This book is primed to demystify the emerging and evolving trend of embodied systems. It explains how these unique systems facilitate establishing smarter environments such as multi specialty hospitals, manufacturing floors, warehouses, retail stores, defense zones, eating joints, entertainment plazas etc in detail for the benefit of our esteemed readers. To get a complete and actionable understanding of any mission critical environment we must deploy embodied systems. These systems such as robots, drones etc are physical entities that are embedded and empowered with software systems. They interact with the environment in real time providing context aware services. There are chapters exclusively delineating the technologies behind the realization and deployment of such enigmatic systems. The prominent industrial use cases are explained in the latter chapters.

Ambient Networks Norbert Niebert, Andreas Schieder, Jens Zander, Robert Hancock, 2007-04-30. Ambient Networks defines a new kind of network architecture which embeds support for co operation and competition between diverse network types within a common control layer. This unified networking concept can adapt to the heterogeneous environments of different radio technologies and service and network environments. Special focus is placed on facilitating both competition and co operation of various market players by defining interfaces which allow the instant negotiation of cooperation agreements. The Ambient Networking concept has been developed in the framework of the Ambient Networks project which is co sponsored by the European Union under the Information Society Technology IST priority of the 6th Framework Programme. The Ambient Networks project mobilised the work of researchers from over forty different organisations both major industrial corporations and leading academic institutions from Europe and worldwide. This book offers a complete and detailed overview of the Ambient Networking concept and its core technologies. The authors explain the problems with current mobile IP networks and the need for a new mobility aware IP based control architecture before presenting the Ambient Networking concept itself and the business opportunities that it offers. The architecture, components, features and challenges of Ambient Networking are covered in depth with comprehensive discussions of multi radio access, generic Ambient Network signalling, mobility support, context and network management and built in media delivery overlay control. Ambient Networks: Co operative Mobile Networking for the Wireless World. Explains the need for Ambient Networking, discussing the limitations of today's proposed architectures and explaining the business potential of edge networks and network co operation. Describes Ambient Networking technology in detail and addresses the technical challenges for implementation. Includes practical user scenarios which are fully analysed and assessed through simulation studies. Including a complete examination of the research and technologies arising from the Ambient Networks concept. Ambient Networks will be invaluable for research and development teams in networking and communications technology as well as advanced students in electrical engineering and computer science faculties. Standardisation specialists, research departments and telecommunications analysts will also find this a helpful resource.

Design and Nature VI S. Hernandez, C. A. Brebbia, 2012. Throughout history many leading thinkers have been inspired by the parallels between nature and human design in mathematics engineering and other areas Today the huge increase in biological knowledge developments in design engineering systems together with the growth in computer power and developments in simulation modelling have all made possible more comprehensive studies of nature Conference topics include the following Mechanics in nature Nature and architecture Natural materials and processes Solutions from nature Biomimetics and bio inspiration Biocapacity Education in design and nature Competition in nature Biological engineering Constructional theory Locomotion in nature Gravitational biology Self sustaining environments It is these developments which have prompted the reconvening of this international conference on Design and Nature It is intended that the meeting will bring together researchers from around the world working on a variety of studies involving nature and their significance for modern scientific thought and design

In the Bubble John Thackara, 2006-02-17 How to design a world in which we rely less on stuff and more on people We re filling up the world with technology and devices but we ve lost sight of an important question What is this stuff for What value does it add to our lives So asks author John Thackara in his new book In the Bubble Designing for a Complex World These are tough questions for the pushers of technology to answer Our economic system is centered on technology so it would be no small matter if tech ceased to be an end in itself in our daily lives Technology is not going to go away but the time to discuss the end it will serve is before we deploy it not after We need to ask what purpose will be served by the broadband communications smart materials wearable computing and connected appliances that we re unleashing upon the world We need to ask what impact all this stuff will have on our daily lives Who will look after it and how In the Bubble is about a world based less on stuff and more on people Thackara describes a transformation that is taking place now not in a remote science fiction future it s not about as he puts it the schlock of the new but about radical innovation already emerging in daily life We are regaining respect for what people can do that technology can t In the Bubble describes services designed to help people carry out daily activities in new ways Many of these services involve technology ranging from body implants to wide bodied jets But objects and systems play a supporting role in a people centered world The design focus is on services not things And new principles above all lightness inform the way these services are designed and used At the heart of In the Bubble is a belief informed by a wealth of real world examples that ethics and responsibility can inform design decisions without impeding social and technical innovation
