Sky War:

War 4.0 Deane-Peter Baker, Mark Hilborne, 2025-05-01 This volume explores the impact of technology and new domains on future warfare. It identifies several themes and highlights the increasing complexity of the security environment and the uncertainty of future war. The sense of time and speed has been and is being compressed by developments in quantum technologies, the cyber domain, artificial intelligence, the increased capabilities of sensors and data collection, as well as new propulsion technologies such as hypersonic designs. Concepts regarding the shape and extent of the battlefield are challenged by the notion of hybrid war and sub threshold tactics, as well as new domains in which competition is increasing such as space. Further challenging the shape of the battlefield is the increased development of remote and autonomous warfare. Commercial developments will affect how military production is owned and managed and how military forces are composed. Thus a confluence of new technologies exists combining to create the potential of fundamental transformation at many levels. This wave of technological change has been called the Fourth Industrial Revolution 4IR, characterised by an exponential rather than a linear rate of change generated by convergence and complementarity of emerging technology domains. These may not affect the fundamental Clausewitzian nature of war but they will likely affect its character. From a military perspective, the key will be the impact on the speed of operations and on the shape of the operational domain, the factors of time and space. The combination of these shifts will increasingly affect the perception of states and the degree of certainty in approaching and engaging in conflict.

The Anthropology of War Jonathan Haas, 1990-07-12 The book brings together a group of authors who are addressing the nature and causes of warfare in simpler tribal societies. The authors represent a range of different opinions about why humans engage in warfare, why wars start, and the role of war in human evolution. Warfare in cultures from several different world areas is considered, ranging over the Amazon, the Caribbean, the Andes, the Southwestern United States, Southeast Asia, Polynesia, and Malaysia. To explain the origins and maintenance of war in tribal societies, different authors appeal to a broad spectrum of demographic, environmental, historical, and biological variables. Competing explanatory models of warfare are presented head to head with overlapping bodies of data offered in support of each.

Adventures of Blackshirt Bruce Graeme, 1929 The End of the Day Claire North, 2024-09-24 A novel about life and death and a quest for moral purpose by the acclaimed author of word of mouth bestseller The First Fifteen Lives of Harry August. Sooner or later Death visits everyone. Before that, they meet Charlie, the Harbinger. Sometimes he comes as a courtesy, sometimes as a warning. Either way, this will be the most important meeting of your life. But who will come for Charlie? Wholly original and hauntingly beautiful. Kirkus Reviews: Funny, ambitious, immensely humane, and full of philosophical panache. Sunday Times: A fascinating exploration of what makes us human and a riveting journey through life and death. The Bookbag: Reaffirms the passion and ambition that have made North such a consistently intriguing writer. Locus

Last Citadel David L. Robbins, 2007-12-18 One nation taking a desperate gamble of war Another fighting for survival Two armies locked in a bloody cataclysm that will decide history David L. Robbins has won widespread acclaim for his powerful and splendidly researched novels of World War II Now he casts his brilliant vision on one of the most terrifying and most crucial battles of the war the Battle of Kursk Hitler's desperate gamble to defeat Russia in the final German offensive on the eastern front Last Citadel Spring 1943 In the west Germany strengthens its choke hold on France To the south an Allied invasion looms imminent But the greatest threat to Hitler's dream of a Thousand Year Reich lies east where his forces are pitted in a death match with a Russian enemy willing to pay any price to defend the motherland Hitler rolls the dice hurling his best SS forces and his fearsome new weapon the Mark VI Tiger tank in a last ditch summer offensive code named Citadel The Red Army around Kursk is a sprawling array of infantry armor fighter planes and bombers Among them is an intrepid group of women flying antiquated biplanes they swoop over the Germans in the dark earning their nickname Night Witches On the ground Private Dimitri Berko gallops his tank the Red Army's lithe little T 34 like a Cossack steed In the turret above Dimitri rides his son Valya a Communist sergeant who issues his father orders while the war widens the gulf between them In the skies Dimitri's daughter Katya flies with the Night Witches until she joins a ferocious band of partisans in the forests around Kursk Like Russia itself the Berko family is suffering the fury and devastation of history's most titanic tank battle while fighting to preserve what is sacred their land their lives and each other as Hitler flings against them his most potent armed force Inexorable and devastating a company of Mark VI Tiger tanks is commanded by one extraordinary SS officer a Spaniard known as la Daga the Dagger He'd suffered a terrible wound at the hands of the Russians now he has returned with a cold fury to exact his revenge And above it all one quiet man makes his own plan to bring Citadel crashing down and reshape the fate of the world A remarkable story of men and arms loyalty and betrayal Last Citadel propels us into the claustrophobic confines of a tank in combat into the tension of guerrilla tactics and across the smoking charnel of one of history's greatest battlefields Panoramic authentic and unforgettable it reverberates long after the last cannon sounds

Mission Unaccomplished Alan Nadel, 2025 Throughout his career prominent film scholar Alan Nadel has explored the idea of cultural narratives and how every social unit sees and explains the world through the stories we tell In this book he identifies how the war film genre has changed in the 21st century after 9 11 and more specifically Bush's announcement of Mission Accomplished He explains how the traditional war film narrative in which soldiers have a specific mission or objective to achieve in battle changed to one in which war is treated as a daily occupation with no larger mission that will lead even in the long run to peace He examines how films such as Saving Private Ryan at the end of the 20th century have morphed into films such as Jarhead The Hurt Locker and The Green Zone With the indefinite and ill planned occupation of Afghanistan and Iraq including the privatization of many military services through contractors this new situation has led to films in which we follow soldiers day to day lives as they go through their duties or even after they ve come home as in American Sniper Another change in war films during the Global War on Terror puts the emphasis on just surviving and getting out such as in Hacksaw Ridge which even carries over to films about for example WWII such as Dunkirk Again combatants have no specific goal other than escaping or helping others to escape or just surviving long enough to go home Nadel shows how this change has also affected non war films such as Sully Captain Phillips Deepwater Horizon and Get Out and even the television series Lost Nadel deftly moves between political history and film analysis with this wide ranging lucid examination of the changing nature and role of war films Long Live
