Slash And Burn Agriculture The Search For Alternatives:

Slash-and-burn Agriculture Cheryl Ann Palm, 2005 The Alternatives to Slash and Burn ASB consortium was formed in 1992 by a group of concerned national and international research institutions to address the global and local issues associated with this form of agriculture With contributions from scientists economists ecologists and anthropologists this book synthesizes the first decade of ASB's work It assesses the environmental economic and social impact of deforestation and the needs of small scale farmers who rely on slash and burn agriculture for their livelihood Properties and Management of Soils in the Tropics Pedro A. Sanchez, 2019-01-10 The long awaited second edition of this classic textbook expands on the first edition to include advances made in the last four decades bringing the topic completely up to date The book addresses critical issues such as whether humanity can feed itself and whether it can do so in environmentally sound and sustainable ways Written from agronomic environmental and ecological standpoints the textbook employs a multidisciplinary approach including policymaking and plant genetic improvements as well as ecosystem services climate change biodiversity sustainability and resilience New chapters in this second edition focus on organic carbon in soil soil biology soils in relation to livestock production and forestry and agroforestry The new edition will again be the go to textbook for courses on tropical soils and a reference textbook for soil and agricultural scientists and development professionals working in the tropics Methods for Measuring Greenhouse Gas Balances and Evaluating Mitigation Options in Smallholder Agriculture Todd S. Rosenstock, Mariana C. Rufino, Klaus Butterbach-Bahl, Lini Wollenberg, Meryl Richards, 2016-08-23 This book provides standards and guidelines for quantifying greenhouse gas emissions and removals in smallholder agricultural systems and comparing options for climate change mitigation based on emission reductions and livelihood trade offs Globally agriculture is directly responsible for about 11% of annual greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions and induces an additional 17% through land use change mostly in developing countries Farms in the developing countries of sub Saharan Africa and Asia are predominately managed by smallholders with 80% of land holdings smaller than ten hectares However little to no information exists on greenhouse gas emissions and mitigation potentials in smallholder agriculture Greenhouse gas measurements in agriculture are expensive time consuming and error prone challenges only exacerbated by the heterogeneity of smallholder systems and landscapes Concerns over methodological rigor measurement costs and the diversity of approaches coupled with the demand for robust information suggest it is germane for the scientific community to establish standards of measurements for quantifying GHG emissions from smallholder agriculture Standard guidelines for use by scientists development organizations will help generate reliable data on emissions baselines and allow rigorous comparisons of mitigation options The guidelines described in this book developed by the CGIAR Research Program on Climate Change Agriculture and Food Security CCAFS and partners are intended to inform anyone conducting field measurements of agricultural greenhouse gas sources and sinks especially to develop IPCC Tier 2 emission factors or to compare mitigation options in smallholder systems

Shifting Cultivation and Environmental Change Malcolm F.

Cairns, 2015-01-09 Shifting cultivation is one of the oldest forms of subsistence agriculture and is still practised by millions of poor people in the tropics Typically it involves clearing land often forest for the growing of crops for a few years and then moving on to new sites leaving the earlier ground fallow to regain its soil fertility This book brings together the best of science and farmer experimentation vividly illustrating the enormous diversity of shifting cultivation systems as well as the power of human ingenuity Some critics have tended to disparage shifting cultivation sometimes called swidden cultivation or slash and burn agriculture as unsustainable due to its supposed role in deforestation and land degradation However the book shows that such indigenous practices as they have evolved over time can be highly adaptive to land and ecology In contrast scientific agricultural solutions imposed from outside can be far more damaging to the environment and local communities The book focuses on successful agricultural strategies of upland farmers particularly in south and south east Asia and presents over 50 contributions by scholars from around the world and from various disciplines including agricultural economics ecology and anthropology It is a sequel to the much praised Voices from the Forest Integrating Indigenous Knowledge into Sustainable Upland Farming RFF Press 2007 but all chapters are completely new and there is a greater emphasis on the contemporary challenges of climate change and biodiversity conservation

