Smoke Screen Antiquarian Mysteries:

Smoke Screen Marianne Macdonald,1999 Dido Hoare thirtysomething antiquarian bookseller thinks she is on to a good deal when she is asked by the ex lover of a famous poet to take care of the sale of her collection But then things start to go wrong the house burns down Dido is accused of theft and a murder occurs      Mystery Women, Volume Three (Revised) Colleen Barnett,2010-12-31 Like other fictional characters female sleuths may live in the past or the future They may represent current times with some level of reality or shape their settings to suit an agenda There are audiences for both realism and escapism in the mystery novel It is interesting however to compare the fictional world of the mystery sleuth with the world in which readers live Of course mystery readers do not share one simplistic world They live in urban suburban and rural areas as do the female heroines in the books they read They may choose a book because it has a familiar background or because it takes them to places they long to visit Readers may be rich or poor young or old conservative or liberal So are the heroines What incredible choices there are today in mystery series This three volume encyclopedia of women characters in the mystery novel is like a gigantic menu Like a menu the descriptions of the items that are provided are subjective Volume 3 of Mystery Women as currently updated adds an additional 42 sleuths to the 500 plus who were covered in the initial Volume 3 These are more recently discovered sleuths who were introduced during the period from January 1 1990 to December 31 1999 This more than doubles the number of sleuths introduced in the 1980s 298 of whom were covered in Volume 2 and easily exceeded the 347 series and some outstanding individuals described in Volume 1 which covered a 130 year period from 1860 1979 It also includes updates on those individuals covered in the first edition changes in status short reviews of books published since the first edition through December 31 2008      Antiquarian Bookman ,1963      Fantasies of the Bookstore Eben J. Muse,2022-07-28 This Element surveys the place of the bookstore in the creative imagination the fantasies of the bookstore through a study of novels in which bookstores play a prominent role in the setting or plot Nearly 500 bookstore novels published since the first in 1917 have been identified The study borrows the concept of meaningful locations from the field of human geography to assess fictional bookstores as narrative events rather than static backgrounds As a meaningful location the bookstore creates the potential for events that can occur both within the place of the store and in the wider space within which it functions Elements of the narrative space include its spatio temporal location its locale or composition and the events which these elements generate to define the bookstore s sense of place      Mystery Cats Lilian Jackson Braun,Ruth Rendell,1991 Collection of sixteen short stories featuring cats and crimes      Mystery Cats Cengage Gale,1994 This murderously entertaining collection assembles sixteen purrfect tales of crime and cats by some of today s best mystery writers      What Do I Read Next? 00 V2 Gale Group,2000-11      Canadian Fiction Sharron Smith,Maureen O'Connor,2005-10-30 Discover some of the great Canadian authors and titles you ve been missing This guide describes and organizes according to reading interests more than 500 of the best contemporary Canadian fiction titles available today

Barbarism and Religion: Volume 6, Barbarism: Triumph in the West J. G. A. Pocock, 2015-05-12 This sixth and final volume in John Pocock's acclaimed sequence of works on Barbarism and Religion examines Volumes II and III of Edward Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire carrying Gibbon's narrative to the end of empire in the west. It makes two general assertions first that this is in reality a mosaic of narratives written on diverse premises and never fully synthesized with one another and second that these chapters assert a progress of both barbarism and religion from east to west leaving much history behind as they do so. The magnitude of Barbarism and Religion is already apparent. Barbarism Triumph in the West represents the culmination of a remarkable attempt to discover and present what Gibbon was saying what he meant by it and why he said it in the ways that he did as well as an unparalleled contribution to the historiography of Enlightened Europe.

Barbarism and Religion John Greville Agard Pocock, 2015 Sixth and final volume in an acclaimed series situating Edward Gibbon in a series of contexts in eighteenth century European history.

This Strange, Old World and Other Book Reviews by Katherine Anne Porter Katherine Anne Porter, 2008-12-01 Between 1920 and 1958 Katherine Anne Porter published more than sixty five book reviews many of which are now largely inaccessible. Although several such pieces have appeared in earlier collections of Porter's nonfiction writings never have so many of Porter's reviews nearly fifty been made available in a single volume. Collectively the reviews reveal Porter's opinions on topics ranging from the nature of art and the place of the artist in politics and society to feminism and the role of female artists. Particularly evident in the reviews are the critical principles that guided her own work as well as her judgments of the works of other writers. In her introductory essay Darlene Harbour Unrue provides important biographical information on Porter traces her career as a reviewer and links critical assumptions in the reviews to the themes and techniques of Porter's fiction. Other scholars as well have regarded Porter's critical reviews

as valuable tools both for analyzing the fiction and for constructing a portrait of Porter the artist primarily because Porter produced so little fiction three collections of short stories and novellas Flowering Judas The Leaning Tower and Pale Horse Pale Rider and a novel Ship of Fools In the preface to the first collection of her nonfiction writings The Days Before Porter herself urged readers to look closely at her nonfiction for there they would discover the shape direction and connective tissue of a continuous central interest and preoccupation of a lifetime Most of the reviews which appeared in such publications as the New York Herald Tribune the New York Times the Nation and New Masses she apparently undertook for financial reasons but occasionally she would agree to review a friend s latest offering She published no reviews after the success of her best selling novel Ship of Fools Porter s scope as a reviewer was impressively broad Because she lived in Mexico City during the revolution had known Diego Rivera and had studied primitive Mexican art she was often called on to review books on Mexican art and on the revolution Porter also reviewed many books by or about women Her reviews of the Short Novels of Colette and Katharine Anthony s translation of Catherine the Great s memoirs are particularly noteworthy for her comments about women artists and her expression of admiration for women who flout traditional roles These collected reviews illustrate the evolution of one of the most important American writers of the twentieth century and will interest not only Porter scholars but also anyone who appreciates her fiction Walter Scott Jane Millgate,1987-01-01 Between 1814 and 1819 Walter Scott published a remarkable sequence of eight historical and regional novels beginning with Waverley and culminating in The Bride of Lammermoor and A Legend of Montrose In the process he made the Author of Waverley into the most successful and famous novelist in the world by chooseing to remain anonymous however Scott deliberately separated this new achievemtn from the fame he had already gained as editor and poet This study of the first and major phase of Scott s career as a novelist reconsiders his act of secession from his own literary past and examines the interconnections between Scott the antiquarian and editor Scott the romantic poet and Scott the novelist The Publishers Weekly ,2000
