The Green Capitalists John Elkington, Tom Burke, 1987 Environment Conscious Manufacturing Surendra M. Gupta, A.J.D. (Fred) Lambert, 2007-12-19 Hotter temperatures less arctic ice loss of habitat every other day it seems global warming and environmental issues make headlines Consumer driven environmental awareness combined with stricter recycling regulations have put the pressure on companies to produce and dispose of products in an environmentally responsible manner Redefining industry Product Design for the Environment Fabio Giudice, Guido La Rosa, Antonino Risitano, 2006-01-13 In recent years the increased awareness of environmental issues has led to the development of new approaches to product design known as Design for Environment and Life Cycle Design Although still considered emerging and in some cases radical their principles will become by necessity the wave of the future in design A thorough exploration of t Thinking Ecologically Marian Chertow, 1997-01-01 Twenty five years ago the Cuyahoga River in Ohio was so contaminated that it caught fire air pollution in some cities was thick enough to taste and environmental laws focused on the obvious enemy large American factories with belching smokestacks and pipes gushing wastes Federal legislation has succeeded in providing cleaner air and water but we now confront a different set of environmental problems less visible and more subtle This important book offers thought provoking ideas on how America can respond to changing public health and ecological risks and create sound environmental policy for the future The innovative thinkers of the Next Generation Project of the Yale Center for Environmental Law and Policy experts from business government nongovernmental organizations and academia propose reforms that balance environmental efforts with other public needs and issues They call for new foundations for environmental law and policy adoption of a more diverse set of policy tools and strategies economic incentives ecolabels and new connections between critical sectors agriculture energy transportation service providers and environmental policy Future progress must involve not only officials from the U S Environmental Protection Agency and state environmental protection departments say the authors but also decision makers as diverse as mayors farmers energy company executives and delivery route planners To be effective next generation policy making will view environmental challenges comprehensively connect academic theory with practical policy and bridge the gaps that have caused recent policy debates to break down in rancor This book begins the process of accomplishing these challenging goals

Bioregionalism and Global Ethics Richard Evanoff, 2010-09-13 While a number of schools of environmental thought including social ecology ecofeminism ecological Marxism ecoanarchism and bioregionalism have attempted to link social issues to a concern for the environment environmental ethics as an academic discipline has tended to focus more narrowly on ethics related either to changes in personal values or behavior or to the various ways in which nature might be valued What is lacking is a framework in which individual social and environmental concerns can be looked at not in isolation from each other but rather in terms of their interrelationships In this book Evanoff aims to develop just such a philosophical framework

one in which ethical questions related to interactions between self society and nature can be discussed across disciplines and from a variety of different perspectives The central problem his study investigates is the extent to which a dichotomized view of the relationship between nature and culture perpetuated in ongoing debates over anthropocentric vs ecocentric approaches to environmental ethics might be overcome through the adoption of a transactional perspective which offers a more dynamic and coevolutionary understanding of how humans interact with their natural environments Unlike anthropocentric approaches to environmental ethics which often privilege human concerns over ecological preservation and some ecocentric approaches which place more emphasis on preserving natural environments than on meeting human needs a transactional approach attempts to create more symbiotic and less conflictual modes of interaction between human cultures and natural environments which allow for the flourishing of both
