years when he comes under the burden of life However I couldn't stay a child I had to face the pain and difficulties of life As I got older my fear of the future increased and the people around me decreased As I saw the bitter side of life and people's relationships based solely on materiality I began to deeply question why people live and what they aim for in life Did people live to love or to dominate each other When I saw that there was all kinds of material competition between people I began to think that people had put their love for humanity aside Like every child when I was young that is young enough to be considered a child I was not very emotional However as I got older as I took part in life as life took away more and more from me I became more emotional and the human factor began to become more important to me

BOOK JACKET      The Life Story, Domains of Identity, and Personality Development in Emerging Adulthood* Michael W. Pratt, M. Kyle Matsuba, 2018

The Life Story Domains of Identity and Personality Development in Emerging Adulthood focuses on individuals' formulations of the unique episodes and events of their lives that give one meaning and a sense of personal identity. This book brings the growing research on narrative study and the life story into focus by drawing from the existing research on personality development during emerging adulthood. In this book, authors Michael W. Pratt and M. Kyle Matsuba present a series of chapters exploring how one's life story manifests across the many components of their developing identity, including their religion, morality, vocation, society, and the relationships they have with their parents, peers, and romantic partners. Taking their cue from Erik Erikson's model of adolescent and adult development, the authors show readers exactly how a life story approach can illuminate the distinctive features of an individual's personality and development during this formative phase of life. Organized around a set of life contexts where personality is manifested, i.e., adjustment, personal ideology, close relationships, occupation, and civic life, this book draws on the authors' own longitudinal research on the development of the life story in emerging adulthood. Throughout the book, they incorporate fascinating case studies and historical examples, e.g., Darwin, Pope Francis, Martin Luther King Jr., Jane Fonda, of individuals' unique development during this period of life in order to better illustrate the application of this approach to understanding the whole person in context.
