Krotz, 2009 We all want to make a difference and Town Country shows that philanthropy is not just for the wealthy This inspirational book explains how to donate money and time for optimum impact no matter what your level of income It features the personal stories of a range of contributors from celebrities like Gary Sinise who cofounded an organization to donate school supplies to Iraqi children and Osceola McCarty a laundress who at 85 donated 150 000 the bulk of her life savings to a scholarship fund for black students at the University of Mississippi If you have an impulse to donate your time or money these inspiring stories along with concrete advice about how to select the right cause for you will help make your generosity really count

History and Philosophy of Taxation Marshall-Wythe School of Law. Tax Conference, Intelligent Giving Jonathan Paul Caulkins, 2002 Provides an intellectual framework for guiding prospective major donors in giving more effectively to higher education Although most major gifts are profoundly motivated by charitable intentions the noble impulse to give to higher education can quickly generate complicated choices Which school Which program Under what terms or conditions Even very talented people who have enjoyed exceptionally successful careers in business and other fields can become disoriented by academe s idiosyncrasies This book provides an intellectual framework for guiding prospective major donors in giving more effectively to higher education It supplies some insight into the higher education sector donor opportunities the development process and how to think about and get the most from a negotiation with the institution of the donor s choice The insights and strategies are culled by a RAND research team mainly from interviews with development officers institutional leaders and donors themselves Ultimately the giving process that works best for any donor will depend on his or her individual interests and needs The best advice is to be clear on what effect the donor wants his or her gift to have
