"Heat Waves," aren't real.
Don't believe all the gauge.
How can the heat wave
when there was an "Iced" age?

Don't believe all the hype.

I mean if the world was all melting,

Renaming the Earth Ray Gonzalez, 2008 In his distinctive and spirited way Ray Gonzalez the well known essayist poet fiction writer and anthologist reflects on the American Southwest where he was raised and to which he still feels attached even though he has lived much of his life elsewhere It is a place that tugs at him from its arid desert landscapes to its polyglot cities part Mexican part Anglo part something in between always in the process of redefining themselves Nowhere does the process of redefinition hit Gonzalez quite as hard as in his native city of El Paso Texas There he finds the segregated little town of my childhood transformed into a metropolis of fast Latino zip codes a world where the cell phone the quick beer the rented apartment and the low paying job say you can be young and happy on the border Readers will wonder along with the author whether life along the new border is worth the extermination of the old boundaries But there is another side of the Southwest for this son of the desert the world of dusty canyons ponderosa pines ocotillo and mesquite Here he writes there is a shadow and it is called ancient home structures erased from their seed to grow elsewhere vultured strings searching for a frame that stands atop history and renames the ground Rooted in the desert sand and in the banks of the Rio Grande the muddy river that forms the border between nations these essays are by turns lyrical mournful warm to the ways of the land and lukewarm to the ways of man
