Strutting and Fretting Jann Benson, Dan Lyons, 1991 Strutting and Fretting Jann Benson, Dan Lyons, 1991

Dignity, Character and Self-Respect Robin S. Dillon, 2013-01-11 This is the first anthology to bring together a selection of the most important contemporary philosophical essays on the nature and moral significance of self respect. Representing a diversity of views, the essays illustrate the complexity of self respect and explore its connections to such topics as personhood, dignity, rights, character, autonomy, integrity, identity, shame, justice, oppression, and empowerment. The book demonstrates that self respect is a formidable concern which goes to the very heart of both moral theory and moral life. Contributors: Bernard Boxill, Stephen L. Darwall, John Deigh, Robin S. Dillon, Thomas E. Hill Jr., Aurel Kolnai, Stephen J. Massey, Diana T. Meyers, Michelle M. Moody-Adams, John Rawls, Gabriele Taylor, Elizabeth Telfer, Laurence L. Thomas. Self and Memory: A Multidisciplinary Debate Rossella Guerini, Massimo Marraffa, Cristina Meini, Alfredo Paternoster, 2019-03-01

Schieffelin, 2014-01-13 Documenting how in the course of acquiring language children become speakers and members of communities. The Handbook of Language Socialization is a unique reference work for an emerging and fast moving field. Spans the fields of anthropology, education, applied linguistics, and human development. Includes the latest developments in second and heritage language socialization and literary and media socialization. Discusses socialization across the entire life span and across institutional settings including families, schools, work places, and churches. Explores data from a multitude of cultures from around the world.

Moral Psychology Margaret Urban Walker, Peggy DesAutels, 2004-07-29 Moral psychology studies the features of cognition, judgement, perception, and emotion that make human beings capable of moral action. Perspectives from feminist and race theory immensely enrich moral psychology. Writers who take these perspectives ask questions about mind, feeling, and action in contexts of social difference and unequal power and opportunity. These essays by a distinguished international cast of philosophers explore moral psychology as it connects to social life, scientific studies, and literature. Moral Beliefs and Moral Theory M.G. Forrester, 2013-03-09 Some time ago I wrote a book Moral Language 1982 in which I argued that moral judgments are capable of being true, truth apt to use a current phrase, or descriptive and having truth value to use a more traditional term. That the methods of discovering moral facts are fundamentally similar to those of discovering non moral facts and that moral judgments may be true. What I did not do at that time was to develop a moral theory which would demonstrate how the method of discovering moral truths would work and what the criteria of truth actually are. In a later work Persons, Animals, and Fetuses 1996 I did propose a moral theory as to what the criteria for moral truth are, however I presented it primarily as an introduction to the discussion of several practical ethical issues and did not argue fully for that theory. It is high time that I did so because without showing that such a theory can be developed, my defense of moral realism is incomplete. It is all very well to say that we can discover what moral beliefs are true but unless we can demonstrate just which beliefs are true the thesis that we can discover this truth cannot be fully defended For this reason the biggest although not the only challenge to showing that ethical objectivity is possible is the presence of moral disagreement and the contention of many that such disagreement cannot be definitively resolved

Proceedings and Addresses of the American Philosophical Association American Philosophical Association,1992 List of members in v 1 Everyday

Morality Mike W. Martin,1995 Moral character is explored in all its dimensions virtues vices attitudes emotions commitments and personal relationships in addition to right and wrong conduct The aim is to stimulate personal reflection and group dialogue rather than to offer solutions It seeks to sharpen ideas which we use as tools in coping responsibly with our daily lives International Journal of Moral and Social Studies ,1993
