in Early Mathematics Teaching and Learning Virginia Kinnear,Mun Yee Lai,Tracey Muir,2017-12-12 This edited book promotes thinking dialogue research and theorisation on multiple ways of making connections in mathematics teaching and learning in early childhood education The book addresses some key challenges in research policy and practice in early childhood mathematics education It examines diverse ways for learning experiences to connect young children to mathematics and the importance of forging connections between mathematics and young children s lives as key elements in their engagement with mathematics Each chapter provides research or theoretical provocations and pedagogical implications for connecting children's lived experiences and ways of learning in mathematics teaching. The chapters are drawn from a range of international authors who raise important ideas within the overall context of current research and consider the theoretical and practical implications of their research. As such, the book advances current thinking on mathematics teaching and learning for children in the early years from birth to eight years with an emphasis on children aged birth to 5 years. It considers the purpose and value in connecting mathematics teaching and learning to children's lives and provides provocations for both educators and researchers on the many under-researched and under-represented aspects of early years mathematics teaching and learning.

The Courage to Imagine Roni Natov, 2017-11-30. The act of imagining lies at the very heart of children's engagements with literature and with the plots and characters they encounter in their favorite stories. The Courage to Imagine is a landmark new study of that fundamental act of imagining. Roni Natov focuses on the ways in which children's imaginative engagement with the child hero figure can open them up to other people's experiences, developing empathy across lines of race, gender, and sexuality, as well as helping them to confront and handle traumatic experience safely. Drawing on a wide range of theoretical approaches from the psychological to the cultural and reading a multicultural spectrum of authors including works by Maya Angelou, Louise Erdrich, Neil Gaiman, and Brian Selznick, this is a groundbreaking examination of the nature of imagining for children and re-imagining for the adult writer and illustrator.
