The Soviet Army's High Commands in War and Peace, 1941-1992 Richard W. Harrison, 2022-07-28 The first full treatment of the unique phenomenon of High Commands in the Soviet Army during World War II and the Cold War The war on the Eastern Front during 1941-45 was an immense struggle running from the Barents Sea to the Caucasus Mountains The vast distances involved forced the Soviet political military leadership to resort to new organizational expedients in order to control operations along the extended front These were the high commands of the directions which were responsible for two or more fronts army groups and along maritime axes one or more fleets In all five high commands were created along the northwestern western southwestern and North Caucasus strategic directions during 1941-42 However the highly unfavorable strategic situation during the first year of the war as well as interference in day to day operations by Stalin severely limited the high commands effectiveness As a consequence the high commands were abolished in mid 1942 and replaced by the more flexible system of supreme command representatives at the front A High Command of Soviet Forces in the Far East was established in 1945 and oversaw the Red Army's highly effective campaign against Japanese forces in Manchuria The Far Eastern High Command was briefly resurrected in 1947 as a response to the tense situation along the Korean peninsula and the ongoing civil war in China but was abolished in 1953 soon after Stalin's death Growing tensions with China brought about the recreation of the Far Eastern High Command in 1979 followed a few years later by the appearance of new high commands in Europe and South Asia However these new high commands did not long survive the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991 and were abolished a year later The book relies almost exclusively on Soviet and post communist archival and other sources and is the first unclassified treatment of this subject in any country East or West

Military Objectives in Soviet Foreign Policy Michael McGwire, 2010-12-01 This study concentrates on the military roots of Soviet policy It concentrates on how planning for the contingency of a world war shapes and distorts Soviet policy while producing a military posture and structure of forces that appear to the West as being far in excess of any legitimate defense needs The focus is on the military technical aspects of doctrine which is the responsibility of the military to implement The study does not dwell on the decisions that the Soviet political leaders would face in the course of a war except to note how the hierarchy of objectives would influence those decisions Soviet Military Operational Art Colonel David M.
