Structural Adjustment Agrarian Change And Rural Ethnicity In Nigeria Research Report:

Structural Adjustment, Agrarian Change, and Rural Ethnicity in Nigeria Samuel G. Egwu, 1998 1 SAP and the problematic of rural ethnicity Gender and Agricultural Supply Responses to Structural Adjustment Programmes Grace

Ongile, 1999 This study investigates the gender implications of agricultural sector reform in Kenya The author focuses on smallholder tea production with the aim of pinpointing the factors that influence the adoption of tea among male and female farmers assessing female farmers perceptions of the changes in living standards over the research period and suggesting appropriate policy reforms to ensure that women s interests are taken into account in the design of agricultural reforms

Land Reform Under Structural Adjustment in Zimbabwe Sam Moyo, 2000 This study represents a first systematic effort to document Zimbabwe s new land uses during the years of economic crisis the role of the state in promoting them the differentiation associated with them not only between black and white farmers but also among them and the implications of all these for the political economy of the Zimbabwean land question The fact that some of the new land uses avoid redistribution of clearly under utilised large scale commercial farms suggests that the Zimbabwean land question will remain a live political issue for a long time The Changing Forms of Identity Politics in Nigeria Under Economic Adjustment Cyril I. Obi, 2001 The Niger delta region of Nigeria which is at the heart of the country s oil industry has a long history of struggles for self determination dating back to the early years of the 20th century In the 1980s and 1990s these struggles unfolding as they did within the context of military authoritarianism and structural adjustment took the form of widespread agitation for greater control by local communities of the revenues accruing to the Nigerian state from exploration and extraction of oil This study attempts to capture the transformations in ethnic minority identity politics in the oil producing areas of the Niger delta In doing this attention is simultaneously drawn to the factors informing the shift from peaceful agitation to violent protest as well as the dynamic of decay and renewal in the various ethnic minority movements that are active in the delta It is suggested that part of the solution to the crisis in the delta will involve not only a thorough going restructuring of the Nigerian state but also the re orientation of the mode of operation of the giant oil multinationals in order to make them both more sensitive and accountable to the local communities BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Restructuring Or De-industrializing? L. M.

Sachikonye, 1999 Based on interviews with 240 workers from 12 firms in the textile and metalworking industries conducted between November 1995 and March 1996 group interview discussions with representatives of workers committees and management discusses the effect of structural adjustment on two sub sectors of manufacturing on labour relations and on coping strategies of workers Private Sector Response to Agricultural Marketing Liberalization in Zambia Dennis

Chiwele, Pumulo Muyatwa-Sipula, Henrietta K. C. Kalinda, Henrietta Kalinda, 1998 This report examines the efficacy of the agricultural sector reforms that have been implemented in Zambia since 1991 92 when the MMD government of Fred

Chiluba was elected to office On the basis of empirical material gathered in the field the report demonstrates the limitations of the reform and identifies a number of constraints that have hampered the private sector and made the agricultural marketing system remain relatively underdeveloped Cross-border Trade and the Parallel Currency Market Yahaya Hashim, Kate Meagher, 1999 The authors of this study challenge the assumptions of the World Bank that the expansion in informal cross border trade is a vindication of the market liberalizing thrust of structural adjustment and that adjustment policies have improved the effectiveness of an independent bourgeoisie that is emerging out of this trade as an agent of regional integration Instead they make the case for the adoption of what they call a development approach for tapping the benefits of the informal currency markets as an alternative to the market coercion of structural adjustment

Re-distribution from Above Karuti Kanyinga, 2000 Using empirical evidence from the coastal district of Kenya an area with a long history of private land ownership this report challenges the key assumptions of the proponents of land individualization The author points to the many dysfunctionalities associated with land privatization and reinforces the growing critique that customary land tenure is far more complex and flexible than its critics are prepared to concede

Land, Labour and the Family in Southern Ghana Kojo Amanor, 2001 This report is based on field work carried out in the Akyem Abuakwa area of the forest region of Ghana a section of the country rich in agricultural land gold and diamonds Through the field work which was undertaken and the empirical material generated the author attempts to chart the processes and patterns of differentiation connected to land and land use in contemporary Ghana Women Informal Traders in Harare and the Struggle for Survival in an Environment of Economic Reforms Rodreck Mupedziswa, Perpetua Gumbo, 2001 This report summarizes the results of the fourth and final round of interviews carried out among informal sector women traders in Harare Zimbabwe as part of a longitudinal study of their conditions of work and livelihood in the context of economic crisis and structural adjustment
