in consent to the intentions of their visitors and reveal that persistent and obstinate moment in a space that despite or in spite of changing perspectives itself refuses to be changed The book will encourage further contributions to this expanding field in the humanities In their numerous and distinct ways the contributions to this particular book maintain that understanding how spaces are conceived and conceptualised is of pronounced importance in the globalized world in which cultures are gradually losing authenticities while their spaces geographical tourist spiritual literary aesthetic are as reflective of the visitors as they are of the hosts

Historical Dictionary of Westerns in Literature Paul Varner, 2010-09-20 When in 1902 Owen Wister a member of the Eastern blueblood aristocracy and friend of novelist Henry James became a best selling novelist with the publication of The Virginian few readers would have guessed that a new kind of American literature was being born While Owen Wister was enjoying his success Edwin S Porter in New Jersey was filming the first cinema Western The Great Train

Robbery which would usher in a new era both of movies in general and of Western movies in particular Both events would lead to a century of cultural fascination with stories of the old West The Historical Dictionary of Westerns in Literature tells the story of the Western through a chronology a bibliography an introductory essay and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on authors such as Owen Wister Zane Grey Max Brand Clarence Mulford Ernest Haycox Luke Short Dorothy Johnson Louis L Amour and Cormac McCarthy Commie Cowboys Ryan W. McMaken, 2014-04-28 The Western genre has long been associated with right wing and libertarian politics and is said to promote individualism and free market economics In a new look at the Western however Ryan McMaken shows that the Western is in fact often anti capitalist and in many ways the genre attacks the dominant ideology of nineteenth century America classical liberalism The classical Westerns of the mid twentieth century often feature wealthy capitalist villains who oppress the cowardly and defenseless shopkeepers and farmers of the frontier The gunfighter a representative of the law and order provided by the nation state intervenes to provide safety and justice In addition to attacks on capitalism the Western attacks other prized values of the bourgeois middle classes including Christianity education and urbanization McMaken examines these themes as used in the films of John Ford Anthony Mann and Howard Hawks These pioneers of the classical Westerns are then contrasted with later innovators such as Sergio Leone Sam Peckinpah and Clint Eastwood Also included are discussions of the role of the LITTLE HOUSE ON THE PRAIRIE series Victorian literature and the nature of crime on the historical frontier With a foreword by Paul A Cantor author of GILLIGAN UNBOUND and THE INVISIBLE HAND IN POPULAR CULTURE Westerns Janet Walker, 2013-11-26 The cowboys and Indians sheriffs and outlaws schoolmarmes and barkeeps of Western films have wholly transformed our ideas about the reality of the American frontier Westerns is the first book to consider seriously the historical meanings and functions of the Western film genre In Westerns leading scholars unpack the ways in which the form has embellished mythologized and erased past events Contributors explore the mythic Wild West envisioned by Buffalo Bill Cody the revisionist aims of recent westerns like Posse Lone Star and Dead Man and how the genre addresses key issues of biography authenticity race and representation Included is an introduction by Janet Walker Best Mounted Police Stories Dick Harrison, 1978 22 stories about the Canadian Mountie
