Students in the field, as well as experienced practitioners and administrators, will herein find an up-to-date and in-depth study of the major student affairs functions of a comprehensive campus program. Those functional areas discussed include: academic advising, admission and enrollment management, career planning and placement, counseling, discipline, financial aid, health services, orientation, residence halls, and student activities. Within these areas the following topics are covered: historical development, purposes and goals, administrative structures, programs and services, student needs, current issues, and future trends. Also of special interest to student affairs professionals is a chapter which presents a profile of the possible career paths or career ladders in this field.