Routledge Handbook of the Environment in Southeast Asia Philip Hirsch, 2016-09-13 The environment is one of the defining issues of our times and it is closely linked to questions and dilemmas surrounding economic development Southeast Asia is one of the world's most economically and demographically dynamic regions and it is also one in which a host of environmental issues raise themselves The Routledge Handbook of the Environment in Southeast Asia is a collection of 30 chapters dealing with the most significant scholarly debates in this rapidly growing field of study Structured in four main parts it gives a comprehensive regional overview of and insight into the environment in Southeast Asia Wide ranging and balanced this handbook promotes scholarly understanding of how environmental issues are dealt with from diverse theoretical perspectives It offers a detailed empirical understanding of the myriad environmental problems and challenges faced in Southeast Asia This is the first publication of its kind in this field a helpful companion for a global audience and for scholars of Southeast Asian studies from a variety of disciplines

growing body of evidence shows that agricultural landscapes can be managed not only to produce crops but also to support biodiversity and promote ecosystem health Innovative farmers and scientists as well as indigenous land managers are developing diverse types of ecoagriculture landscapes to generate cobenefits for production biodiversity and local people Farming with Nature offers a synthesis of the state of knowledge of key topics in ecoagriculture The book is a unique collaboration among renowned agricultural and ecological scientists leading field conservationists and farm and community leaders to synthesize knowledge and experience across sectors The book examines the knowledge base for ecoagriculture as well as barriers gaps and opportunities for developing improved ecoagriculture systems what we have learned about managing landscapes to achieve multiple objectives at a landscape scale existing incentives for farmers other land managers and investors to develop and invest in ecoagriculture systems pathways to develop implement manage and scale up successful ecoagriculture Insights are drawn from around the world in tropical Mediterranean and temperate environments from farming systems that range from highly commercialized to semi subsistence Farming with Nature is an important new work that can serve as a foundation document for planners farm organizations researchers project developers and policy makers to develop strategies for promoting and sustaining ecoagriculture landscapes Replete with valuable best practice guidelines it is a critical resource for both practitioners and researchers in the field Water Rights and Social Justice in the Mekong Region Kate Lazarus, Bernadette P. Resurreccion, Nga Dao, Nathan Badenoch, 2012-06-25 The Mekong Region has come to represent many of the important water governance challenges faced more broadly by the mainland Southeast Asian region This book focuses on the complex nature of water rights and social justice in the Mekong region The chapters delve into the diverse social political and cultural dynamics that shape the various realities and scales of water governance in the region in an effort to bring to the forefront some of the local nuances required in the formulation of a larger vision of justice in water governance It is hoped that this contextualized analysis will deepen our understanding of the potential of and constraints on water rights in the region particularly in relation to the need to realize social justice The authors show how vitally important it is that water governance is democratized to allow a more equitable sharing of water resources and counteract the pressures of economic growth that may pose risks to social welfare and environmental sustainability A Place-Based Perspective of Food in Society Kevin M. Fitzpatrick, Don Willis, 2015-08-18 This book provides an outstanding collection of interdisciplinary and international essays examining the food place relationship It explores such topics as the history of food and agriculture the globalization and localization of food and the role of place in defining the broader societal consequences of this ever changing phenomena Shifting Cultivation and Secondary Succession in the Tropics Albert O. Aweto, 2013-01-01 Shifting cultivation is the predominant system of arable farming in the humid and sub humid tropics where several hundred million people depend on this system of agriculture for their livelihood This book documents and systematizes findings in shifting cultivation from over the last six decades including characterizing secondary succession and relating the changes that fallow vegetation undergoes to the process of soil fertility restoration This book is essential reading for researchers and students of tropical agriculture and related areas Indigenous Fruit Trees in the Tropics Festus K. Akinnifesi, 2008 This book comprises 5 parts and 21 chapters discussing the domestication of indigenous fruit trees in Africa Oceania Latin America and Asia and describes the biophysical and socio economic aspects of Miombo fruit trees
