Struggle And Storm The Life And Death Of Francis Adams:

Struggle and Storm Meg Tasker, 2016-06-21 Francis William Lauderdale Adams 1862 1893 poet novelist social analyst and journalist made a significant place for himself in Australian literary and cultural history Born in England he was a self consciously modern writer of the fin de siècle the theme of suicide figured frequently in his writings and in death he embodied the romantic myth of the consumptive artist Adams arrived in Australia in 1884 full of democratic and literary aspirations and set out to explore the cultural landscape of his adopted country A charismatic figure he was loved by many for his personal beauty and eloquence and for the insouciant charm which smoothed over the sharp edges of his political radicalism and intellectual arrogance But his impact on Australian cultural history was larger than the merely personal He influenced a whole generation of idealistic young socialists in Australia and had a leading role in the development of the Australian labour movement Much of his best work was concerned with Australian social and political developments in the years leading up to Federation and his book The Australians 1893 is a much quoted classic of Australian social commentary He was an early and influential spokesman for the Australian nationalism of the 1890s articulating ideas of democracy and independence from England In Struggle and Storm Meg Tasker explores with texture and nuance both the pleasures of biography and the interesting problem of how to write a literary life a hundred years later This engaging work is the first full length biographical study of Francis Adams

Victorian Narratives of Failed Emigration Tamara S Wagner, 2016-05-26 In her study of the unsuccessful nineteenth century emigrant Tamara S Wagner argues that failed emigration and return drive nineteenth century writing in English in unexpected culturally revealing ways Wagner highlights the hitherto unexplored subgenre of anti emigration writing that emerged as an important counter current to a pervasive emigration propaganda machine that was pressing popular fiction into its service The exportation of characters at the end of a novel indisputably formed a convenient narrative solution that at once mirrored and exaggerated public policies about so called superfluous or redundant parts of society Yet the very convenience of such pat endings was increasingly called into question New starts overseas might not be so easily realizable emigration destinations failed to live up to the inflated promises of pro emigration rhetoric the unwanted might make a surprising reappearance Wagner juxtaposes representations of emigration in the works of Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins Frances Trollope and Charlotte Yonge with Australian New Zealand and Canadian settler fiction by Elizabeth Murray Clara Cheeseman and Susanna Moodie offering a new literary history not just of nineteenth century migration but also of transoceanic exchanges and genre formation

William and Lucy Angela Thirlwell,2003-01-01 The marriage of William Michael Rossetti 1829 1919 and Lucy Madox Brown 1843 1894 united two of the most resonant Pre Raphaelite family names Their passionate and ultimately tragic relationship described here for the first time provides a fresh perspective on nineteenth century marriage and on the private lives of eminent Victorians Sibling of Dante Gabriel and Christina Rossetti William was one of the original Pre Raphaelite Brothers a Bohemian radical author poet critic artist connoisseur biographer historian and taxman Lucy the intense intellectual daughter of Ford Madox Brown was an ambitious artist and biographer of Mary Shelley in spite of struggling with tuberculosis for nearly a decade Drawing on hundreds of previously unpublished sources and a wealth of new visual material including art by William Lucy and others of their circle and striking contemporary photographs the book follows William and Lucy through their separate professional careers marriage continental travels and Lucy s illness and death At the crossover between art history literary criticism social history and biography the book rewrites Pre Raphaelite history and brings to life two fascinating people who were both of their time and ahead of it Red Coats and Wild Birds Kirsten A. Greer,2019-11-21 During the nineteenth century Britain maintained a complex network of garrisons to manage its global empire While these bases helped the British project power and secure trade routes they served more than just a strategic purpose During their tours abroad many British officers engaged in formal and informal scientific research In this ambitious history of ornithology and empire Kirsten A Greer tracks British officers as they moved around the world just as migratory birds traversed borders from season to season Greer examines the lives writings and collections of a number of ornithologist officers arguing that the transnational encounters between military men and birds simultaneously shaped military strategy ideas about race and masculinity and conceptions of the British Empire Collecting specimens and tracking migratory bird patterns enabled these men to map the British Empire and the world and therefore to exert imagined control over it Through its examination of the influence of bird watching on military science and soldiers contributions to ornithology Red Coats and Wild Birds remaps empire nature and scientific inquiry in the nineteenth century world Australian Book Review ,2001 Tradition and the Poetics of Self in Nineteenth-Century Women's Poetry ,2021-11-01 Tradition and how far writers fit into or diverge from the demands of tradition is one of the most debated issues in literary discussion Gender however is not often part of discussions which depend on such questions at the decisiveness of the Modernist break with the Victorian period or whether Postmodernism makes tradition meaningless By contrast the very existence of a specifically female tradition is still an urgent subject of debate and it is clear that many nineteenth century women writers were troubled in their search for literary foremothers This autobiographical impetus can be located in the work of each of the poets discussed in Tradition and the Poetics of Self Nineteenth Century Women s Poetry Elizabeth Barrett Browning Caroline Bowles Southey Emily Dickinson and Christina Rossetti An exploration of the self either in the abstract or in a more closely personal sense appears in a concern with the craft of poetry and the role of the poet in a teasing out of language as a marker of a personal encounter with the world in an adventurous play with genre and a rewriting of myth and in a bold confrontation with received notions of a woman s place Adventurousness marks the work of each of these poets and is a central focus of these essays English Literature in Transition, 1880-1920 ,2004 Victorian Periodicals Review ,2003
