Sommers, Donald McQuade, Michael Tratner, 1989-01-01 Student Writers at Work and in the Company of Others Miriam Baker, Donald A. McQuade, Michael Turner, 1989-03 The Writing Instructor, 1985 Aristotle's Voice Jasper Neel, 2013-11-14 In this book Jasper Neel is sure to be controversial resituating of Aristotle centers around three questions that have been constants in his twenty two years of teaching experience What does it mean to teach writing What should one know before teaching writing And if there is such a thing as research in the teaching of writing what is it Believing that all composition teachers are situated politically and socially both as part of the institution in which they teach and as beings with lived histories Neel examines his own life and the life of composition studies as a discipline in the context of Aristotle Neel first situates the Rhetoric as a political document he then situates the Rhetoric in the Aristotelian system and describes how professional discourse came to know itself through Aristotle's way of studying the world finally he examines the operation of the Rhetoric inside itself before arguing the need to turn to Aristotle's notion of sophistry as a way of negating his system By pointing out the connections among Aristotelian rhetoric the contemporary university and the contemporary writing teacher Neel shows that Aristotle's frightening social theories are as alive today as are Aristotelian notions of discourse Neel explains that by their very nature teachers must speak with a professional voice It is through showing how to hear one's professional voice that Neel explores the notion of professional discourse that originates with Aristotle In maintaining that one must pay a high price in order to speak through Aristotle's theory or to assume the role of professional he argues that no neutral ground exists either for pedagogy or for the analysis of pedagogy Neel concludes this discussion by proposing that Aristotelian sophistry is both an antidote to Aristotelian racism sexism and bigotry and a way of allowing Aristotelian categories of discourse to remain useful Finally as an Aristotelian a teacher and a writer Neel responds both to Aristotle and to professionalism by rethinking the influence of the past and reviving the voice of Aristotelian sophistry

Voices of Experience Mary-Ann Winkelmes, James D. Wilkinson, 2001 The authors of Voices of Experience are members of a rapidly growing population of academics who focus their efforts as seriously on teaching as they do on scholarship Their essays grew out of a seminar at the Derek Bok Center for Teaching and Learning which was devoted to topics that teachers early in their academic careers wanted to explore with their colleagues effective teaching techniques students and teachers motivation discussion in the classroom collaborative learning lecturing diversity grading and feedback and balancing teaching and professional concerns Voices of Experience offers the reader an opportunity to share the results of this interdisciplinary exchange Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, ...
