St Peters Street Northampton Excavations 19731976:

St Peter's Street, Northampton John H. Williams,1979 Excavations at Dryslwyn Castle 1980-1995 Chris Caple,2017-12-02 Excavations at Dryslwyn between 1980 and 1995 uncovered a masonry castle founded in the late 1220s by Rhys Gryg for his son Maredudd ap Rhys the first Lord of Dryslwyn The first castle was a simple round tower and polygonal walled enclosure within which were constructed a kitchen prison and wood framed clay floored great chamber beside a great hall In the mid 13th century a second ward was added and the great chamber rebuilt in stone This castle was greatly expanded in the period 1283 87 by Rhys ap Maredudd the second and final Lord of Dryslwyn who built an Outer Ward and gatehouse He also rebuilt much of the Inner Ward adding an extra storey to the great hall and great chamber apartments and a chapel At the end of the 13th century a large three ward castle stretched along the eastern and southern edge of the hill while the rest of the hilltop was occupied by a settlement defended by a wall and substantial ditch with access through a gatehouse This castle and its associated settlement were besieged and captured in 1287 by an English royal army of over 11 000 men following damage inflicted by a trebuchet and mining of the walls Throughout the 14th century the English Crown garrisoned and repaired the castle supervised by an appointed constable before it was surrendered to Owain Glyn Dwr in 1403 During the early to mid 15th century the castle was deliberately walled up to deny its use to a potential enemy and it was subsequently looted and demolished By the late 13th century the castle had a white rendered and lime washed appearance creating a very dramatic and highly visible symbol of lordship Internally the lord s and guest apartments had decorative wall paintings and glazed windows Evidence from charred beams still in situ the sizes shapes and distribution of nails sheet lead slates and postholes recovered during excavation has enabled some of the wooden as well as masonry buildings to be reconstructed Waterlogged deposits had preserved a rich assemblage of seeds birds fish and animal bone which reveal evidence of the dining habits of Welsh lords their guests and household Of particular interest are the finds associated with the siege of 1287 which include a knop headed mace spearheads and armour piercing arrowheads which indicates that the longbow was the weapon of choice Damage and repairs to the castle walls correlate with historic accounts while three stone balls recovered by the excavation were undoubtedly thrown by the trebuchet recorded in contemporary accounts Living Opposite to the Hospital of St John: Excavations in Medieval Northampton 2014 Jim

Brown,2021-06-10 This volume presents the results of archaeological investigations undertaken at a building site in Northampton in 2014 The location was of interest as it lay opposite the former medieval hospital of St John which influenced the development of this area of the town Excavations in the Medieval Burgh of Perth, 1979-1981 Philip Holdsworth,1987 Excavations finds and environmental remains and historical and geological background The Hirsell Excavations Rosemary Cramp,2017-12-02 Excavations and surveys adjacent to Hirsell House Coldstream have revealed a remarkably detailed history of a proprietary church and its cemetery for a period when the parochial structure in Scotland was in course of development and when very little is known about the fate of estate churches after they were donated to support the newly founded monasteries of the 12th century The church is set in a landscape with evidence for settlement from the Neolithic to the establishment of Hirsle House the seat of the Earl of Home Here in an estate the boundaries of which has changed very little since the Middle Ages a small unicellular drystone structure developed into a well built Romanesque church with a rare example of its bell founding structure intact The subsequent history when the church was burnt robbed of stone and used for domestic purposes then finally destroyed and covered over in the late Middle Ages is graphically illustrated by the wealth of artefacts from the site There are traces of other medieval buildings to the north of the site and the cemetery one of the largest rural cemeteries in Scotland provides an interesting range of burial modes as well as together with the environmental evidence from the site an insight into the community which the church and cemetery served

Excavations at Hulton Abbey, Staffordshire 1987-1994 William D. Klemperer, 2017-12-02 Hulton Abbey was a minor Cistercian monastery in north Staffordshire England founded in 1219 and finally dissolved in 1538 This is the final report on the archaeological excavations undertaken there between 1987 and 1994 In particular the chapter house was uncovered and reassessed and the eastern part of the church and north aisle were completely excavated together with the eastern half of the nave The excavations are described by area and chronological phase with detailed specialist reports including architectural stonework and decorated floor tiles An extensive programme of sampling and analysis of pollen remains from burials was also completed The remains of 91 individuals mainly men but also women and children are reported on in detail with sections on abnormalities and pathology as well as medieval burial goods such as a wax chalice and wooden wands Comparisons with other published monastic sites in the region help to place Hulton into a wider context An important element of the project was education and community involvement and today the site lies in a small urban park in Stoke on Trent

The Anglo-Saxon Cemetery at Empingham II, Rutland Jane R. Timby, 1996-12-01 Report on the rescue excavations of an Anglo Saxon cemetery discovered during 1974 5 Full catalogue of some 150 graves mostly of the sixth century AD and of the jewellery weapons and other objects found with them Fully illustrated catalogue of the finds and a discussion of them and their significance Numerous specialist reports

Towns in Decline, AD100-1600 Terry Slater, 2017-07-05 Many European towns have experienced loss of population degradation of physical structure and profound economic change at least once since the height of the Roman Empire This volume is an examination of the various causes of these changes the results which flowed from them and the reasons why some urban centres survived revived and eventually flourished again while others failed and died The contributors bring to bear the techniques of history and archaeology the perspectives of economics agronomy medicine architecture and planning geography and law to the study The result is a synthesis which connects the Decline of the Roman Empire to the effects of the Black Death and the economic transformation of Renaissance Florence

modern successor to L F Salzman's English Industries in the Middle Ages 1913 The approach to each industry is by material discussing its acquisition working and sale as a finished product Only industries that resulted in the production of consumer goods and where substantial numbers of artefacts survive from the Middle Ages are dealt with fishing and brewing are therefore omitted the text is illustrated by pictures of surviving objects and contemporary representations of medieval work
